The cotton receipts at this port to-day foot up only 97 bales.
 Wood, eggs and country produce are scarce and high in this market.
 Mr. Jos. E. Moss will give a free lecture at the City Hall next week.
 The barque Moring sailed from Liverpool on the 18th inst., for this port.
 When will the hucksters' boxes and barrels be removed from the sidewalks?
 The storm signal was flying to-day and the wind was blowing fresh from the west.
 We understand that the market carts are to be removed to the New Market next week.

We advise our friends to call at JACOBI'S for Household Hardware of every description. There you get the lowest prices.
 It thundered and lightened last night and our old citizens say you can look out for cold weather.
 It is to be hoped that the Legislature will pass a bill for the erection of a public hospital in this city.

The work on the U. S. Marine Hospital is progressing nicely under the management of Mr. D. M. Dart.
 Messrs King and Lusch, song and dance men, who have been traveling with the San Francisco Minstrels, were in the city to-day en route for New York.
 The exports foreign to-day foot up 514 casks spirits turpentine, 4 990 barrels rosin and 278,252 feet of lumber. The shippers are Messrs Paterson, Downing & Co. and Parsley & Wiggins.

When a man of family finds himself attacked by a violent cold, it is his duty to relieve the anxiety of his wife and children and seek a remedy immediately. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup costs only 25 cents a bottle and a few doses will give instant relief.
 The mass meeting called for this evening, at the City Hall, will most likely be largely attended, now that the weather is more pleasant. The object is to form a County Prohibition Society, as auxiliary to the State Prohibition Society.
 Ladies, the best fit and the easiest shoes for the little ones are at ROSENTHAL'S.

Personal.
 We were glad to meet to-day with our esteemed young friend, Mr. Adam G. Latta, formerly of this city but now a resident of Savannah. Mr. Latta is on a short visit to his relatives and friends in Wilmington.
 How to be your own painter: Buy the N. Y. Enamel Paint, ready mixed and warranted at JACOBI'S.
 The Late Bishop Atkinson.
 The current number of Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper contains an excellent likeness of the late Bishop Atkinson, and also a biographical sketch of the deceased. The former is taken from a photograph furnished by Messrs Yates & Orr and the latter from the account of the Bishop's death, as published in the columns of the REVIEW. In fact, it was taken bodily from our paper but we fail to find any credit given therefor.
 Ladies who appreciate elegance and purity are using Parker's Hair Balsam. It is the best article sold for restoring gray hair to its original color and beauty.

Railroad to the Sound.
 We feel assured now that in a very short time Wilmington will have a railroad to the Sound. Within the past week two of our prominent merchants and a practical builder have organized themselves into a stock company for the purpose of building the road, and work will be commenced in a short time. The gentlemen composing the company have raised the necessary money among themselves and will not depend upon subscriptions to complete the road. In fact, we understand not a dollar's worth of the stock can be purchased. We are glad to know that we will at last have a railroad to the Sound and are well satisfied it will be a paying institution.

Go to JACOBI'S for Doors, Sash and Blinds, pure White Lead, Oils, Varnishes, Window Glass, all sizes. All at the lowest prices.
 In the first place, the temperature of the wall of any building at any hour of the night or day is not the true temperature of the circulating air, and is of no use to science. A wood wall will radiate its heat more rapidly than brick or stone, and the amateur scientist who hangs his thermometer on a wood wall can force his mercury down below the amateur who selects a brick wall. The proper way to expose your thermometer is to surround it with a light wood frame, covered with slats, like shutter work, and roofed over. This will protect it from the direct rays of the sun and reflected heat. Run a light wood bar across the centre of your shelter, to which you can attach the thermometer, which should be, when properly exposed, on the north side of the building, and at least one foot from all surrounding objects. If these directions are followed, erroneous reports of extreme cold weather will not find their way into print so often.
 Water street merchants will keep their feet dry in Winter by wearing ROSENTHAL'S boots and shoes.
 General Imboden's Visit to Wilmington and its Probable Results
 The News and Observer, in referring to General Imboden's visit to this city and the object of the same, remarks very sententiously that: "He comes into the State unheralded and does not stand in the lobbies of the capitol. He means business, and he is our man."
 From a gentleman who was one of the party with General Imboden and Mr. Hyndman down the river a few days ago, we learn that these gentlemen were struck with wonder and amazement at the immensity of the undertaking as well as with the grand success of the skillful engineering which has succeeded in closing New Inlet and placing a stone wall as an impregnable barrier against any further encroachment upon the beach by the waves of the sea, thereby increasing the volume of water in the river as it flows out of the only remaining outlet on the Western bar, increasing the depth of water to eighteen feet already. These improvements to our bar, which were begun under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce in this city, with the assistance of the general government in the way of appropriations from time to time to prosecute the work, are at last, we hope, about to be fruitful to our city of substantial benefits, and among those who have been instrumental in securing this end, there is no one, we believe, who deserves more credit than Mr. Henry Nutt, Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Committee on River and Bar Improvements, and Hon. A. H. VanBokkelen, the present President of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Nutt, we understand, was the means of inducing General Imboden and Mr. Hyndman to extend their visit from Raleigh, whether they had gone in favor of another port in a different State, to visit our city. And from all we can gather these gentlemen are decidedly in favor now of an outlet for their immense mineral treasures through Wilmington. Their personal examination of the condition of our port convinced them that this port is equal in capacity for the extensive business they propose, besides having the great advantage of being several hundred miles nearer to their possessions. We have heard it stated that these gentlemen would make a proposition to the Carolina Central Railroad to lay a third rail on their track, so they could form a connection with them by means of the Narrow Gauge Railroad which they have begun, and run their cars straight through to Wilmington without a transfer. But if their propositions fail with the Carolina Central and the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroads, then they say if the Legislature will grant them a charter they will build a road themselves. Now, this sounds like business sure enough. Come and see us again, gentlemen, and let us plan out the good work together.
 We will publish the Maine Liquor Law next week. It is claimed by its friends to be the most complete law of the kind on the statute book of any State. Those desiring extra copies will please make it known at once, so that we may know how to regulate the issue.
 Indications.
 For the South Atlantic States, local rains, followed by clearing weather, rising barometer, winds shifting to west and northwest and stationary or a slight fall in barometer.

