Only one interment in Bellevue cemetery this week, that of a sailor who was drowned.

Major John W. Dunham, Clerk of the Criminal Court, has bled him to the mountains.

Four interments in Pine Forest cemetery (colored) this week, two adults and two children.

You can buy No. 1 Cooking and Heating Stoves at almost any price at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

The weight of the heart is from eight to twelve ounces. It beats 100,000 times in twenty-four hours.

There were two interments in Oakdale this week, one infant only two days old and one adult 81 years of age.

Never despise a man because his clothing is poor. Even Adam, according to the best authorities, never owned either a duiter or an overcoat.

A starving tramp will scarcely excite sympathy at the kitchen door now unless he says he has been without food for forty days, and then he will run the risk of being denounced as a fraud.

Mr. H. T. Brown, living in Shady Grove, Franklin Co., Va. says:—Having thoroughly tested Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup in my family, I cheerfully certify to its uniformly good effect, and recommend it as a most excellent remedy.

Masonic Rites.
 The members of the Masonic fraternity in this city will form in procession, to-morrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock, at Masonic Hall, on Market street, and march from thence to the Masonic Lot in Oakdale Cemetery where the Masonic rites of burial will be held over the grave of the late P. W. Fanning.

Bishop Atkinson's Health.
 Capt. Manning has received a letter from Col. A. Atkinson, who is now at the White Sulphur Springs in Virginia with his venerable father, Bishop Atkinson, in which he states that the Bishop's health continues to improve, and he thinks his condition so favorable that he will leave him on next Monday and start for home.

Quite Sick.
 We are sorry to hear that Mr. George Myers is very sick in bed at his residence in this city. He has a very bad attack of jaundice and at last accounts was threatened with pneumonia. To-day, it was said, he was not so well as he was yesterday. We trust, however, that this genial weather will help to put him on his feet again in a few days.

Everybody can get suited with Pocket Knife, also Table Cutlery, at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot.

Badly Cut.
 Mr. G. J. Boney's well-known white horse was badly cut last night while in his stall at the stables in rear of Mr. Alex. Oldham's mills. The cut extends across the shoulders of the animal and is nearly done as though the instrument were a razor. At first it was thought that some malicious person had effected the injury but a closer examination has satisfied Mr. Boney that it must have been the result of accident in the stall and that it was done by the edge of the tin sheathing on the feed box. The animal is now at Capt. Southerland's stables undergoing repairs.

The American Union Suit.
 In the Supreme Court at Raleigh, on Thursday, the following was heard on a suit of certiorari:
 American Union Telegraph Company vs. the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad Company, and the same plaintiff against the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Company; both cases from New Hanover county. The cases of the plaintiffs were argued by D. L. Russell (by brief) and Duncan K. McRae for the defendants, and Junius Davis and Battle & Mordecai for the defendants.

Mr. Nath'l Jacobi having been appointed agent for the Atlas Plow, parties in want of this celebrated Plow can now have their orders filled at JACOBI'S Hardware Depot, No. 10 S. Front st.

City Court.
 Delaware Moore, the colored individual who was arrested yesterday for disorderly conduct and subsequently created such an excitement by his escape, was brought into Court this morning in a semi nude state, showing evidently that he had undergone a rough and tumble somewhere. The charges preferred against the prisoner were first for disorderly conduct and second for resisting the police and attempting to escape. The testimony proved that defendant struck Officer Bryant twice and then, by leaving a piece of his shirt in the officer's hand, tore away from the policeman's grasp and ran until Officer Gafford came up with the escaped prisoner, and after a tussle, brought him on the ground, not, however, until he had stricken the last named officer with his fist. Sergeant Davis coming up right then the obstreperous man was soon overpowered and conveyed back to the Guard House.

The foregoing was the testimony in the case and upon that testimony His Honor sentenced the defendant to pay a fine of $50 or be incarcerated in the City Prison for thirty days. The prisoner was carried below and locked up.

The next name called was Isabella Robinson, when the mayor announced that judgment had been suspended in that case.

One drunk and down was entered in order to allow defendant an opportunity to get sober for the trial.

