THE NEW PROGRAMME.

It is said that the Republicans are to make a grand effort to carry Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida. This looks as though they despair of New York, as well they might. A gentleman in this city, who was in New York a week or so ago, tells us that the Democrats in that city are not, by any means, cowed by the result in Indiana, but that they talk confidently of their ability to carry their own State; that it is only a question of how much its majority will be. He says he heard John Kelly, the great Tammany Chief, say one night in the presence of a number of gentlemen, that the Democrats would leave New York and Brooklyn with 90,000 majority and that Kelly seem to most sincerely believe it himself. But this is a digression.

The New York Sun says that the Republicans will go to work in Virginia with the endeavor to make a coalition with Mahone. If they succeed in this, we believe that we may call Virginia safe for Hancock. It will divide the Democratic and Republican ranks as thoroughly as they were divided in 1876. As to North Carolina, agents, it is said, have already been sent here with money and documents. Let them come. They cannot revolutionize North Carolina now. If the people of the Old

North State are only true to themselves, the Republicans can't raise money enough to carry the State. If her people will only go to the polls and vote she is just as sure to go Democratic as that the sun will rise and set on election day. Here is the programme in general as mapped out by the Republican managers:

The Republicans are preparing to make the Federal supervisors in the South Republican election officers. Last night Jay A. Hubbell's committee sent to the South two large express wagon loads of blank books, containing instructions for joint action by the Federal supervisors of election and the Republican local committees. These persons together are to make an alleged list of Republicans whom they are to certify that they saw vote the Republican ticket, a blank certificate being printed in the book. The supervisors are thus to act, not as officers of the Government, but as agents of the Republican party. They are to take the names as if in their official capacity. The fears and hopes of the negroes are thus to be played upon. They are to be given to understand that these Government officials are to report to Washington all who vote the Republican ticket. It is expected that the fear of some undefined punishment that will be meted out to these negroes who do not vote the Republican ticket will prevent any of the blacks from voting the Democratic ticket, as many of them have come to do since the departure of the carpet-baggers and the troops.

Then, too, it is expected that the hope of some office or of the traditional forty acres and a mule will bring the negroes to the polls where, without such incentive, they might have remained at home. This is the last device of desperate men, to recover the negro vote of the South. They realize that they have lost it; that the negroes have gone naturally to the politics of their old masters, and that the local political machine cannot prevent them from voting against the Republicans. They, therefore, bring in the Federal official, violating the law and prostituting the office, in order that the authority of the United States, with all that it implies to the superstitious negroes' minds, may become an adjunct of the Republican Committee. The book also contains an invitation to the supervisors to look up rows and disturbances, and to report them, not to his official superiors, but to the Republican Congressional Committee. It is undoubtedly made an object for them to report as many disturbances as possible.

NOT YET RECORDED.

Apparently, the Democrats of Indiana are not dismayed at the result of the recent election in that State. They feel assured that Hancock is from 5,000 to 10,000 stronger there than was the State ticket in last week's elections; that race itself was the prime feature in the Republican success, and that with the proper efforts between now and the second day of November they will be able to redeem the State. Here is something from the New York Sun, bearing on the subject, which will be read with interest. It is an extract from an Indianapolis telegram to that paper:

A hundred or more leaders of the party arrived in the city to-day, and congregated at the rooms of the State Committee. The feeling to continue the fight was unanimous, and the opinion that Hancock could carry Indiana in November was universal. The Democrats have recovered from their defeat of Tuesday already, and are aroused and full of fight. Those here to-day reason that local dissensions in counties lost the State ticket many votes; that Landers was a heavy load; that imported negroes and repeaters had things their own way; and that the Republicans expended thousands of dollars for the purchase of votes that they will not have to spend next month. They claim that none of the above causes will prevail next month, and assert with the utmost confidence that the State can and will be carried for Hancock.

Leading men from Democratic counties which gave large Republican gains on Tuesday, earnestly and vehemently aver that those counties will redeem themselves in November. Letters and telegrams are pouring in from all parts of the State from the Democratic masses, demanding of their leaders not to delay an instant in renewing the campaign, and asserting that there are many men in their respective regions who will vote for Hancock who did not vote for Landers.

