

I AM THE LAD THAT FOLLOWS
THE FLOW.

I am the lad that follows the plow -- Robin and thrush just whistle for me --
I go to the field at early morn --
I sing to cheer the golden corn --
Robin and thrush just whistle for me --
I go to the field at early morn --

Some of the new slang is published in St. Louis. When a girl is "sick" she is knowing; when she is "lency" she is quite the reverse of knowing. If you wish to convey to your heart's idol that you adore her transcendent beauty just tell her she is "oppressive." "A Johnny boy" is a new variety of the genus hero who knows how to dance like an angel -- supposing that angels would so forget themselves as to dance -- who wears good clothes and is an idiot in every respect. The feminine equivalent of "the Johnny boy" is generally called "Evangeline." If you disapprove of a place, person or party, you may either refer to it as a "snide," "gummy" or "tippy." Excessive admiration wrecks itself upon expressions in such glosses as "balmy," "harmonious," or "galative."
"Galative" means a great many things.
It is a sort of non-committal word, which can be used to fill up a sentence or express a doubtful opinion.

Twenty Years a Sufferer.
Dr. R. V. FINCHER.
Dear Sir -- Twenty years ago I was shipwrecked on the Atlantic Ocean, and the cold and exposure caused a large abscess to form on each leg, which kept continually discharging. After spending hundreds of dollars with no benefit, I was persuaded to try your Golden Medical Discovery, and now in less than three months after taking the first bottle, I am thankful to say I am completely cured, and for the first time in ten years can put my left heel to the ground.
I am, sir, yours respectfully,
WILLIAM RYDER,
87 Jefferson Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Meaning of the Word Aryan.
We have to inquire into the meaning of the word Aryan; and this is not a difficult matter, or one about which there is much question. In Sanskrit the word arya, with a short initial a, is applied to cultivators of the soil, and it would seem to be connected etymologically with the Latin arare and the archaic English ear, "to plow." As men who had risen to an agricultural stage of civilization, the Aryans might no doubt fairly contrast themselves with their nomadic Turanian neighbors. As the Aryans, Persians, Greeks, Romans, Celts, Gauls, Teutons, and Franks, have at different times disturbed the European world. But for the real source of the word, as applied to the race, we must look further. This word arya, "a culturator of the soil," came naturally enough in Sanskrit to mean a householder or land-owner, and hence it is not strange that we find it recurring with a long initial a, as an adjective, meaning "noble" or "of good family." As a national appellative, whether in Sanskrit or Zend, this initial a is always long, and there can be no doubt that the Aryans gave themselves this title as being the noble, aristocratic or ruling race, in contradis-tinction to the aboriginal races which they brought into captivity. In this sense of noble the word frequently occurs in the composition of Persian proper names, such as Ariobarzanes, Ariaramnes and Ariarathes; just as in old English we have the equivalent word ethel, or noble, in such names as Ethel-wold and Ethelred. As an ethnic name, therefore, the word Aryan seems to have a tinge of patriotic or clanish self-satisfaction about it. But we shall find, I think, that such a shade of meaning has been more than justified by history; for we have now reached a point where we may profitably enlarge the scope of our discussion, and show how the term Aryan is properly applicable, not merely over an Indo-Persian, but over an Indo-European area, comprehending the most dominant races known to history -- the Greeks and Romans, Slavs and Teutons, with the highly-composite English, whose language and civilization are now spreading themselves with unexampled rapidity over all the hitherto uncultivated regions of the earth, which the Venetian did not care or did not know how to specify.

Asked a bright-looking man. "Oh! I feel miserable; I'm bilious and can't eat, and my back is so lame I can't work."
"Why in the world don't you take Kidney-Wort; that's what I take when I it for all such troubles." Kidney-Wort

The Sun for 1881

EVERYBODY READS THE SUN the editions of this newspaper throughout the year to come everybody will find: I -- All the world's news, so presented that the reader will get the greatest amount of information with the least unprofitable expenditure of time and weight. The Sun long ago discovered the golden mean between redundant fitness and unsatisfactory briefness.
II -- Much of that sort of news which depends less upon its recognition, importance than upon its interest to mankind. From morning to morning The Sun prints a continued story of the lives of real men and women, and of their deeds, plans, loves, hates, and troubles. This story is more varied and more interesting than any romance that was ever devised.
III -- Good writing in every column, and freshness, originality accuracy and decorum in the treatment of every subject.
IV -- An acute comment The Sun's habit is to speak out fearlessly about men and things.
V -- Equal candor in dealing with each political party, and equal readiness to commend what is praiseworthy or to rebuke what is blamable in Democrat or Republican VI -- Absolute independence of partisan organizations, but unwavering loyalty to true Democratic principles. The Sun believes that the Government of this Country gives us a good one. Its notion of duty is to resist in its utmost power the efforts of men in the Republican party to set up another form of government in place of that which exists. The year 1881 and the years immediately following will probably decide this supremely important contest. The Sun believes that the victory will be with the people against the Kings of monopoly, the Kings for plunder, and the Kings for imperial power.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.
It is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired.
By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured.
It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brassy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.
The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.
As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.
