A bit of sunshine cheered us all this afternoon but how it will be to-morrow, this deponent dares not say.

An india rubber glove was lost on Front street on Saturday. The finder will please leave it at this office.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the First National Bank of Wilmington will be held in this city to-morrow.

The Lot-owners in Oakdale Cemetery will meet this evening in annual session, for the election of a President and a Board of Directors for the ensuing year.

We learn that Sullivan's Operetta "A Trial by Jury" will be rendered at the Opera House in a short time by ladies and gentlemen of this city.

We would like to see a chromo of the man who invented the dance called the racquet. We suppose we would have to haul in a lunatic asylum for the inventor.

Bishop Lay, of Easton, Md., preached in St. James' Church yesterday morning and Bishop Lyman, of this diocese, in St. John's last night. Notwithstanding the very inclement weather there were large congregations on each occasion.

Tiney McIlhenry, a crazy colored man who escaped from the Insane department of the Poor House last week, was captured on Saturday night near the Gas Works by Officers Capps and Allen and carried to the Guard House where he was detained until this morning, when he was returned to his old quarters.

What's the use sitting all day in the house with a bad cold or hacking cough when Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure you in a short time?

Two Blacking Boys Fight. A couple of colored boot-blacks, who engaged in a little set-to yesterday (Sunday) morning, near the corner of Second and Market streets, were taken to the Guard House by a policeman and kept confined until last night, when they were released with a strong admonition from the Chief of Police to go and sin no more.

Have you seen the latest improved Heating and Cook Stoves at JACOBI'S? You can get them at factory prices.

Sudden and Serious Illness. We regret to learn of the sudden and serious illness of Mr. Donald McRae, of this city. Mr. McRae was taken Thursday night last with hemorrhage of the stomach and has since then been seriously and frequently similarly attacked. His physician pronounces his condition very critical, but entertains hopes of his ultimate recovery. He is thought to be better and is resting quiet to-day.

Readings and Recitations. We have received from Messrs. P. Garrett & Co., publishers, 708 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Vol. No. 18 of the "100 Choice Selections Series." It is a little gem, containing many of the latest and best things for declamation, public recitals, parlor reading and social entertainment. Every number contains 100 selections and is complete in itself. Price 30 cents for each number.

A Delusion Trap placed in a house will quietly catch a cunning mouse. Call at JACOBI'S for them.

Extra Copies. We were unable to supply the demand for last Friday's issue of the REVIEW containing an account of the funeral services at St. James' Church on that day over the remains of Bishop Atkinson, and this, too, notwithstanding the large number of extra copies we printed. The account, as published in the REVIEW, will be transferred to our weekly, the WILMINGTON JOURNAL, to be printed on Thursday next, and those who may desire copies of the paper will please leave word with us at once. We shall issue only a limited number of extra copies of the JOURNAL as this is with us not a matter of speculation but of accommodation.

Election of Field Officers.

The annual election for Field Officers of the 2d Regiment, North Carolina State Guard, takes place in Charlotte to-morrow, the 11th inst. Second Lieut. James C. Munds, of the Wilmington Light Infantry, will leave here for Charlotte this evening and will carry with him the proxy of the officers of the W. L. I.

New Sharpie. Mr. R. H. Beery is engaged in building a sharpie for Mr. A. Thomas, of New Haven, Conn., who is now in this city. The frame is up and is ready for boarding. She has a fifty-five foot keel, is sixty-eight feet over all and is twenty feet beam. She is to be schooner-rigged and when completed will be taken to New Haven, Conn.

This Evening. It will not be forgotten that an address on Temperance will be delivered at the Opera House this evening, free to all who may desire to hear it. We think that we can promise that those who may go will be well entertained. Captain Thompson is thoroughly at home on this subject and the gentlemen of the committee will be glad to see a large turnout.