Joseph Martin, a colored lad apparently about 15 years of age, was arraigned for disorderly conduct. After listening to the evidence, the Mayor administered a reprimand to defendant, telling him he would suspend judgment in this instance and release him, but if he was ever brought up again before the City Court, he would receive double punishment. This being the last case on the docket, the Court adjourned.

The delegates to the Druggists' Convention, held in Raleigh, have returned to the city. They talk in glowing terms of the kindness and hospitality of their friends in Raleigh.

The Charlotte Observer says: Tuesday evening the 'Wilmington boys' at Asheville gave a german at the Eagle Hotel in that place, complimentary to the young lady visitors from Georgia.

Messrs. Newbury & Chasten will remove in October to the store on the opposite side of the street, next North of Messrs. Patterson & Hicks, which they are having entirely refitted for their business.

We understand that Messrs. G. Wash Lamb and Edgar Parmelee have leased the store on the first floor of the Navassa Company's new building and will open a grocery store there in October.

The German barque Eintracht, which cleared at this port, today, for Antwerp, takes out 2,444 casks spirits turpentine and 349 barrels rosin, which is one of the largest cargoes of spirits taken out from this port in many months.

Dr. Pierce's Extract of Smart-weed is a compound fluid extract of smart-weed, or water-pepper, Jamaica ginger and other ingredients known to be efficacious in curing colic, diarrhoea, dysentery, bloody-flux, and kindred affections. It also breaks up colds, fevers and inflammatory attacks. Sold by druggists.

Personal.
 We were pleased to meet yesterday with our good friend, Capt. Bremers, of the German barque Lydia Peschau, who is with us again, having once more crossed the Atlantic Ocean in safety. Our people can appreciate a clever gentleman and Capt. Bremers' may friends are always glad to greet him on his arrival here.

The Cape Fear.
 Captain Garrison, of the steamer D. Murchison, reports that the river had fallen some 18 or 20 feet at Fayetteville when he left there yesterday morning. In the lower part of the river there is, however, no perceptible decrease as yet. Capt. Garrison also tells us that the stretch along the line of the river from decaying vegetation is perfectly fearful but that it is nothing to what it will be when the lowlands are uncovered and the rotting corn becomes exposed to the fierce rays of the August sun.

Window Glass of all sizes, Doors, Sash and Blinds, Builders' Hardware, &c. Low est prices at JACOBI'S.

Hardly Ever.
 Our portly but good-looking friend, Gus Rosenthal, has chartered a railroad train and will leave here to-morrow for New York, Boston and Philadelphia, where he proposes to spend the next few weeks in laying in such a stock of boots and shoes for the Fall and Winter trade as was never—hardly ever—seen before in Wilmington. He expects to buy mostly for cash and promises to give his customers the benefit of his bargains.

The Fast Mail.
 It is now announced that the fast mail service on the Atlantic Coast Line will go into effect on the 23rd inst., which is one week from Monday. It is to run between New York and Charleston, leaving New York at 9:55 P. M. This is a little different from the original design, which was to start the mail from New York at an early hour of the morning, and we fail to see where the particular benefit is to come in, so far as the citizens of Wilmington are concerned. In leaving New York at 10 o'clock in the evening, morning dailies will be cold before the train starts.

The Yacht Race.
 The yacht race yesterday, over the usual course at Wrightsville Sound, was not attended by as large a crowd as is usually present. Still, there were many there who took enough interest in the event to make up for a lack in numbers. The race resulted in favor of the Lizzie. The start was made in the following order and at the time given:

Restless2h.47m.36s.
Flirt2h.48m.16s.
Lizzie2h.48m.40s.
Ripple2h.49m.30s.

The boats came in as follows:

Restless4h.40m.32s.
Lizzie4h.32m.42s.
Flirt4h.32m.47s.
Ripple4h.33m.57s.

It takes a loud Baby to wake up a sleeping car; but it takes but little of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup to quiet that Baby, and it requires only 25 cts. to buy a bottle of that well known remedy.

New Orleans Times.
FROM COUNTER TO CROSIER.

The Story of a Grocery Clerk Who is Now an Archbishop.

