No City Court this morning.
No arrests last night or to-day.
Radishes have made their appearance thus early.
Trent have made their appearance in the Sounds.
Miss Eleanor Calhoun and troupe and the Berger Family and Combination have arrived.
You can now buy Improved Heating and Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.
The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 116 bales and of spirits 3,492 barrels.
Any father who goes out and puts tar on top of his front gate after dark must be lost to all sense of humanity. Not so the one who buys a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for his family.

The only cargo cleared foreign to-day consist of 259,480 feet lumber, per schr. Charlotte Jamison, for Port Spain, Trinidad, shipped by Messrs E. Kidder & Sons.

Miles Howard, a well-known barber and violinist, formerly of this city, is said to have died in a hospital in Philadelphia of small pox a few days ago. The report is contradicted.

The schooner Mary Bear, which went ashore on the "bite" at Cape Lookout during the storm on Saturday night last, was successfully gotten afloat on Tuesday and proceeded on her voyage. She arrived in port to-day.

A cable telegram received here to-day announces the safe arrival in Liverpool, on Tuesday, and in London on yesterday, of Mr. James Sprunt, of this city. He will be absent about two months.

Go to JACOBI'S for Doors, Sash and Blinds, pure White Lead, Oils, Varnishes, Window Glass, all sizes. All at the lowest prices.

Summer Schedule
The Passport will resume her summer schedule about the first of April. Before she is again placed on the line she will be overhauled and additions made to her by which larger parties can be accommodated. Capt. Harper is trying to effect arrangements by which a landing can be had at Bald Head and other places of interest to pleasure seekers.

How to be your own painter: Buy the N. Y. Enamel Paint, ready mixed and warranted at JACOBI'S.

To-Night.
The old favorites, the "Berger's," will appear to-night at the Opera House. They have added attractions to their summer and now travel as a combination. Their entertainments are always chaste and pleasing and we are satisfied that they will be greeted by a large audience. The band, composed of ten or twelve pieces, marched through the streets this morning and rendered some very fine music.

We advise our friends to call at JACOBI'S for Household Hardware of every description. There you get the lowest prices.

To-morrow night at the Opera House North Carolina will be represented by Miss Blanche Thompson, daughter of Mr. J. W. Thompson, of Mt. Olive, and South Carolina by Miss Calhoun, a niece of Jno. C. Calhoun. Both these ladies are endowed with rare talent and have achieved for themselves a reputation not to be despised.

Grave charge.
A colored man named Harris it is said committed a nameless crime on the wife of Thos. H. Davis, also colored, for which Davis shot Harris. The wounds were not serious and the man Harris sued out a warrant against Davis for assault with intent to kill. To-day Harris was arrested by a bench warrant and will stand his trial, the penalty of his crime being death. An account of the shooting appeared in the Review some ten days ago.

Wedding Bells.
Yesterday's Angusta Chronicle and Constitutional says: "Yesterday afternoon, at St. Paul's Church, Mr. J. Dickson Munds, of Wilmington, North Carolina, and Miss Minnie S. de l'Aigle, of this city, were married. Rev. C. C. Williams performed the ceremony in a graceful way, after which the young people and friends were entertained in the happiest style at the residence of the bride's mother, on Greene street. The marriage was conducted on the English plan, the groom, accompanied by his brother, (Mr. W. C. Munds), meeting the bride at the altar. The bride was accompanied to the church by her uncle, Mr. Horace P. Clark, of New York, her mother, and by Misses Platt, Alston, Hopkins, Wooten and do l'Aigle—the latter a younger sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were cunningly arrayed in white, with small white bonnets, on their heads and exquisite flowers in their hands. Mr. and Mrs. Munds left on the evening train for Wilmington, having been accompanied to the depot by a large concourse of friends."

Mr. and Mrs. Munds, accompanied by Messrs. W. C. Munds and J. B. Hanks, arrived in this city yesterday morning. We wish the young couple a happy and prosperous life.

Criminal Court.
The following cases were disposed of during the day:
State vs. William McClammy. Abandonment. Now on trial.
State vs. Chas. W. Davis. A. and B. Defendant submitted.
State vs. J. H. Harrison. False pretence. Off docket.
State vs. W. J. Penton. Larceny. Defendant not taken. Judgment nisi.

Mardi Gras.

Tickets for the round trip are placed at $34 only and will be good from February 19th to March 10th. Full information will be furnished on application to Mr. F. W. Clark, General Passenger Agent, at the Company offices, in this city.

