THE FINEST OF the season. By the Dozen, Quart or Gallon, at Philadelphia county gave Garfield 97,238; Hancock, 76,357; and Weaver 237.

Oregon has gone for Garfield by about 600 majority and California gives Hancock about 300.

The Republicans claim three Congressmen in Arkansas but we predict that in a day or two they will be glad to compromise on one.

We make a most gracious bow to the good, real, old-fashioned flesh and blood Democrats in Robeson county. They have done wonders and that, too, only after a fierce fight. They are fitted to be free and successful. Three cheer and a tiger for old Robeson!

Poor John Kelly is in a bad box. He is getting some hard blows, right and left. The Young Men's Democratic Club met night before last at their rooms in New York, and denounced Kelly and Tammany. The speakers thought that the primary cause of failure in the recent election was due to Tammany's course last year, as led by Kelly.

David Davis, it is said, may be counted upon to vote and act with the Democrats in the next Senate. If Gen. Mahone will do the same this will give the Democrats a majority of two. If he acts with the Republicans the Senate will be a tie, with the casting vote in the Vice-President's hands. As to which side Mahone will align himself with, no one seems able to say with authority.

As we felt sure would be the case, Gov. Jarvis has run behind both the State and National tickets. This is generally the case in every State election. In 1876 Vance ran behind Tilden and also several names on the State ticket. The News and Observer thinks that Jarvis' majority will be about 7,300, the balance of the State ticket's between 8,000 and 10,000 and Hancock's about 10,000.

The Board of State Canvassers is composed of the Governor, who is Chairman ex-officio, the Secretary of State, the Attorney-General and two State Senators, to be chosen by the Governor. They will meet in Raleigh on Wednesday next, the 17th inst., to canvass the returns for Presidential electors and on the 25th inst. they will again meet to canvass the returns for members of Congress and Judges of the Superior Court.

The Bernhardt made her first appearance in this country at Booth's Theatre, New York, on Monday night, in the role of Adrienne Lecouvreur. Three thousand persons witnessed the performance and the theatre accommodated but 2,200. Many ladies were among those who stood throughout the performance. Probably of the 3,000 present, there were not 300 who understood a word that was uttered on the stage as the play was rendered in the French language. 2,700 fools within four walls! It is incredible but it is a fact. There seems to have been considerable dissatisfaction at the performance and the critics are not agreed as to its merits.

The News and Observer is very complimentary in its allusions both to the Democracy of this district and our Congressman-elect. It says in its yesterday's issue:

"The sterling Democracy of the Third Congressional district, led by the vigorous, aggressive and gallant campaigner, Shackelford, have won a glorious victory, and they now rejoice in their redemption. Mr. Shackelford is thirty-six years of age, and is a native of Onslow county. He entered the Confederate service in 1862 as a private in Company H, Third North Carolina Cavalry. He was promoted to a lieutenant in the Thirty-fifth North Carolina Regiment, was captured near Greenville, N. C., and remained in prison until the close of the war. In 1872 he was elected to represent his county in the Legislature, and has since served continuously in the Assembly. In the prime of manhood, and bringing to the responsible position to which he has been chosen a clear head, a spotless character, and a warm devotion to his State, he will acquire himself as one worthy the high place of a representative of the patriotic and intelligent people of the Cape Fear district.

From the publishers, Messrs. T. B. Peterson & Brothers, of Philadelphia, we have a copy of Adolphe Belot's latest work, "La Grande Florine" translated from the French by Geo. Cox.

"La Grande Florine" is the sequel to and conclusion of "The Strangers of Paris," and is even stronger and more absorbing than that romance. It is a brilliant example of Adolphe Belot's concise and wonderfully graphic style. The plot is of intense interest, and is constructed and developed in a most skillful and effective manner. While "La Grande Florine" takes up and finishes the narrative of "The Strangers of Paris," sufficient new matter is introduced to give it individuality and impart to it an additional charm essentially its own. It is rich in all the elements which go to make up a first-class romance. It deals with love, jealousy, heroism, wifely devotion, trickery and crime, and abundantly proves its gifted author's deep acquaintance with human nature in all its phases.

The fancy for red is displayed this season in cloaks made of fine scarlet cloth and trimmed with a new braid called vermicelli.

If ever there was a time in the history of localizing when items could be called particularly scarce and news excessively dull, that period is at the present writing. But, we suppose there must come a calm after a storm.

You can buy No. 1 Cooking and Heating Stoves at almost any price at JACOB'S Hardware Depot.

Paralyzed.