Happening on Saturday morning to meet at the city hall Mr. W. C. Raymond, that gentleman narrated to a representative of the Times a biographical episode, which for phenomenal success might compare most favorably with the careers of those who for all time will live in history, and which affords to the student of human character one of the best examples of the possibilities within the score of human achievement that ever came within the writer's observation.

It might be well to state for the information of those not already acquainted with that very generally known fact that Mr. W. C. Raymond was at one time numbered among the largest and best patronized family grocers in this city, and that his establishment, located on Camp street, just above the corner of Commercial place, was sought by a large majority of the lovers of good things.

'Many years ago,' remarked Mr. Raymond, 'there were employed in my store two young men, George Swarbrick, with whom you are, no doubt, well acquainted, and his brother-in-law, Jimmy Gibbons, concerning whom I may narrate something that will prove of interest, when I say that my former employe, Jimmy Gibbons, who rolled barrels and tied up packages of sugar in my store, and His Grace, the Right Rev. James Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore, the confidential friend of His Holiness, Leo XIII, and a high dignitary of the Catholic Church in the United States, are one and the same person.'

'James Gibbons was in my employment about eighteen months. He was without exception the most energetic, intelligent, and strictly conscientious young man I have met in the whole course of my life. Honest as the sun, and strictly upright in all conduct, I do not believe that a purer man than Bishop Gibbons exists to-day. His career in life in exceptional good fortune might be compared with that of those well known in history, and I have learned to look upon him as the Napoleon of the Church.'

'After a service in my store of eighteen months, young Gibbons announced to me that he intended to quit work, conceiving it to be his duty to attend the theological seminary at St. Mary's, in Maryland, and study for the priesthood. A bright student and a man of earnest convictions, he early won the esteem of his professors, and not only this, but the favorable notice of the Right Reverend Archbishop of the Diocese. So high an opinion was held of Father Gibbons by the church, that after his ordination he was selected to take charge of the parish of Canton, just opposite Baltimore.'

'In this parish several priests had previously failed utterly to create an interest in the church or even to establish a parish of any numbers or influence whatever. Within two years Father Gibbons had not only erected a splendid temple of worship, but had created one of the largest and most influential parishes in the entire neighborhood. His very great success in this induced the Archbishop to retain Father Gibbons as his private secretary, a position which he held for some years.'

'During this time it became necessary to choose a missionary bishop for the diocese of North Carolina, a State which at that time had but one Catholic Church within its borders, that of Wilmington. Gibbons' name was forwarded to the Holy See as being that of a suitable candidate for the appointment, but a reply came back from Rome that inasmuch as the candidate was believed to be of Irish birth, and that it was deemed inexpedient to appoint to a bishopric any but priests born within the country wherein they exercised jurisdiction, an appointment was refused.'

'There occurred the most extraordinary circumstance yet to be narrated; a diligent search into his family history disclosed the fact that Gibbons' father and mother, although both of Irish birth, soon after their marriage emigrated to America, where their son James was born. They returned to Ireland with the child, and James did not return to America until he became a youth, but is really an American born, and a citizen of the United States.'

'This circumstance removed every obstacle to his appointment as missionary bishop of North Carolina, and he became among all classes one of the most esteemed prelates who ever officiated in that State.'

'The demise of the Bishop of Richmond elevated Bishop Gibbons to his episcopate and made him the legate of one of the wealthiest bishoprics in the country, and the more recent death of the Archbishop of Baltimore has elevated this fortunate prelate, who was also His Grace's heir, to the Archbishopric, and the highest position of the Catholic Church in America. All this has happened in the course of comparatively a very few years.'

The Register of Deeds has issued four marriage licenses during the week, two of which were for white and two for colored couples.

 LEXINGTON, VIRGINIA.

Session Opens 1st Sept'r.

THE REPORT of the Special Board of Examiners for 1875 closes thus:—
 In conclusion, your Committee cannot too highly commend what has seemed to them the marked and distinguishing features of this Institution, the happy combination of the military system of instruction with the departments of science and of literary culture, and the more ennobling culture of the heart and soul. Nowhere else have we seen this combination so complete and perfect. We cannot speak of it too highly. It is such a system as fits a pupil for life and for death. Under its guidance he is sure to tread always the path of duty, virtue and honor.
