The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up only 378 bales.

Don't forget the N. Y. Enamel Paint, ready mixed and warranted, at JACOB'S.

The Knights of Honor meet to-night at 7 1/2 o'clock for the purpose of conferring degrees.

Note.—Be suspicious of persons who

A bale of cotton in front of Capt. Jas.
 B. Huggins' store on Market street was discovered to be on fire last evening about 7 o'clock. The fire was soon extinguished and the bale very slightly damaged. It is thought that canteen crackers did it.

Have you seen the latest Improved Heating and Cook Stoves at JACOB'S? You can get them at factory prices.

"Phalarepodens Club."

The above named Club will have about forty "birds" on exhibition at Klein's Gardens on Xmas day. They are said to be the best stock in this section of the country. They will get together during the day, but the principal part of the fun can be seen in the afternoon.

Rice birds are about played out. Not so with those Scotch soles at ROSENTHAL'S.
 They last for ever.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

DEAR SIR—Our attention has been called to an article in your issue of the 21st inst, entitled "One Day's Trade," in which you stated that "a number of our enterprising merchants made a virtue of necessity, and threw open their doors on Sunday last to accommodate a number of laborers from Florida en route for their homes in various parts of the State who were detained here on that day," and we, the undersigned merchants and citizens, fearing that your article, which, while it deprecates the necessity, condones the fault, may produce the impression upon the minds of the general public, here and elsewhere, that such practice and sentiment are held in common by all of our business community we desire to express our unqualified disapproval of the act, and in so doing we feel assured that we but reflect the sentiments of all our citizens who have the religious and moral welfare of our city at heart.

 JOHN McLAURIN.

The above was received by us this morning through the Postoffice and as we presume that its publication is desired we give it place here. As for our having "condoned" the "fault" such was not our intention. We were not sitting in judgment on the fact, neither one way nor the other. Such was not, and is not, our province. We merely narrated the incident as it occurred and the result which followed. Were it our business to record all of the violations of the law, moral and Mosaic, on Sunday we would have but little room for anything else on Monday.
 We have only to add, for the Review, that we, as its editor, endeavor conscientiously to cease from all labor on that day and that the rules to that effect in this office are absolute and imperative.

Pender Court.

The Pender County Supreme Court which has been in session during the week closed its session yesterday. There were two capital cases for trial, that of Aaron Tate and—Bryant, both colored, charged with burglary. The defendants, through their counsel, submitted to a verdict of larceny and the accused were sentenced to a long term in the "pen." His Honor, Judge Gudger, left for his home this morning and carried with him the good wishes and blessings of the bar.

We advise our friends to call at JACOB'S for real Silver Plated Tea and Table Spoons and Forks, Roger's Ivory handled Table Knives, Pen and Pocket Knives. All for Christmas and at the lowest prices.

FEARFUL CATASTROPHE.

Terrible Accident on the Carolina Central Railroad.

Late yesterday afternoon our city was full of rumors that an appalling accident, which involved a large loss of human life, had occurred on the Western division of the Carolina Central Railroad, and although it was known at the time that no one from this city was on the ill-fated train, yet still, such was the natural sympathy of the warm hearts who heard the harrowing story of the disaster as it was first told, that it caused a thrill of horror to pervade every breast, and groups of anxious sympathizers could be seen standing on the streets discussing the terrible nature of the fearful accident. Finally, the intelligence came that Mr. Harry Johnson, son of Captain V.
 Q. Johnson, the Superintendent, who was the conductor of the train, and who had been reported as killed, had escaped unharned. This lifted the cloud of gloom a little. Then came other gratifying intelligence that instead of the whole train of passengers being all killed, as was at first supposed, there were only one or two lives lost. This, though very bad indeed, was accepted as a great improvement on the first news.

The accident occurred beyond Lincolnton, about four miles, on what is known as the Indian Creek trestle. The entire train, consisting of three loaded freight cars, one baggage and one mail car, and a passenger coach, went through the trestle and fell a distance of 60 feet to the ground. The engine becoming disconnected in some way remained on the track; it is thought that the engine had passed over safely just as the cars fell through. Capt. Johnson left here immediately last night upon hearing the news, for the scene of the disaster.
 This morning he telegraphed from Lincolnton that Messrs. Smith, of New York, and Goodson, of Statesville, were killed and burned, together with Mr. Bloom, the Mail Agent, and a colored train hand, Jim Warlock. Bill McKenzie, another train hand, was also killed but his body was recovered. There were two passengers on the train who escaped with slight wounds.
 Captain Harry Johnson, the conductor, went down with the wreck but by a miracle escaped unhurt. The entire train of six cars in all was burnt to ashes and there is nothing now left but the iron.
 The coal stove, it is supposed, set fire to the train.

The cause of the accident, Capt. Johnson telegraphs, he has not as yet been able to determine.

This is indeed the most terrible and heart-rending accident we have had to chronicle for many a day. We trust the time may never come when we shall have to write an account of a similar occurrence in this section of our country.

During the Holidays buy useful articles such as Christmas Fire Dogs, Shovels and Tongs, Fluting Machines, &c. All at the

Put in for Coal.

The steamship Benefactor, Captain Jones, hence for New York, last Saturday, put in at Norfolk yesterday for coal. She will sail from the latter named place to-day and will be due in New York to-morrow. Head winds, and a plenty of them we suppose, is what Captain Jones has had to contend against ever since he left here, being able to make but little headway, until his supply of coal gave out, when he had to make Norfolk for a fresh supply.
 This may delay the Benefactor's departure on her return trip one day later than her usual time.

They were walking by the seaside, and he sighed and she sighed; and she was by his side, and he by her side, and they were beside themselves, besides being at the seaside, where she sighed and he sighed.

 morrow (Friday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock, from the residence next the corner of Sixth and Chestnut streets, thence to Oakdale respectfully invited to attend.

 Claus entertainment at the head of