How to Hang a Thermometer.

Robbery.
 About dark last evening a colored man went into a store near the corner of Third and Orange streets, kept by Pasquale Pascucci, and ordered of the storekeeper's wife, who was tending store, some meat, meal, etc., which was tied up and placed in a bag. The man suddenly remembered that he needed flour and as that was being scooped out of a barrel, which was under the counter, the man lit out with his booty and disappeared under the cover of darkness. The thief evidently knew that there was no one about but Mrs. Pascucci, and embraced the opportunity to lay in his week's supply of staples.
St Down on Him.
 "Doctor" Scott, the Republican Senator from this district, is very active just now in the Legislature. On Tuesday he introduced a bill in regard to the inspection of naval stores and timber in this city, and on Wednesday he brought in a bill to repeal chapter 242 of the laws of 1876-77; or, in other words, to repeal the act establishing the Criminal Court in the county of New Hanover. Mr. Scott, it is needless to say, does not speak the sentiments of our people. Nobody hereabouts has authorized him to interfere either with the inspection of naval stores and timber or the administration of justice in the county. Somebody should sit down on "Doctor" Scott.
 You can now buy Improved Heating and Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.
The Glass Blowers.
 The glass blowers will close their engagement in this city to-morrow evening. They have been greeted at each entertainment with large audiences. To-morrow afternoon they will give a matinee and at night their doors will be open again. At these entertainments each visitor will be presented with a specimen of glass work. To-morrow night the result of the baby voting will be decided by a committee from the audience and the baby receiving the largest number of votes will be awarded the case of glass ornaments. The following are the names of the leading babies and the votes received up to last night:
 Daisy Newbury, 84; Carrie B. Harris, 79; Lizzie Robinson, 48; Susie Parsley, 35; Louise S. King, 35; Meta Le Grand, 27; Mary B. Worth, 26; Lucille Murchison, 25; R. M. Grant, 18; Ada V. Davis, 15; Annie Bowden, 14. Lulu DeRosset, 13; Emmet DeRosset, 13; Louis Cutlar, 12; Edward F. Gause, 12; Lizzie May Northrop, 12; Mary McKoy, 11; Emma P. West, 10; Edward Parmelee, 10; Charlie Nebane, 10; Marion Birdsey, 8.
 The others having from one to eight votes each are not named.
Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.
 The February number of this favorite periodical is even more than usually interesting. The leading article, "Sport and Sports in America," by Oliver Johnson, has ten excellent illustrations of Winter outdoor sports. Another admirable article, also fully illustrated, is entitled "London Hospitals and Scenes in Them," by Janet E. R. Rees. "Madagascar," by Alvan S. Southworth, "A Hunting Party in Florida," "Mollere and his World," by H. Barton Baker, "The First Voyage Around the World," and "A Shadow," by William Ackroyd, etc., are full of interest and information. The serial, "The Amber Witch," is continued, and there are numerous short stories and sketches by popular writers of great merit. Among the many excellent poems, "Angel Visits," by Charles Mackay, and "A Baby Song," by C. A. Burke, are especially good. The miscellany, of which there is an abundance, embraces a variety of subjects, and affords a vast source of entertainment and instruction. Each number of the magazine contains 128 quarto pages and over 100 embellishments, with a handsome colored frontispiece; the subject in this number is "The Sick Child," from a painting by Trayer. Single copies are sold at 25 cents each; the subscription for a year, $3; or $1.50 for six, and $1 for four months, post free. Address, Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 53, 55 & 57 Park Place, New York.
