Christmas is coming that is; we judge so from the number of hen roosts that are Indications.

For the South Atlantic States higher barometer, cooler northerly winds, and clear or partly cloudy weather.

For thirty years the Union Mutual life insurance company is among the noblest institutions of modern times.
With no tarnish on its name, it is better prepared than ever to offer insurance to those who desire to secure a policy in a company absolutely safe.

We understand that a masquerade ball will be given in Smithville on Christmas Eve night and that extensive preparations are being made to make it the success of the decade.

Mr. Ahrens' new ice house is well under way. The rafters for the flooring have been placed in position and the ward.

How to catch 'em. Just buy the Delusion Rat and Mouse traps. Caught nearly forty

BI'S.

Personal.
Col. Jno. W. Gordon, of this city and Richmond, but mostly of Richmond, where he is also a member of an insurance house, arrived here this morning, and is en route for Laurinburg, where he goes to look after policies held by losers in that town by the recent fire, in companies represented by Messrs. Jno.
W. Gordon & Bro., in this city. He will go up to Laurinburg this evening and propose to stop over with us a few days on his return.

Water street merchants will keep their feet dry in winter by wearing ROSEN-THAL'S boots and shoes.

Handsome—Good Opportunity.
As Christmas is approaching many persons are casting around and exercising their minds as to what kind of a present to make to their wives, daughters, sons, or relatives. Just what to give is a hard problem for many persons to solve.
It is their desire to give something useful as well as ornamental or something that will please. Naturally a prospective donor turns to a newspaper to see what wares, goods, etc., are advertised, in hopes of seeing something that would suggest to the troubled mind the article that he or she would like to present.
Now is a good time for merchants in all branches of trade to advertise these goods and be rewarded for their good deeds.

A Sad and Fatal Mistake.
Even the most careful and anxious parents sometimes make fatal mistakes.
We regret to learn of the death of a little child in this city a short time ago who came to its death by a mistake made by its doting maternal grandmother. The little one was sick and its grandparent thought she would give it a dose of castor oil, but, alas! a fatal mistake was made. The wrong bottle was taken up and the medicine poured out and given to the little sufferer which threw it into spasms immediately and caused its death two days after.

Navassa Guano Company.
The stockholders of the Navassa Guano Company met at the office of the Company in this city this forenoon, Mr.
R. E. Calder being selected as Chairman and Mr. Donald MacRae as Secretary, nearly all the stock being represented.

The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year:
President—Hon. R. R. Bridgers.
Treasurer and Secretary—Donald Mac-Rae.
Superintendent—Col. C. L. Grafflin.
Superintendent of Agencies—Colonel Wm. L. DeRosset.

Directors—R. R. Bridgers, Edward Kidder, Donald MacRae, Smiles A.
Gregg, John C. Grafflin, Walter E.
Lawton, and Winfield S. Duman.

The Treasurer's report exhibited a favorable condition of the business of the Company and satisfactory results from their rice planting interests.

We learn that the Company have doubled their capacity for the manufacture of sulphuric acid, and are now ready to furnish a much larger supply of their justly popular fertilizers. It gives as much pleasure to chronicle the success of the Company. It has done much to develop this city and revive the rice planting interest in this section.

Rice birds are about played out. Not so with the Scotch ones at ROSENTHAL'S They last for ever.

The Maine Non-Forfeiture Law carries more equity into life insurance than any State law under which companies are organized. The Union Mutual Life Insurance Company of Maine embodies in its policy the detailed application of the law to individual contracts. Send for sample policy.

Return of Letters in Transit to Senders.

The last number of the postoffice Bulletin contains the following writing of the postoffice department, as it is now amended, in relation to the return of letters in transit to senders. This is a matter of importance to the public:

"After a letter or any other article of mail matter has passed from the mailing postoffice, the delivery of the same cannot be delayed or its return to writer secured, except upon the application of the sender to the Postmaster-General stating the imperative necessity therefor and identifying the matter. The application, with all the proof accompanying it, should then be forwarded by the local postmaster, but only when he can endorse the application, and a sum has been deposited with him sufficient to pay for the dispatch of the application and other necessary telegraphic messages, etc.; all expenses to be paid therefrom, whether the application be successful or not. It must be understood that such application will only be granted when the proof accompanying the application is conclusive of identity, and the emergency justifies the exercise of a reserved power, never to be resorted to where there is any other remedy; and also that the interference of the Postmaster-General will be absolutely restricted to letters, or matter prepaid at letter rates."

We advise all in need of Household Har-ware to first go to JACOBI'S. There you get the lowest prices.

The City Clock.

We learn that the city clock is fast being ruined by exposure to the weather.
Mr. Honnet, who has the contract to keep it in order, tells us that unless something is done to protect it from the rain, dews and dust it will soon be useless. He says that the works of the clock should be encased in a box as near air-tight as possible. He further says that the dews and rains which fall through the latticed windows in the tower of the church beat directly on the works and that he goes to the clock tower two or three times a week to oil it up in order to keep the rust from stopping it. His contract only requires him to go once a week. He further states that the clock is never wrong, either in time or striking, except after a storm. It strikes us that it would be economy on the part of the city to adopt Mr. Honnet's suggestions.

The only Company that issues a policy at ordinary life rates, payable at death or age 85, is the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company of Maine.

Next Wednesday.

As we announced yesterday Miss Fanny Davenport will appear in this city on Wednesday evening next, the 15th inst., in her new play of "An American Girl," written by Anna Dickinson, supported by a company of rare merit. The piece has just finished a run of six weeks at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where it has drawn enormous houses. It will be produced with great attention to detail both as regards scenery and costumes. The Tribune says Miss Davenport's rendering of the chief character brought out its contrasts in the strongest possible light, and her action, especially in the third act, was boldly dramatic.

Seeing is believing—without doubt you can buy Cooking and Heating Stoves at almost any price at JACOBI'S.

The Coon Club.

The Coon Club indulged in a hunt on Wednesday night. Owing to the scarcity of coons or, rather, to the fact that it was intimated in the hearing of the dogs that the president and their keeper had joined Mr. Bergh's society to prevent cruelty to animals, the sagacious canines refused to take the trail and the Coon Club came back minus game. Dunc said it wa'n't Wright and would catch a coon next hunt if it took a Carr load of dogs. The members Pat-tered and encoured him and by a rising vote required the Secretary to spread the speech upon the minutes of the Club.
