We publish elsewhere on this page the very latest news from Indiana. It is dated at Washington, 3.30 P. M. It is from a gentleman who has excellent opportunities for furnishing a correct report and is therefore reliable. And still we believe that Indiana has gone Democratic.

Two and a half millions of tropical oranges were received in the past six months at San Francisco from the French islands of Tahiti. They have come in about equal numbers every month from March to September, showing that the trees are in perpetual bearing.

The Turks have agreed to the surrender of Dulcigno. This ought to be a cause of great rejoicing with the Powers, as it relieves them from a very embarrassing position. Had the sick man remained obstinate he might have caused a complete backdown and a backout on the part of the allies.

Horatio Seymour drives from his farm to Utica every day. He has an office there. His property consists mainly of Eastern farms and Western lands. He says that an American is always seeking some new fields of venture, while a German will take a farm and remain on it until it is paid for. He thinks Massachusetts will become an Irish State.

The lines of railway in the five divisions of the earth cost, in round numbers, $19,000,000,000 and would, according to Baron Kolb, reach eight times round the globe, although it is but little over half a century since the first railway worked by steam was opened between Darlington and Stockton, Sep. 27, 1825; and between Manchester and Liverpool, Sept. 15, 1830.

The murder of Sheriff McCorkle in Shelbyville, Ind., was a most outrageous affair. He was shot down in cold-blood while in the simple discharge of his duty.
He was buried on Sunday and was followed to the grave by 5,000 people. Had this cowardly outrage occurred in the South there would have been a terrible outcry in the North. As it is it seems to have attracted but little attention.

The Republican Legislature of Ohio gerrymandered the Congressional districts of the State so as to give themselves fourteen and the Democrats six members of the next delegation. In the present Congress there are eleven Democrats and nine Republicans. If under this partisan apportionment the Republicans should get a majority of the delegation at this election they will not fail to crow over it as a great political victory.

Mrs. Margaret Glennou, a respectable lady, was shot at Ellenville, N. Y., about three weeks ago, by a woman named Sarah Dalloway, during the progress of a Republican parade. The murderess is a violent Republican female. As Mrs.
Glennou was on her bed there was a Republican procession abroad and they were especially requested not to pass the house but they not only did so but fired a cannon several times immediately in front of the house. The nervous shock was so great that Mrs. Glennou died from its effects on Monday. This is the valiant party which not only wars on old women and children but on sick women as well.

The campaign of 1884 was opened in New York on Monday night. It was a military pageant, gotten up in honor of the empire that is to be inaugurated should the revolutionists succeed in their designs.
Yesterday's Sun tells us that:

In numbers, discipline and brilliancy of display the parade of the Republican clubs of New York and vicinity in honor of Gen. Grant, was all that its projectors had planned. The procession had the air of a military pageant, rather than a civic demonstration, and the casual spectator might readily have taken the show for a procession of soldiery. The arrangements for the parade had been long and carefully prepared. The railroads were induced to run excursion trains from Philadelphia, from Trenton, Newark and other cities in New Jersey; from the towns up the Hudson River and elsewhere; John H. Starin sent out his steamboats to bring Republicans from various points free of charge.— Republican mill and factory owners were asked to put their employes in line, and workmen who would not otherwise take the day off were told that they would be paid with Republican campaign money.
Officeholders were assessed for uniforms, torches, and other equipments, and probably 30,000 men were turned out to march with pomp and glitter in review before Gen. Grant. There were real muskets and sham muskets, genuine cannons, lances and battle-axes in this procession of political soldiers. Helmets and shields and military caps, epaulettes and swords, were as plenty in the streets as they were nineteen years ago.

West Virginia has gone Democratic.— This much is at least sure.

Conkling said a few days since that Indiana and Ohio were worthless to the Republicans without New York. In response the big New York dailies assure Mr. C. that New York is good for at least 50,000 majority for Hancock.

Cotton on Fire.

The steamer D. Murchison, which arrived here this morning from Fayetteville, had on a lighter, which she was towing 125 yards to the rear of the steamer, 302 bales of cotton. This was partially covered by a tarpaulin. When about ten miles above the city fire was discovered among the cotton. Capt.
Garrison immediately rang the bell to reverse the engine and ordered out his fire brigade with buckets and hose but before he could get alongside the lighter it seemed as though its entire cargo was one mass of flames. Everybody went to work with a will and in a short time about one-half of the cargo was overboard and the fire on the remainder fully under control. Capt. Garrison left a force at that point to put out the flames on the floating cotton and then steamed on to the city, arriving here about 12 o'clock. He landed what remained on the lighter, and about 2:30 left here to pick up and secure that which he had thrown overboard.

