The Prohibition Meeting.

A Disappointment.

We are truly sorry to hear that Father Ryan, the Poet-Priest, is sick in Richmond, with an inflamed throat, and that he is therefore obliged to postpone all engagements. The announcement for Friday evening at the Opera House in this city has therefore been withdrawn but we trust that it is merely a pleasure postponed and not foregone.

Beath of Rt. Rev Thos Atkinson. The announcement of the death of this venerable prelate, this saintly man of God, though not altogether unexpected has fallen with crushing force upon the hearts of our whole people, irrespective of cr. e la or denominations. No man ever enjoyed in a greater degree the respect and esteem of the community than he, and justly so, for he was preeminent in all the virtues that adorn the character of the Christian minister and the Christian gentleman. It is seldom that a combination of such rare excellencies centre in a single individual; some trifing defect, either of morals or of intellect, not infrequently mars the beauty of a character that would otherwise be spotless, but in Bishop At kinson there was a harmony and a completeness, a rounded fullness of propertions that placed him far above the ordinary level of mankind. He was truly a great man and remarkable in this, that in whatever circle he moved whether in the Church, in society or the Such is the interest taken in the pro- crowded thoroughfares of life, he exercised a mighty influence, and that influence was always for good. His example was the reflex of the precepts he in culcated, and his highest aim in life was to search out the right and do it, for the right's sake. As a pulpit orator, he was distinguished for keen powers of analysis, sound logic and cogent reasoning; his dicative of the hold that the movement is style was more conversational than de clamatory, not disdaining ornament but using it simply by way of illustra-The meeting was opened with prayer tion, and yet his oratory was oftimes by Rev.T. Taylor, power lay in the faculty he possessed of was called to the Chair with Messrs D. impressing all who heard him with the fact of his sincerity; he believed what he taught, he practiced what he preached, and this had its influence, and a very great one upon all with whom he came in contact. Bishop Atkinson's descent was English, his grandfather having been a clergymen of the Established Church. He hearty sympathy with the movement and was bern at the family estate of Mansfield, near Petersburg, Va., on the 6th Rev. Dr. Yates offered the following of August, 1807, and was consequently 73 years and 5 months old. He was educated at Yale College and at Hamp den Sidney, Va., and graduated at the latter institution. He studied law and received a license for its practice in 1828 but afterwards studied theology. After the usual preparations for the sacred ministry he was admitted to the Diaconate in the autumn of 1837 in the Monumental Church of Richmond, Va by the venerable Bishop Richard Channing Moore, of that Diocese. In the spring of 1838 Bishop William Meade, of the some Diocese, received him to the Priesthood in Christ

The presiding Bishop and chief consecrator was the Rt. Rev. Thomas C. Brownell, D. D., I.L. D. Bishop of Connecticut. He was assisted in the act of consecration by the Rt. Rev. Geo. T. Spencer, D. D. late (English) Bishop of Madras, John Medley, D. D. (Eng.) Bishop of Frederickton, Chas. P. Mc-Illvaine, D. D., Bishep of Ohio, Geo. W. Doane, D. D. L.L.D. Bishop, of New Jersey, S. A. McCoskry, D. D., Bishop of Michigan and Jas. H. Otey, Bishop of Tennessee.

Bishop Atkinson, after 'a very brief interval of preparation, came to his Diodese. A short time he resided at Raleigh but upon the presentation by the parish of St. James, Wilmington, to the Diocese of an Episcopal residence removed to this city where has since lived. His degree of Doctor of Divinity Was conferred by Trinity College, Hartford and that of Doctor of Laws at Cambridge, England. Bishop Atkinson practiced law nine ears and had already attained a prominent position in that profession when his mind was turned to a sacred calling. He was one of a large family, his father and mother having had a eleven children-six sons and five daugters. Three brothers and five sisters survive the venerable prelate; and three of the sisters are older than the Bishop. With the exception of Rev. Dr. Atkinson, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Raleigh, the surviving brothers and sisters all reside in Virginia. Bishop Atkinson was married in Petersburg, in 1828, to Miss Josepha G. Wilder, the daughter of John and Jane Wilder. . He lenves behind him an afflicted and devoted wife, the companion and helper of his life time and two sons and a daughterwho truly rise up and call him blessed. The death of this holy man of God than whom, we sincerely believe, no better man, since the days of the Apostles, Saints and Martyrs, ever breathed the breath of life, was as quiet, calm and peaceful as that of a little child sinking suddenly to sleep in its mother's arms. He had long been a sufferer with an affection of the heart and his lungs, it is said, were also affected, but no murmur, no word of complaint, was ever heard to issue from his lips. He died last night about 9 o'clock. He had retired and his daughter, Mrs. Buell, had been reading to him from the Bible, when in endeavoring to turn over in bed to speak to Mrs. Atkinson, he stopped, fell back on his pillow, gave a gasp and a sigh and "fell on sleep." Ab! well said the Psalmist : "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints." The funeral services will probably take place on Friday next, from St James' Church, the interment to be in Oakdale Cemetery. Bishop Lay, of Easton, Md., has already telegraphed to say that he will be here. Bishop Lyman will certainly come, and the Bishops of the neighboring Dioceses will be invited. It is probable also that many of the clergy of the State will be here on the sad occasion. Water street merchants will keep their feet dry in Winter by wearing R sEN-