Across the Continent. Despite the inclement weather a good audience assembled at the Opera House on Saturday night to witness the performance of the Oliver Doud Byron troupe in "Across the Continent." The play is a highly sensational one and was much enjoyed by the audience. The troupe is composed of a versatility of talent and each member sustained his role with satisfaction to the audience. Messrs Banks and Radcliffe, in their specialties, were very fine. The closing scene was a hand to hand fight with the Indians, and the Ferret put in his work well and in time. Come and see us again, Mr. Byron.

The Prohibition Delegates. The Chairman of the prohibition meeting held at the Opera House last Tuesday evening has, in conformity with the authority vested in him by the meeting, named the following gentlemen as delegates to the Prohibition Convention to be held in Raleigh on Wednesday, next, viz: Delegates—Hon. S. H. Fishblate, Gen. S. H. Manning, Capt. N. F. Thompson, B. G. Worth, B. F. Mitchell, Col. Roger Moore, Capt. W. M. Parker, Jas. H. Chadbourne, Alex. Sprunt, E. Gerry Barker. Alternates—Geo. R. French, W. Latimer, L. T. Beatty, M. M. Katz, John McLaurin, Dr. A. M. Baldwin, Dan. O'Conner, Samuel Northrop, H. M. Bowden, Preston Cumming.

A No Fence Law for New Hanover. We understand that petitions are being circulated in every township in this county, requesting the General Assembly to enact a no-fence law for New Hanover. It is said by those interested in the movement that it is being signed very freely and that the sentiment of the people is in its favor. New Hanover is not much of a grazing county and it is said (we have not looked up the valuation for ourselves) that the value of cattle in the county does not exceed $25,000, whereas the estimate is that the fences necessary to keep these cattle out of the crops cost about $150,000. If the law is obtained the county fence necessary to separate New Hanover county from Pender county will be only about nine miles in length, extending from a point on Topsail sound across to the Northeast river. This fence will cost, at the estimated rate of $100 to the mile, say $1,000. In every other direction the water ways can be made lawful fences. The friends of this movement are sanguine of its success. Of course, nearly everybody understands the workings of the no-fence law. It is very simple. Instead of fencing the crops in and the cattle out, the cattle are to be fenced in and the crops out.

Guilty of a Song. Some people have a fashion of confusing excellent remedies with the large mass of "patent medicines," and in this they are guilty of a wrong. There are some advertised remedies fully worth all that is asked for them, and one at least we know of—Hop Bitters. The writer has had occasion to use the Bitters in just such a climate as we have most of the year in Bay City, and has always found them to be first-class and reliable, doing all that is claimed for them.—Tribune.

Severe Storm.

The steamtugs May T. White and Lightning, with scows in tow, from Baltimore bound to Savannah, encountered a severe gale on Saturday, while off Fry-Pan Shoals. The seas ran very high, and the wind was blowing about 30 miles an hour from the east-nor-east. The scows in tow had to be turned adrift to save the tugs. The Captains and crews almost gave up all hopes and made up their minds that they would go to Davy Jones' locker, but the tugs weathered the storm and were in port this afternoon coaling up.

The steam tug Blanche was also in the storm and had in tow a dredging machine. She managed to get into port with her tow but it was thought she would go under every minute. She will go out in the morning in search of the drifting scows. It is not known whether the White and Lightning will go on to Savannah or be ordered back from here to Baltimore. The dredging machine and scows were intended for work on the river and harbor improvements at Savannah. The scows were valued at $15,000.

We advise our friends to call at JACOBI'S for real Silver Plated Tea and Table Spoons and Forks, Roger's Ivory handled Table Knives, Pen and Pocket Knives. All for Christmas and at the lowest prices.

Planets in January.

