The anniversary of the battle of Sedan, September 2, will not this year be celebrated in an official way by the German government. This is a concession to French sensibility.

Gambling at the London clubs runs as high now as it did in the days of the Regent, when estates were risked on the turn of the dice at Brooks'. At the new club, where ready money only can be staked under the club regulations, an officer lost $55 000 one night in May, another $20,000, and a 'well known Viscount, won $50,000 at a sitting.

There are two plantation proprietors in Louisiana whose landed possessions rival those of the proudest estates of the English nobility, and many German princes have fewer subjects than they have employee on their pay rolls. Col. Edward Richardson owns 5,000 acres of cotton plantations, widely scattered, but all managed under his supervision. The other proprietor is John Burnside, who has eight extensive sugar plantations and 3,287 acres of caue in the ground. His last crop produced 6,084,000 pcunds of sugar and 7 290 barrels of molasses, from which $565,000 must have been realized.

THE BOOMINGEST BOOM. "It is the boomingest boom that was ever boomed!' This is what a venerable friend remarked to us this morning, in speaking of the Democratic, presidential ticket. It is a fact. It is about six weeks since Hancock and English were minated at Cincinnati and in the nature of things it would seem that it is time for some reaction to set in. It has not come

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug 3d, 1880. One enthusiastic Hancock man yes terday suggested to General Walker, of the National and Congressional Committees, that the circulation of all other docum ats be stopped, and that hereafter only the orders and letters cratic platform, be sent out. The letters and other productions of the General are so admirable in every respect, and those now being brought to light erally. from earlier years show so close a study, and so clear an understanding of the principles of our government, that there is a degree of sense in the suggestion General Hancock has left to the party the discu sion and settlement of those questions which pertain to the every day proceedings of government, by omitting special ref erence to them in his letter of acceptance. He wishes the contest to be made on vital questions like that of the superiority of the civil over the military authority, opposition to the centralization of power in the few men at Washington, and kindred quest ons

The Democratic majority in Alabama is trying to keep pace with the Hancock boom. On Tuesday it was reported at 50,000, and yesterday the figures were 60,-000. It is a happy augery at the opening of the campaign.

Dr. Tanner entered at noon to day upon the last day but one of his fast. His condition was not considered yesterday as unfavorable by the physicians who are in attendance and there is now a very reasonable expectation that he will hold out until the end.

Garfield is dead-heading it in New York. He was met at Buffalo, Rome, Albany and other places by a noble army of effice-holders and place seekers. His face is turned towards New York where there is to be a meeting next week of politicians and money-lenders with the avowed object of sceing what money can do to start the hitherto inert Garfield boom,

Our Washington correspondent tells us that an enthusiastic Bancock man has suggested that the circulation of campaign literature be confined to General