The Democratic leaders feel greatly encouraged at such bright prospects only three days after such a defeat. The campaign will be begun at once, and pushed forward with earnestness and vigor to the end. The work has gone out all along the line. There is astonishing confidence in the rank and file. They do not even doubt that Hancock can carry Indiana. The same vote polled for Landers on Tuesday, if polled for Hancock, will give him the State.

The Democratic State Central Committee will meet next Monday for the transaction of important business. The tariff question, which affected the Democrats in the campaign just closed, will be met.

Mr. Hendricks will discuss the tariff at New Albany the first of next week. He will speak in the large manufacturing cities, confining his argument mostly to the tariff question. You can depend upon it in New York that the Indiana Democrats will leave no stone unturned to carry the State for Hancock, and they firmly believe it can be done.

THE ELECTION LAW.

Something Worth Laying by for Reference.

The election will be held on Tuesday, November 2nd, 1880. There will be nine ballot boxes for each place, for

- 1. Ten electors for President and Vice-President. 2. Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Attorney-General. 3. Members of Congress. 4. Judges of Superior Court, Fourth and Fifth Judicial District. 5. Members of the General Assembly. 6. County Treasurer, in counties having this office; Register of Deeds, Surveyor, Coroner and Sheriff. 7. Township Constable. 8. Amendment to the constitution concerning the public debt. 9. Amendment to the constitution in relation to the support of the deaf, dumb, the blind and the insane of the State.

Ballots shall be on white paper and without device. The county commissioners shall provide the ballot boxes for each class of officers to be voted for.

Registrars shall be furnished with registration books, and it shall be their duty to revise the existing books of registration, and for thirty days keep open their books for new registration.

If the board of commissioners for any county so direct, there may be an entirely new registration, but this requires a notice of thirty days in each township.

REGISTERING AND VOTING.

No one is to register or vote except in that precinct where he is an actual and bona fide resident on the day of election. This means, a voter who lives in, or who has removed to a precinct in good faith, and who produces a certificate that his name has been erased from the books of his former precinct. This certificate can be had up to the time of closing the registration books. Certificates of registration are not allowed. The following persons are not to register or vote: Minors, idiots, and lunatics; persons who, after conviction, or confession in open court, have been adjudged guilty of felony or other infamous crime, committed after January 1, 1877, unless restored to rights of citizenship by law.

Subject to the foregoing exceptions all males, born in the United States, or naturalized, who have resided in the State twelve months next preceding the election, and ninety days in the county, are qualified to register and vote in the precincts where they reside. The residence of a married man is where his family resides; that of a single man where he sleeps.

No one is to register in any precinct to which he has removed for the mere purpose of voting therein; nor unless his residence is actual and bona fide. It shall be the duty of the registrar, or the judge of election, when so requested by any bystander, to swear any person offering to register, or to vote, as to his residence.

Every person offering to register shall state, under oath, his qualifications. And upon request, the registrar shall require the applicant to prove his identity, his age or residence, by the oath of one elector.

If any applicant for registration has previously registered elsewhere in the same county, he shall not be registered again unless he produces a certificate that his name has been erased from the books of his former township.

No registration shall be allowed on election day unless the voter has become entitled to register on that day. The board of commissioners, on or before the 1st Monday of the month next preceding the month in which each election is held (1st Monday in October), shall appoint four judges or inspectors of election (two of which shall be of a different political party from the registrars), at each polling place.

It shall be the duty of the registrars and judges of election to attend at the polling place of their precinct on the Saturday before election (October 30) from 9 a. m. till 5 p. m., and hear and determine challenges.

The judges and registrars shall attend at the polls on the day of election, (Tuesday, November 2) and conduct the election. They shall enter the name of every person who votes in the poll book, certify to the same and deposit them with the register of deeds.

On election day, any person may, and the judges shall, challenge the vote of any person suspected of not being qualified. Any one so challenged shall be sworn and examined as to his qualification; and other witnesses may be examined on oath, and the judges may reject the vote if they are satisfied that such person is not a legal voter.

