The stockholders of the Atlantic & North Carolina R. R. were in session last Tuesday. A majority of the stock was represented. Mr. F. M. Simmons was the proxy for the State. The principal question for consideration was the lease of the road. Hon. R. R. Bridgers and Capt. Jno. F. Divine were present and submitted a proposition for a lease. Mr. W. J. Best was also present and likewise submitted a proposition for a lease. The votes taken showed very plainly that the private stockholders were in favor of leasing the road to Col. Bridgers and Capt. Divine, representing the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. It being ascertained that such was the will of the private stockholders, and that the question would be brought to a decision at the afternoon session, Mr. Simmons, the State proxy, absented himself, and hence there was no quorum, and the meeting was compelled to adjourn.

Subsequently, a private meeting of the stockholders was held, and the proposition to lease to the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. was endorsed as follows: The following was offered by Major John Hughes: Resolved, That with the lights now before us, we desire to express preference for the proposition for a lease of the road to R. R. Bridgers and J. F. Divine for the sum of thirty-three thousand dollars per annum, provided that the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad shall become security for the payment of the rental. A stock vote being called for, the vote resulted: Ayes, 1,024 votes, representing 3,340 shares. Nays, 384 votes, representing 789 shares. Col. Jno. Morehead, who voted in the negative, explained his vote by saying that he was not willing at present to commit himself to any one, as other propositions might be made before final action.

These are the facts as we find them in the formal report in the Newbern Nut Shell. The call of shares, we should have stated, showed 12,666 belonging to the State, and 4,071 to corporations and individuals, represented at the meeting. The proposition to lease to the W. & W. R. R. was defeated, it will be seen, by the action of Mr. Simmons, the State proxy, who, it will be fair to presume, was acting under instructions from Gov. Jarvis. The question which naturally arises in this connection is, would Mr. Simmons have withdrawn from the meeting had it appeared probable that the private stockholders favored a lease to Mr. Best, otherwise the Richmond & Danville R. R.? This is a very important question and one which Gov. Jarvis will be expected to answer. For the present, therefore, we make no strictures on his conduct.

There is also a very disagreeable charge made against Gov. Jarvis which it will also behoove him to respond to. The Kinston Journal says that Gov. Jarvis stated openly on the stump, during the recent campaign, that "the will of the private stockholders should be allowed to govern in the matter" and that he proposed "to allow them to lease whenever they desired and to whom they preferred." And yet the Journal tells us that "before a vote was taken the State's proxy stated that he had a letter from the Governor which would require him to withhold his vote if he saw that the lease was about to be adopted, and requested the meeting to adjourn to the evening in order that he might telegraph to the Governor. The meeting adjourned, and on reassembling, the State's proxy, in obedience to the Governor's telegram, refused to vote on the question and thus defeated the lease."

Humbugged Again.

I saw so much said about the merits of Hop Bitters, and my wife, who was always doctoring, and never well, teased me so urgently to get her some, I concluded to be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months' use of the Bitters my wife was cured and she has remained so for eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T. St. Paul.—Pioneer Press.

A CONVICT HAUL.

Two Escaped Penitentiary Birds Captured.

On Tuesday last Mr. John Harris, of this city, while on a visit to his grandfather, Mr. John A. Sanders, some four miles distant from the city, discovered a nest of escaped convicts in the hayloft on the plantation; and among the party Mr. Harris recognized a felon by the name of Henry Crews, who was indicted and convicted at the last April term of the Criminal Court of this county for arson, having set fire to a building on the very plantation in which he was then attempting to conceal himself. For this crime Crews was sentenced by Judge Meares to a term of 20 years at hard labor in the penitentiary, where he was duly carried and delivered by the proper officers from this county. The other members of this little hiding party were supposed to be George Hill, colored, sentenced at the same term to 6 years for larceny; Shade Bannerman, for the same crime as Hill and the same term of imprisonment 6 years; Edward Walker, alias Edward Borcum, tried, convicted and sentenced at the same term for 10 years for breaking into the tobacco factory in this city; and one James Bowden, from Jones county, who it is thought at the Sheriff's office, was sent from Jones county for stealing a bag of cotton.