The Duplin Canal.
WILMINGTON, N. C., Feb. 17th, 1881.
MR. EDITOR:
I have read your most excellent editorial in your issue of the 16th, relative to the Duplin Canal, and I most fully endorse every word you say in regard to the cost of the Canal, and I believe every good citizen who stops to consider your advice in the premises, will see the good sound sense of your argument and sustain your recommendation with a hearty good will. Far be it from me to detract from the credit due Maj. Young for the great zeal he has displayed in this work, but it is a matter of too grave importance to ask for money without knowing how much will be needed to build this most important work.

Let the Company have a survey and accurate estimate made, and then they will have no difficulty in raising the money required; but to grope your way in the dark in such matters is not wise; it is not prudent.
The Morning Star of the 17th says: "The construction of the Duplin Canal is a measure worthy of the attention of every intelligent business man in the town." (and to this I say amen!) "and the indifference shown on the part of many is only another evidence of want of enterprise in the right direction." Now, Mr. Editor, this is harsh judgment. Does the Star desire our people to go heedlessly to work and attempt the construction of this canal without being satisfied what the cost will be? Surely that is not business. Wilmington, I say, is alive to the importance of this work, but people are wise in not rushing into this scheme before the necessary surveys and estimates have been made by competent engineers. Canal engineering, if I may so speak, is one of the highest branches of engineering, and there are but few competent canal engineers in this country. The writer was approached but a few days ago by one of the leading merchants of this city, a man of the most undoubted ability, and whose judgment every one generally approves, and asked me if I did not think an accurate survey and estimate ought to be made before any more money was subscribed. I said that was exactly my idea, and I have since heard fifty say the same thing. Build the Canal, Mr. Editor. Wilmington requires it. No one can doubt that it will bring to her door a vast amount of business that now seeks other ports, and develop a vast wealth now lying dormant. Build it, and it will redound to the indomitable energy of Major Young, and be a monument to his name for all time to come, but go to work about it in the right way, and know what you will have to pay beyond a reasonable doubt.

Daniel Rochat.
Miss Calhoun and troupe arrived in this city this morning. To-morrow night the troupe will open their short engagement, with Sardou's new drama, Daniel Rochat. Of this play the News and Observer says:

Miss Calhoun made her second appearance at Tucker Hall last evening, before an audience attracted by her meritorious acting in Romeo and Juliet. The play was Sardou's "Daniel Rochat," a synopsis of which was given by us yesterday. It abounds in situations which call for power and ability. In the character of Leah Henderson, Miss Calhoun rose to the height of the situation, displaying in both pathetic and tragic passages ability most marked. To her charms of person and manner, she added a rare tenderness, coupled with emotional powers, as she portrayed the noble character, with its clinging fondness, its high and pure resolves. The play contains a moral full of meaning, full of good, for it is a powerful exposition of the infinite superiority of revealed religion to cold philosophy. In the difficult role of "Daniel Rochat" Mr. Barton Hill gave fresh evidences of his ability. He is at all times thorough in his personifications, and well deserves the reputation he has earned. Of the support, Mrs. Germon, Miss Blanche Thompson, and Mr. Eberle deserve special mention.
But few actresses have made a more pleasing impression here than Miss Calhoun, and a lively interest is felt in one so young and yet possessed of so much talent. She has been the recipient of many attentions. It has been but a few weeks since she made her debut on the stage, and her many friends believe that the present promise of a high reputation will be fulfilled. Wishing this, we hope to see her here again.

THE
$1. BALTIMORE WEEKLY SUN $1.
A WEEKLY FAMILY PAPER PUBLISHED IN THIS COUNTRY.

The Original and Selected Stories are full of interest and constitute choice family reading. Its lyrical pieces are also of a high order of merit. Besides these merits it is a compendium of THE NEWS OF THE WEEK, well collated and of infinite variety. All fresh occurrences at home and abroad find a place in its columns. The bright and graphic letters of the social correspondents of THE SUN at the capitals of Europe, in California and elsewhere, are published in the Weekly, and, in addition to describing the course of political events, will give the gossip of the day and the drift of events. THE WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE SUN will keep the readers of the Weekly well informed in respect to everything of interest, politically and socially, transpiring at that point. Whatever besides, that is serious or joyous, that tends to give a spice to variety, will be supplied to make the Weekly attractive.

ITS MARKET AND FINANCIAL REPORTS are brought down to the latest hour of publication, and every pains taken to make them trustworthy.

AGRICULTURAL MATTERS
are not neglected, and the farmer will find in the columns devoted to this subject many valuable hints and suggestions. Sound editorial discussions also have place in the Weekly; and, with its stories and other light literature, its well-written letters from places at home and abroad, its political and general news and gossip, and its excellent Market and financial reports, THE BALTIMORE WEEKLY SUN commends itself to all who desire to have a thoroughly good paper at a very low price.