Mr. James S. Melvin, a timber inspector of this city, was stricken with paralysis this morning about 11 o'clock. He was conveyed to his boarding house on Market, between Front and Second streets. His condition is considered critical.

Baptist State Convention.

The North Carolina State Baptist Convention will meet at Goldsboro on the 17th inst. Rev. J. B. Taylor, Messrs Geo. R. French, B. F. Mitchell, W. P. Oldham, J. C. Stevenson, J. W. Taylor and Dr. J. H. Freeman have been appointed delegates from the First Baptist Church of this city.

Change of Gauge on the W. N. C. R. R.

We learn that private telegrams have been received in this city to-day announcing a change of gauge on the Western N. C. Railroad, or, rather, we should say, Mr. W. J. Best's road, to conform to the gauge of the Richmond and Danville R. R. So soon alas! so soon! Why could you not wait until after the inauguration in January? It might have been better, Mr. Best.

The Old Plantation Minstrels.

There was not present last night at the Opera House as large an audience as there should have been to greet the young gentlemen of the Old Plantation Minstrels, on their second appearance among us. The entertainment was a very pleasant one, having several new features. We should be glad to see the Minstrels again, and freed from the disadvantages under which they labored last night.

A Pound Party To-night.

There will be a pound party, we hear, at St. James' Home this evening at 7 1/2 o'clock. We earnestly hope that the good people, who having sacrificed everything else to conscientious duty to take up their abode in the Home, will be most liberally pounded by their friends to-night, but we also trust that the excellent ladies who inhabit the Home may suffer no evil consequences from the over exertions of the pounders.

To Stop Bleeding.

It is said that bleeding from a wound, on man or beast, may be stopped by a mixture of wheat and common salt, in equal parts, bound on with a cloth. If the bleeding is profuse use a large quantity, say from one to three pints. It may be left on for hours, or even days, if necessary. The person who gave us this receipt says: "In this manner I saved the life of a horse which was bleeding from a wounded artery; the bleeding ceased in five minutes after the application."

Meeting of the Little Giant Company.

The Little Giant Fire Engine Company held an adjourned meeting at their Engine Hall, corner of Fourth and Princess streets, last night, when a new constitution and by-laws were adopted. This new constitution authorizes the election of a President and Vice President, and after its adoption, Mr. Jno. C. James was elected President and Mr. F. G. Robinson Vice President. Both of these gentlemen are retired and honorary members of the Company, having served out the usual five years' term of service required of all members before they are exempt from further active duty.

Save your money and buy your Building Supplies from Altaffer & Price's.

Looking for Bondsmen.

It is one thing to be elected to a lucrative office and another thing to provide a good bond which will pass the lynx-eyed Argus eyes of the Board of County Commissioners, as many successful candidates will readily testify. The Pender county Republicans, it seems, are looking to Wilmington business men, who are Democrats, to help them out. The Sheriff elect of that county, we understand, has already declared that his bond will be endorsed here and to-day the Register of Deeds elect was in the city, scouring the streets, under the leadership of a prominent Republican residing here, looking for endorsers. He was offering a per centage to any one who would secure him a good bond but at last accounts he was unsuccessful. It is not likely, we are happy to state, that any Pender county Republicans will find their sureties in this city. Straw bonds are not worth much under the scrutiny of Democratic commissioners.

Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine For December

brilliantly closes Volume IV, of this favorite periodical. The opening article is entitled, "Savonarola, the Florentine Reformer," by Alfred H. Guernsey. There is a most interesting one by M. F. Vallette, "The Buried Cities of the East—Excavations Around Nineveh and Babylon." "Christain Enterprise in New Zealand" by Rev. Daniel Edwards; "The Nile," etc., are noteworthy articles. The admirable serials, "Hester Morgan's Husband" and "Maid Marjory," are concluded; the department of fiction contains, besides these, some excellent short stories by popular writers. There are several descriptive articles replete with interest and information; the poems are by Adelaide Stout, F. R. Havergal, Mrs. Hemans, etc., etc. It is impossible, however, to convey an idea of the vast variety contained in the 128 quarto pages, literary and artistic; the illustrations number some 100. As the next number commences a new volume, now is the time to subscribe. A single copy is only 25 cents; the annual subscription, $3; six months, $1.50; four months, $1; sent postpaid. Address, Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

When you visit or leave New York City, stop at the Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot. European plan. Rooms reduced to $1.00 and upwards. Restaurant unsurpassed at moderate prices. Street cars, stages and elevated railroad to all parts of the city.