The polls shall be open from 7 a. m. till sunset. Voters shall hand in their ballots to the judges who shall carefully deposit them in the ballot boxes.

Immediately after the election the judges shall deposit the registration books with the register of deeds.

When the election is over, the registrar and judges of election, in the presence of such persons as may attend, shall open the boxes, count the ballots, reading aloud the names on the tickets.

If there be two or more tickets rolled up together, if any ticket has more names on it than the voter has a right to vote for, or has a device on it, they shall be void.

The counting of the votes shall be continued without adjournment until completed, and the result thereof declared. The judges of election, at each polling place, shall appoint one of their number to attend the meeting of the board of county canvassers as a member of the board, and they shall deliver to him the original return statement of the result of the election at their polling place. The county canvassers so chosen shall constitute the board of county canvassers; the register of deeds shall be their clerk, unless the board elect another.

The board of canvassers shall, at that meeting, in the presence of the Sheriff and such other persons as may choose to attend, open and canvass the returns and make abstracts, stating the number of ballots cast in each precinct for each person, the name of each person voted for, and the number of votes given for each person for each different office, and shall sign the same.

ABSTRACT OF VOTES.

The abstract of the votes for each of the following classes shall be on a different sheet:

- 1. Presidential electors. 2. State officers. 3. Members of Congress. 4. Judges of fourth and fifth judicial districts. 5. Members of Assembly. 6. County officers. 7. Public debt amendment. 8. Insane amendment. 9. Township constables.

Three abstracts of votes, except for county officers, shall be made and signed by the board of county canvassers; one of which shall be delivered to the sheriff; one filed with the Register of Deeds, to be registered in his office, and the third forwarded by registered letter to the Secretary of State at Raleigh.

Two separate abstracts of the votes cast for Senators shall be made, whenever the Senatorial District is composed of more than one county; one of which shall be filed with the Register of Deeds and the other furnished to the Sheriff.

When the canvass is concluded, the board of canvassers shall deliver the original returns to the Clerk of the Superior Court to be filed in his office; they shall also cause the abstracts to be recorded in a book to be called 'The Election Book,' to be kept in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court.

The Clerk of the Superior Court shall transmit to the Secretary of State, duplicate of the abstracts of the votes for all but county officers.

RESULT. The person having the greatest number of votes for any office is to be declared elected.

When the Board of Canvassers have completed comparing the polls, they shall proclaim the result at the court house door, stating the number of votes cast in their county for each person voted for at that election.

The Sheriffs in the various Senatorial Districts, composed of more than one county, shall meet at the places designated by law, in their respective districts, one week after the election, and compare the polls for Senators, and give their certificate to the Senators duly elected.

The Sheriff of each county shall furnish the members elected to the House of Representatives and the Senator (where the Senatorial District is composed of only that county) with a certificate of election.

The Sheriff shall also notify officers to meet at the Court House on the first Monday of the next month (December) to be qualified.

Washburne & Co. SOLE AGENTS, 212 Broadway, cor. Fulton St. (Knox Building), N. Y. Feb 28-1880. THE BEST REMEDY FOR Diseases of the Throat and Lungs. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. In diseases of the pulmonary organs a safe and reliable remedy is invaluable. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is such a remedy. It is a scientific combination of the medicinal principles and curative virtues of the finest drugs, chemically united, of such power as to insure the greatest possible efficiency, and uniformity of result. It strikes at the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording prompt relief and rapid cure, and is adapted to patients of any age or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily. In ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Catarrh, the effects of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful. Low prices are inducements to try some of the many mixtures or syrups, made of cheap and ineffective ingredients, now offered, which, as they contain no curative qualities, can afford only temporary relief, and are sure to disappoint the patient. Diseases of the throat and lungs demand active and effective treatment; and it is dangerous experimenting with unknown and cheap medicines, from the great liability that these diseases may, while so trifled with, become deeply seated or incurable. Use AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and you may confidently expect the best results. It is as cheap as its careful preparation and fine ingredients will allow. Eminent physicians, knowing its composition, prescribe it. The test of half a century has proven its certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid.
