Save where, low westering. Venus hides
From the red eye of Mars;

With all its beauties glowing. the night before the mowing.

MR SCRIGGS AND HIS CIRL.

From Kentucky into the Gretna Green or thio Just in Front of an Angry

CINCINNATI, Jan. 27-A curious story, analogous in part to that of Lord Ullin's daughter though with happily a more estisfactorily termination, comes from Maysville, Ky. Maysville is on the Ohio River, and just opposite in Ohio is the little towa of Aberdeen, a favorite resort for runaway couples from other States. By some peculiarity of the law Justices of the Peace there have author ity to marry couples applying whose parents live outside the State, whether the applicants are of age or not. The place has become a noted resort for runaways from the sacred soil, and the little. Gretna Green.

Just now, however, the boat is laid up on account of the heavy ice running in the river. For several days past crossing by any means has been considered not only unsafe but entirely impracticable . From the mountain country to the cast and south of Maysville a number of day at $:80 p. m. couples have come in to be ferried over but finding it impossible have remained waiting for the ice to pass.

whose case was urgent. They had left Catarrh Remedy. This old, reliable their mountain home the previous night and well-known remedy has stood on herseback, and had pushed their way, test of years, and was never in re pop closely pursued by the father of the ular than now. bride, to the crossing. They arrived at Maysville at about 3 o'clock in the after noon, their horses jaded and recking with sweat. The would-be bride, Miss Annie F. Stamper, aged 16, is a very pretty blonde and a fair type of mountain loveliness. He whom she desired to love, honor, and obey, Mr. Leander P. Scraggs, aged 18, is a brawny fellow six feet three in his socks.

When the bank of the river was gained and they found themselves halted by the crushing ice flood, they were in dis Opium may, and the girl burst into tears. A sympathis ng crowd collected, and two hardy fellows volunteered to attempt the passage of the river in a skiff. It was a venturesome undertaking, but the bride dried her eyes and the bridegroom helped to launch the boat. The crowd cheered. and the volunteer ferry men forced their boat through the ice. Quite a crowd col lected on the bank, and all wished the pair godspeed and safety.

When the craft was about midway of the river the excited father appeared, and shouted for the girl to come back. The crowd yelled derisively, and the men in the boat fought their way through the ice with renewed zeal. The father was in a rage, but no one sympathized with him. The boat safely reached the other shore. When just about to step off, on the Aberdeen side, the lover stood up and waved his hat triumphantly. The act was an unfortunate one, for he lost his balance and tumbled into the river. The bride screamed, and the crew fished Mr. Scraggs out with a boat-hook.

A safe landing was at last made, and with the muddy water of the Ohio fast congealing upon his clothes, his teeth chattering, and his knees trembling, the young man led the young woman up the bank, and both hurried to the hospitable mansion of 'Squire Massie Beasley, where they were married.

The Reason Why.

The tonic effect of Kidney-Wort is pro duced by its cleansing and pur. - sogravelly deposit in the urine, or milky, ropy urine from disordered kidneys, it cures without fail. Constipation and piles readily yield to its cathartic and bealing power. Pat up in dry vegetable form or liquid (very concentrated); either act prompt and sure, - Troy Budget.

Mr. John Williams, of Spartanburg, has a half-squce musket ball which was lately out from a pine tree at Blackstec in Chester county. This ball had been there long enough to have 101 rings of growth around it, showing that it was shot about 1778 or 1779. It is suppased that it was used during the Revolutionary skirmish at that place.

Rational Treatme. and Positive Cures

are what the afflicted seek for, and these who resort to Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines are not doomed to disappointment. So positively efficacious is his Favorite Prescription in all cases of female weak-ness, nervous and all other derangements incident to the sex, that this potent remedy is sold under a positive guarantee. For particulars see Pierce's Memorandum Book (given away by druggists), or see the wrappers of the medicines. Sold by WASECA, MINN., April 5th, 1879.

B. V. Pinnes, M. D.: Dear Sir-I feel that I should be neg lecting my duty were I to fail in giving my testimony as to the value of your medicines. For years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of chronic diseases which our physicing treated in vais. I am now using our favorite Prescription and find myself almost well Your medicines have done me more good than anything I have ever used. I remain, gratefully yours, MES. E. B. PARMALEE.
