The weather seems settled at last. To-day opened with clouds and fogs but closes with sunshine and soft dews. A week or two of such weather now would make us all young again.

We notice that Tom, Dick and Harry are now appearing with their Grandfather's recipes for Coughs, etc. and seeking fortunes through advertising, but the people know the value of Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup and will take no other.

There is a rushing business in diaries just now. From time immemorial every young man and woman begins a diary with the new year, and 1881 is no exception to the rule.

How to be your own painter: Buy the N. Y. Enamel Paint, ready mixed and warranted at JACOBI'S.

Mr. Henry Nutt, of this city, was in Raleigh on Friday, and the News and Observer has something very handsome to say of him in connection with his labors as Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee on River and Bar Improvement Works.

Overboard.
A little white girl tumbled into the river this morning at the foot of Walnut street. She was standing on a piece of lumber in Messrs. Altaffer, Price & Co's. dock, and lost her balance. As she rose she clung to the timber and pulled herself out of the water.

You can now buy Improved Heating and Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.

Gen. M. P. Taylor received here a letter last Saturday from Adjutant-General Johnstone Jones, informing him that the proposed military display at the inauguration of Gov. Jarvis has been abandoned. The principal reason alleged is the distressing weather which has prevailed and the fearful condition of the streets in Raleigh, which renders them almost impassable to pedestrians.

We advise our friends to call at JACOBI'S for Household Hardware of every description. There you get the lowest prices.

City Court.
Minnie Williams, a habitue of Paddy's Hollow, was arraigned for being drunk and down. His Honor suspended judgment, however, in this instance owing to the recent good deportment of the defendant, up to the time of the last offence.

Several butchers were arraigned for non-payment of license tax. One of defendants who persisted in his refusal to pay, was fined $25 by the Court and sent below to the guard room. Subsequently, however, we learn that defendant agreed to pay his delinquent tax, when the Mayor remitted the fine, but required the offender to pay the costs in the case.

It is but justice to the parties who were arraigned before the Court this morning to say that they signified their willingness at first, before the Court passed sentence upon them to pay their taxes if the law was enforced in like manner against every other butcher doing business in the city.

Go to JACOBI'S for Doors, Sash and Blinds, pure White Lead, Oils, Varnishes, Window Glass, all sizes. All at the lowest prices.

North Carolina State Grange.

The next session of the North Carolina State Grange will be held in Raleigh, commencing on Tuesday, the first day of February next. Reduced rates over railroads and at hotels will be secured. Nearly all railroads have been heard from; agents will have instructions. The Raleigh and Gaston and Raleigh and Augusta Air-Line will sell return tickets—first class 3½ cents per mile; second, class 3 cents. The agents of these two roads will not have special instructions, but will sell at above rates. A full attendance is earnestly wished.

As Othello Have Done.

Mr. J. E. Dukes, the popular clerk of the Purcell House, will leave to-night for Raleigh but will return on Wednesday. They do say that our young friend will come back spliced and that Miss Minnie Bonner is the lady who is to share life's fate with the happy and expectant gentleman. We have noticed that our young friend was very smiling of late and in response to an inquiry as to what time the train left, he blandly answered Wednesday. Our best wishes attend you.

Sad and Fatal Accident.

Another terrible and fatal accident, due to the present man-trap method of coupling cars, occurred at Shoe Heel on the Carolina Central R. R., on last Saturday afternoon, about half-past 5 o'clock. Mr. Thomas Butler, engineer on the local freight train, while his train was at Shoe Heel stopped in between two of the cars to couple them, when his foot tripped and he fell forward between the cars. The wheels passed over both of his legs, which were horribly crushed. In formation of the sad affair was telegraphed to the city and a special train was sent up that night, conveying the same physician from this city who attended to Mr. Hill's crushed arm at Abbottsburg. Several physicians from Laurinburg were also summoned and a consultation between them all resulted in the opinion that both legs must be amputated. This was accordingly done at 10 o'clock yesterday morning but to the shock to his system was so great that he sank under it and died about 12 o'clock, two hours after the amputation was performed. The remains were taken to Laurinburg, the home of the deceased, for interment.

Mr. Butler was about 40 years of age, as near as we can ascertain. He came to Laurinburg from Virginia about two years ago and secured a situation on the Carolina Central Road. He leaves a widow and three children, all girls. His life was insured, but to what amount we could not learn.

J. S. R. Scovill, Morris, Ill., says:—When your "Only Lung Pad" came to hand, my son could not raise his head. He is now up and gaining every day.—See Adv.

The Bohemian Glass Blowers

Who are to exhibit in Little Giant Hall this evening, at 7:30 o'clock, have been organized for the past thirty-five years, and are very highly spoken of by those who have seen them. The Company were present at the Philadelphia Centennial, and the various and beautiful articles which they exhibited were much admired by all who saw them. That the troupe is a good one and well worth seeing, is evidenced by the following letter from Mayor Carrington, of Richmond.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
RICHMOND, VA., December 20, '80
Col. H. M. Walsh, Manager Bohemian Glass Blowers, City:
Dear Sir—Yourself and those who are under your management have given our people a rare treat in the novel and interesting performance of glass blowing, which it would be a pity for those who have the opportunity to miss seeing. The conduct of your whole party has been free from reproach, and such as to regret the respect of those who visited your exhibition. I give you this for what such an introduction may avail you in visiting other localities, and because I think your exhibition and your performers merit patronage.

Yours very respectfully,
W. C. CARRINGTON.
As the price of admission is only 25 cents and 15 cents for children and the entertainment such a novel and interesting one, we feel that we can confidently promise the Glass Blowers large audiences during their stay here. All the beautiful ornaments are given to the audience free of charge at every exhibition. Saturday, Jan. 22, there will be a grand baby show when a beautiful case of fancy glass work will be given to the baby having the largest number of votes. Every visitor is entitled to one vote.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the Board of Magistrates of Pender county, held at Burgaw on the 10th instant, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:
WHEREAS, Since our last meeting by the inscrutable wisdom of our God, our friend and companion, Dawson T. Durham, a most useful and honored member of this Board, has been removed from our midst, therefore,

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the omniscient will of Him who doth all things well, we cannot but deplore, with deep and abiding grief, the mournful void of a loved and trusted friend, whose spirit of truth and soul of worth and noble, generous life have enshrined him forever in the liveliest affections of the heart.

Resolved, 2nd, That by the death of Dawson T. Durham this Board has lost a most trusted counsellor, the State a most valued citizen, the church a pious, useful member and his family the devoted husband, the tender father, the truest friend.

Resolved, 3rd, That we tender the afflicted family our sincerest sympathy, our high appreciation of the noble virtues of their loved and lost, and our earnest belief that he has exchanged a gloomy world of sorrowing toil for the radiant realms of celestial happiness in which Hope paints for them in the glowing colors of a sublime and immortal faith the glad reunion and the eternal rest.

Resolved, 4th, That the Chairman of this Board cause these resolutions to be recorded in our book of records—to request their publication in the Wilmington Star, Daily Review, and the Raleigh Christian Advocate, and a copy sent to the afflicted family of the lamented deceased.