It is impossible, as yet, to estimate correctly the loss, although it is thought it will not exceed ten per cent. of the cargo, say $1,500. The cotton all belonged to Messrs Williams & Murchison, and was insured with Messrs. Atkinson & Manning.
The origin of the fire, Capt. Garrison thinks, must surely have been from a spark from the smokestack. The wind was blowing almost a half-gale at the time from the North.

ing Stoves at almost any price at JACOB'S

THE LATEST.

Indiana in Doubt—Ohio Republican and West Virginia Democratic.

(Special to Daily Review)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct 13.—3.30 P. M.

The very latest news here up to this hour, relative to the elections yesterday in Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia, is that Indiana is claimed by both parties with the chances ostensibly in favor of the Republicans; Ohio has gone Republican by an increased majority and with a gain of four to six Congressmen, and West Virginia is Democratic by from ten to twelve thousand.

JACOB'S.

Columbus County Politics.

The sturdy Democracy of glorious old Columbus county are fully aroused to the importance of, and the momentous interests involved in, the approaching election. The local candidates are making a most thorough and exhaustive canvass of the county and are doing a nob work.
Col. T. F. Toon, the candidate for Representative to the General Assembly, is doing yeoman service in the cause, while Capt. V. V. Richardson, the candidate for the Senate for the Senatorial district embracing the counties of Columbus and Robeson, is working with untiring zeal for a Democratic success. Col. Toon has never canvassed the county before as a political candidate, yet he discusses the issues of the campaign with much force and ability and will reflect honor upon his constituency. The public life of Capt.
Richardson is too well known throughout the State to require comment from us.
Capt. John W. Ellis, one of the favorite sons of Columbus county, has also given the benefit of his experience and knowledge of political life to the cause, and has made several splendid speeches.

On Saturday last (the 9th inst.) Major C. M. Stedman, of Wilmington, addressed the Democracy of Columbus, in the Court room at Whiteville, and made a ringing telling speech. He discussed the issues at stake in a masterly manner and added new bonds to the friendship which the Democracy of that county have ever entertained for him. Although defeated before the Convention at Fayetteville, Major Stedman rose high above the petty jealousy of small minds and paid a glowing tribute to the worth of Mr. Shackelford, and urged upon the patriotic citizens of Columbus to march in solid phalanx to the polls on the first Tuesday in November and deposit their tickets for the party, State, County and Congressional. He was listened to with that profound attention which his able effort so richly merited.

Yesterday (Thursday, the 12th inst.) the three candidates for Congressional honors, Shackelford, Canaday and Kornegay, according to appointment, addressed the voters of Columbus county in the Court Room at Whiteville. Mr.
Shackelford was introduced to his auditors by Capt. John W. Ellis in a few felicitous and appropriate remarks, and after a brief explanation of the position he occupied, he commenced the real work he had come to perform. And thoroughly and gloriously did he do that work. He first paid his respects to Mr. Kornegay, the Greenback candidate, showing him up in his true colors as the coadjutor and helper of the Republican party. He then directed his attention to Mr. Canaday, the Republican candidate, whom he handled without gloves. His listeners were in the best of humor from the outset, and in a speech of an hour's duration he spoke to a delighted audience. Everybody was pleased with his speech, which was so replete with grand and effective effort. The universal opinion relative to his visit to Whiteville was satisfaction and delight, and Columbus is sure to give him the full strength of her Democratic vote. True to the principles of free government and civil liberty as the needle to the pole, there will be no faltering in her Democratic ranks on the day of election, but all will march shoulder to shoulder to the polls and deposit their votes for the candidates of the party.

Cotton Gin Burned.

We regret to learn that the cotton gin of Mr. Sberard Barksdale, of Sampson county, caught fire from a spark yesterday and was entirely consumed, together with 100 bales of cotton that were stored near the gin house at the time. There was no insurance, we are sorry to hear, on either the gin or the cotton, and the loss falls altogether on Mr. Barksdale.

A large stock of children's school shoes

Proposed Reception to Col. Waddell.

We learn that the friends in this city of Hon. Alfred M. Waddell contemplate giving him a reception and a hearty welcome when he returns home from his campaign tour in the North. Col. Waddell, we hear, will not return to Wilmington until the latter part of October, but will be in time to put a Hancock, Jarvis and Shackelford vote in on the 2d day of November next.

Everybody can get suited with a Pocket Knife, also Table Cutlery, at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

Second Ward Meeting.

The Democrats of the Second Ward are requested to meet at the Court House to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. J.
H. Currie will address the meeting.
Turn out, Hancock, Jarvis and Shackelford men and let us count noses to see where we stand and how strong a line of battle we can form. It is no time to falter now. The man who is not willing to work in this campaign is neither a good Democrat nor a patriot.
