JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop. WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1861.

(REGISTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT WILMINGTON, N. C., AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.)

RATING MORE THAN A PECK OF FIRT.

At the session of the World's Fair Commission, held in the Governor's room of the City Hall, New York, on Thursday last, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization, General Grant was chosen President.

Parson Newman placed Grant in nomination, and Mr. J. M. Ogden, of Georgia, another member of the Commission, on behalf of the State of Georgia and the South generally, as he expressed it, desired to second the nomination.

Though General Grant defeated us in our late struggle, he did it by fair fighting, and even we Southern men have found that he is as generous in peace as he was in war.

Mr. Beverly, of Kentucky, must have lived in the country of Daniel Boone during the war and not in Virginia, the home of Lee and Jackson, during that period.

Another Southern member of the Commission, Mr. A. Akers, of Tennessee, seemed to be carried away also, with the enthusiasm of the moment, and he arose from his seat and pronounced the following passage upon Grant:

"The man named needs no setting in office to show him at his best. I respected him from the day when at Appomattox he refused to take the sword of that great soldier, Robert E. Lee. He will receive the hearty and able support of every man from the South."

All of which sounds very pretty and would be prettier still if true, but unfortunately for Mr. Akers and General Grant, it lacks that very essential element. There is not one word of truth in the statement that General Grant declined to take the sword of General Lee when the latter offered it to him in terms of surrender at their interview at Appomattox.

Coupons are not cut by us this year. Railroads have long trains and are trimmed with rich dividends. The sole makes a very pretty fish. Checks are very fashionable the first week in January.

"SIT" and "Set." Many of the agricultural journals are sorely troubled to know whether a hen sits or sets. If some editor of dignity would set a hen on the nest, and the editors would let her sit, it would be well for the world.

there is any longer any doubt upon this subject let the archives be searched at Washington and the original terms of agreement between the two Generals be brought to the light of day.

From the Goldsboro Messenger we glean some items of interest relative to the colored Insane Asylum, located near that town. They are taken from the report of Dr. Vick, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Asylum, with the reports of the Superintendent of the Institution and Col. S. L. Fremont, the architect of the building, appended thereto.

The total cost of the property is $42,000, which includes the price paid for 175 acres of land, the cost of the buildings, water-works, gas-fixture furniture, etc.

Did you ever know any person to be ill, without inaction of the stomach, liver or kidneys, or did you ever know he who was well when either was obstructed or inactive; and did you ever know or hear of any case of the kind that Hop Bitters would not cure? Ask your neighbor this same question—Times.

Answer This. Did you ever know any person to be ill, without inaction of the stomach, liver or kidneys, or did you ever know he who was well when either was obstructed or inactive; and did you ever know or hear of any case of the kind that Hop Bitters would not cure? Ask your neighbor this same question—Times.

Bosom friends—shirt studs. Epitaph for a cannibal—"Oae who loved his fellow-men."

Our frontier must be more closely guarded. There has been something too much of Canadian weather smuggled over the border this winter.—Boston Transcript.

Sunday-school teacher (r provokingly)—"Boys, do you know what day this is?" Street boy—"Hi, fellers! here's a cove don't know what day this is! I guess he's been out' all night!"

Father Time is pictured as an old bald-headed gentleman; but he manages to skip around quite lively all the same, in spite of being handicapped by agricultural implements.

It is not the lucky individual who draw the prize who declares that lotteries are wicked and should be suppressed. Nor is it the man who gets elected who says there was "fraud at the polls."—Norristown Herald.

A millionaire, who was looking at a level tract of land which he had just bought at an extravagant price, said to the agent who had sold it to him, "I do admire a rich green flat." "So do I," significantly replied the agent.

It is proposed to have girls for pages in the Ohio Legislature. The male population has been exhausted by the continual drain occasioned by the demand for Ohio men for public offices.—Boston Transcript.

John's wife and J. do were tote-a tote. "The city was, industrious he says John: 'I've earned the bread we ate.' 'And I,' says she, 'have ur'd the tea.'"

An exuberant youth hails a supposed acquaintance with "Hello, Joe!" but, finding his mistake, adds: "O, excuse me; I thought you were another man!" Laconic stranger answers: "I am!"

Nautical Husband: [jokingly]—"Oh, I'm the mainstay of the family." Wife—"Yes, and I'm the jibboom and the— and the—." Small boy (from experience)—"And the spunker, too, mamma!" [Applause.]

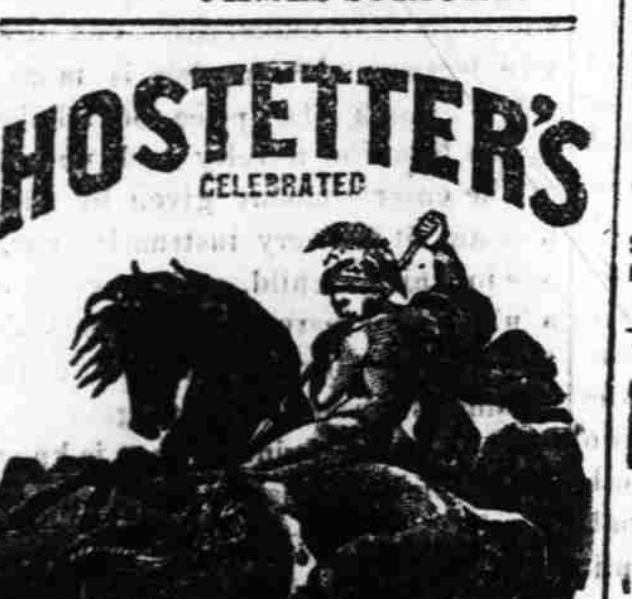

General Lee once after the surrender indignantly denied that he had ever offered General Grant his sword, adding that the only remark made about a sword during the interview with General Grant was Grant's apology for meeting him (General Lee) without his sword on.

"New Fangled Notions" may not work injury to people when they relate to matters of little consequence, but when entertained as to what we shall take when afflicted with serious disease they may lead to dear experience. Don't, therefore, trifle with diseases of the blood, manifested by eruptions, blotches, scrofulous and other swellings and grave symptoms, but take that well tested efficacious remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the greatest blood-purifier of the age. If the bowels are very constive, use also Dr. Pierce's Pellets (little sugar-coated pills).

CURES FEVER AND AGUE. PLEASANT VALLEY, JO DAVIES CO., Ill., March 31st, 1879.

Dr. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sir— I write this to inform you that my child, one year old, has been permanently cured of the fever and ague in a week's time, and the use of but half a bottle of your Golden Medical Discovery. My wife, a long sufferer from liver complaint and biliousness, by the use of the Discovery and Pellets has been entirely relieved. The Discovery has never disappointed us for coughs and colds.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED BITTERS. Sleep, Appetite, and Strength. Return when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is used by a bilious dyspeptic sufferer. Moreover, since the brain, as well as closely with the stomach and its associate organs, the liver and the bowels, as their derangement is rectified by the action of the Bitters, mental despondency produced by the derangement disappears.