With the knowledge that there was certainly one convict, and probably more, Mr. Harris hastened at once to town and lodged information with the proper authorities. A party was immediately made up, consisting of Dan Howard, C. H. Strode, J. W. Whitney and Toney Ashe who together, we believe, effected the capture, on Mr. Sanders' place, of Edward Walker, the tobacco factory robber, but the other birds had flown from that locality. The officers, however, obtained information of the whereabouts of another of the striped birds, and returning to town, they directed their steps to the corner of Second and Ann streets, where they discovered Jas. Bowden carefully concealed in the kitchen, by a servant employed as cook on the premises. This, together with five convict suits, was the result of the officers' efforts in that direction. The two captives, Walker and Bowden, were safely lodged in jail that night, while the officers, after burning up their arms, and proceeded the following night to make another scout, but their efforts were fruitless, the "coons" they were hunting having, no doubt, with their keen scent for alarm, sniffed danger in the air, and climbed a tree in another locality.

A Serious Strait.

The people of this city, of all classes and of all conditions, are placed in a serious strait just now because of the extreme scarcity of wood. There is almost literally none in market. The arrivals during the past two weeks have been very light and the little that has come in has been taken up at once on arrival at very high prices. In moderate weather this would not matter so much but during the present cold and wet weather it has become a very serious affair. It is an emergency for which our people are totally unprepared and the natural result has been much of suffering and actual distress. Taking all these facts into consideration the suggestion has been made to us—and we think it one that is worthy of consideration—that the railroad authorities here be requested to come to the assistance of our entire people by placing temporary low rates on wood from such points where it may readily be obtained and letting it be known among the country people, so that these rates may be taken advantage of. By this means the entire community will be benefited and no one can possibly be the loser. Perhaps the wood-dealers here, whose stocks, we understand, are almost entirely exhausted, might themselves make the necessary arrangements with the railroad authorities and get in a supply at once.

We throw out these suggestions, hoping that they may meet with attention during the extremity that is now upon our people.

Habit, if not necessity, makes a Hair Dressing such as Dr. Ayer's laboratory issues indispensable to many. The "Vigor" is one of the most delightful we have ever used. It restores not only the color, but gloss and luxuriance, to faded and gray hair.

There is another prediction for a shower of meteors to-morrow night. Let those who can find a patch of clear ether be on the lookout for them.

Yesterday.

Thanksgiving Day with us this year was cold, wet and disagreeable. Almost everybody hugged the fire throughout the entire day, and but few of the usual sportsmen lined the woods. The crop of robins has not been materially reduced.

Personal.

Capt. S. W. Vick, who left us last Fall to go to Charlotte, and after that removed to Savannah, has returned to Wilmington and will probably remain here. Rock Spring water has evidently laid violent hands on him. He seems glad to get back and we are glad to have him back and we sincerely trust that he will do well in whatever he may undertake.

Something New.

Mr. W. H. Sterling, Manager of the Wilmington Telephonic Exchange, has inaugurated an enterprise which must prove of much convenience to many. Arrangements have been made by which messages may be transmitted to and from any part of Brooklyn by the payment of a small fee. A branch office has been established at Messrs J. C. Stevenson & Co.'s Store, on Fourth street, just North of Boney Bridge, and the transmission will be between the Exchange and the branch office and will be delivered at any point. If the enterprise promises to justify it Mr. Sterling will soon enlarge and improve its facilities.

Boom, Boom, Booming!

His majesty, King Cotton, is again on the rampage. On Wednesday at the close January futures were quoted at 12 cents; to-day they opened at 12.60; from that price there was a decline to 12.08, but subsequently there was another advance, the market closing at 12.20. The transactions reported in New York to-day are 404,000 bales, the largest day's operations, it is believed here, that ever took place. Who says the South cannot afford to be independent, and solid too, for that matter, with a crop of six millions of bales of cotton at 12 cents per pound? Hipl Hipl Hurrah! for the King, our King, not King Grant, but better still, old reliable King Cotton.