Jupiter is evening star, and takes the first place among the planetary brotherhood during the month, on account of the disturbing elements in action on his cloud surface that seem to show a direct relationship between him and the sun. Venus is evening star and is bewitchingly beautiful as she hangs for three hours after sunset in the western sky. She will continue through the month to oscillate on her eastern path, receding further from the sun, approaching the earth and increasing in size and brightness. Saturn is evening star, and reaches his quadrature, or half-way house, between opposition and conjunction, on the 12th. Mars is morning star, travelling slowly from the sun and approaching the time when his brighter phase will attract attention from observers. Uranus is morning star, and is coming towards us, but there is nothing in his movements of special interest to observers. Mercury is morning star until the 26th, when he comes in superior conjunction with the sun, passes to his eastern side, and becomes evening star. He rises now about 6 1/2 o'clock. The January moon falls on the 15th having commenced her course on the last day of the old year. She will form a succession of beautiful tableaux, in connection with the grand trio of planets that will reign in the western evening sky.

During the Holidays buy useful articles such as Christmas Fire Dogs, Shovels and Tongs, Fluting Machines, &c. All at the lowest prices at JACOBI'S.

The Sunday Magazine for February.

This is the second number of the ninth volume of this excellent periodical, which is now conducted, we see, by the Rev. Alfred Taylor, an experienced correspondent and editor. The former editor of the Sunday Magazine, Rev. Dr. Deems, will, it is announced, be henceforth a regular contributor, and other attractive features have been added which will increase its already great popularity. The present number is literally crowded with good things, of which our space will only permit a general notice. "The Temperance movement," by Alfred H. Guernsey, "Missionary Successes in Tahiti," by the Rev. Daniel Edwards, "Characteristics of the Esquimaux," are replete with interest and information, and liberally illustrated. "Hard Places in the Bible," by Rev. Dr. Deems; "Women of the Bible," "International Sunday School Lessons," "The Home Pulpit," etc., are among the many noteworthy features. In the department of fiction "Out of the World" is continued, and there are several short stories, sketches, essays and poems by distinguished writers. The miscellany is unusually abundant. In fact, the number is a rarely attractive one in its literary and artistic features, and highly creditable to the editor. It contains 128 quarto pages and over 100 illustrations. $3 a year; single copy, 25 cents—postpaid. Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

Water street merchants will keep their feet dry in Winter by wearing ROSENTHAL'S boots and shoes.

W. A. TITUS, 62 Ashland Avenue, Toledo, Ohio, says:—My wife is now as strong as ever, her regained health being directly due to the use of the Excelsior Kidney Pad. We can heartily recommend it to all kidney troubled persons.—See Adv.

IN MEMORIAM.

Fell asleep on Saturday, January 1st, 1881, Mrs. E. L. LLOYD, widow of the late Walter Lloyd, of Columbus Co., N. C. "The strongest light casts deepest shade. The dearest love makes dearest loss." The shadow of Death has passed over a loved household and there is darkness upon the hearts of his affectionate ones. But death to the Christian is without sting—it is but passing on from a earthly home into another that is fairer and full of peace. Thus it was with the pious hand-maid of the Lord, whose mortal life ended on the first morning of a new year. The writer of this humble tribute from early childhood knew and loved her as possessed of all those virtues which adorn and make beautiful the life of woman. Singularly gentle and kind, she was many friends both young and old, and none departed from her hospitable roof without bearing away a portion of heart sunshine, which she diffused in kindly smiles and words in which she spelt it of love for mankind was plainly manifested. Living actively in the sacred retirement of "the me," the full beauty of her character was appreciated best by those whose daily privilege it was to enjoy her sweet and loving counsel, filled as it was with the blessed hope of an eternity of peace and anticipated joy of meeting loved ones who had crossed the River before her. Let us thank God for the army of Christian mothers who having "fought the fight," as we passed on to behold Immanuel's face, making memory's path bright and glowing with deeds and acts of love, and while tears unbidden rise, let us accept this consolation under all the sorrows of this transient life—"Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning"—a morning without clouds, glorious eternal for "God shall be our everlasting Light, and the days of our mourning shall be ended!"
