Windy today.
No City Court this morning.

The receipts of cotton at this port today foot up 117 bales.

Miss Calhoun and the members of her troupe spent the day on the Sound.

Stationers find that postal cards have decreased the sale of envelopes and writing paper to the amount of $12,000,000 annually.

The uniforms for the messengers of the Western Union Telegraph Company have arrived and the boys appeared in them today.

Guatha Williams, colored, was found last night by the police drunk and down. She will have a hearing before His Honor tomorrow morning.

The foreign exports to-day foot up 330,000 feet lumber, and 65,000 shingles. Messrs Northrop & Cumming and E. Kidder & Sons were the shippers.

You can now buy Improved Heating and Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.

A quantity of "long sweetnin" was stolen from a barrel which was in front of a business house, on the wharf, a few nights ago. It is thought that Mike Peden's gang did it.

Uncle Ned Glavin, who left us some years ago to go to Charlotte, has returned to Wilmington. He is in the employ now of the Carolina Central R. R. as trace agent, we think. We are glad to have him back among us once more.

It is odd that frost kills yellow fever but does not check smallpox. We know, however, that it makes Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup go like hot cakes.

Raleigh has just passed through the exciting crisis of a spiritualist medium humbug performance. "Professor Poster, of New York," was the man this time, probably the same "Professor," under another name, who humbugged a Wilmington audience some weeks ago.

Meat Thief
Yesterday afternoon, Mr. James Quinn detected a colored individual in the act of stealing some meat from the store house of Messrs. Hall & Pearsall. The man was in the act of putting the meat in his bag when Mr. Quinn grabbed him. The man succeeded in getting away and has not yet been captured.

Opera House.
Miss Calhoun opens her engagement in this city to-night with "Daniel Rochat." At the matinee to-morrow afternoon, the "Hunchback" will be given and to-morrow night "Romeo and Juliet" in six acts, as revised especially for Miss Calhoun, will be presented. Wherever the troupe have performed they have been highly spoken of. Several of Mr. Ford's stock company are supporting Miss Calhoun and we can promise the public fine performances by the troupe.

Destructive Fire-Narrow Escape.
Friday night, about 10 o'clock, the two-story frame residence and meat house of Mr. C. H. Bronson, at Lisbon, Sampson county, was destroyed by fire. The fire was first discovered in the dining room but had made such headway that Mr. Bronson and his family barely escaped with their lives. His three daughters, who were sleeping in the second story of the dwelling, were compelled to flee in their robes de nuit, had they been a minute later would have perished in the flames. They had barely cleared the doors when the staircase was enveloped in flames and the roof fell in. Mr. Bronson lost $700 in cash, besides his furniture, family clothing and quite a large quantity of meat. His loss is estimated at about $5,000, on which there was not one cent of insurance.

We advise our friends to call at JACOBI'S for Household Hardware of every description. There you get the lowest prices.

Unavailable.

Unavailable matter remains in the Postoffice in this city addressed as follows:

Mrs Wm A Gannell; Summerville, N. C.; Miss Rose Howard; Mrs Sarah Mallard, Kingeville, N. C.; Miss Kate H Slade, Rockyton, D. C.; Mrs Nancy Toomer, Rocky Point, N. C.; Robert A Mayo, Richmond, Va.

The City Market Cases.
The cases of Mr. C. H. Gilbert questioning the right of the city to pass a market ordinance, which were set as the special order of the day in the Criminal Court, were disposed of. The judgment of Mayor Fishblate was sustained and the defendant took an appeal to the Supreme Court. Messrs. George Davis, Junius Davis and F. H. Darby appeared for the city and Messrs. DuBrutz Cutlar, M. Bellamy and Jno. D. Bellamy for the defense.

The defense holds the opinion that as the Market is not the property of the city, the city has no right to pass an ordinance requiring butchers to sell meats in it.

Criminal Court.
The morning session was consumed in the trial of the cases of C. H. Gilbert, charged with violation of the City Ordinance. It will be remembered that Mr. Gilbert appealed from the decision of the Mayor on these cases. Verdict guilty. Appealed.

State vs. Julia Pierson. Larceny. Defendant submitted. Sentenced to 10 years in pen.

State vs. Geo. Vann. Larceny. Defendant submitted. Sentenced to 10 years in pen. [Geo. Vann and Julia Pierson are the persons who assaulted Mr. Clog on Surry street and robbed him, about two weeks ago, an account of which appeared in the Review at the time.]

State vs. W. J. Penton, et. al., William Lee and Red Devane, on trial. Larceny of cotton; case now on trial.

Lippincott's Magazine.
While the chief aim of the conductors of Lippincott's Magazine is to furnish entertainment, the reader of the fresh and lively sketches which fill the chief space in the March number will find that he has gathered information, on various topics, as serviceable as if it had been acquired by a more laborious process. "Six Months in a Country-House in Russia," by Alain Gore, gives an experience such as very few American travellers have ever had the good fortune to enjoy. The article on "The Diamond Mines of South Africa," by E. B. Biggar, brings down the history of these remarkable discoveries to a recent date. "Moose Hunting," by "Canuck," also illustrated, is a vivacious account of the sport as practised in Nova Scotia. "My China Boys," by Fanny Stevenson, is not only very amusing, but presents some types of Chinese character not familiar to mere casual observers. Phebe D. Natt gives an account of "The Paris Art-Schools," Dr. Charles W. Dulles discusses the "Physical Uses of Pain," and Charles Burr Todd describes "The American Newgate," an underground prison in Connecticut, once famous, but now known only to the local antiquary. "Lilith," the short and somewhat melodramatic serial which has attracted so much attention, is concluded in this number. There are two spirited short stories—"The Kid" and "A Law of Nature"—and a capital sequel to the Shakespearean burlesque, "Place aux Dames."

Another short serial, with the quaint title of "Craque-o'-Doom," will be commenced in the April number.

The reportorial staff of the Review desire to return thanks to Mr T. C. Fanning for cards of admission to the reception to be held at Rankin Hall tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock by his dance classes.

OPERA HOUSE.

The Bergers.
A very pleasant concert and society entertainment was given at the Opera House last night by the musical company now traveling under the proprietorship of Mr. Fred G. Berger.

The orchestral composition of the troupe is very fine—finer, no doubt, than it ever was, even in the palmiest days of the old Berger Company; but we missed the Berger sisters with their extraordinary musical accomplishments. Miss Etta Morgan, however, gave us an exhibition of the same order of talent. This lady's performance on the saxophone, a most curious-looking instrument, on the horn order, won the unlimited plaudits of the very large and select audience. The duet with the old Berger bells, as rendered by Miss Morgan and Mr. Henry Berger was a real musical treat, and the only relics of the old Swiss Bell Ringers that we were wont to enjoy so much.

Mr. Holbroke's cornet solo was well received, and the performance of Mr. Fisher on the zither was the sweetest possible music. Mr. Brand's xylophone elicited much admiration as a cunningly executed performance.

The recitations of Miss Marie Bowen gave very great pleasure. Her voice is exceedingly pleasant and her modulations very melodious. Her expression we thought very skillful, though we felt that her first recitation was rather rapid.

The Ventriloquist exhibition of Mr. Chas. W. Brewster showed remarkable gifts in that line. We were far better pleased, however, at his powers as a ventriloquist, which are exceedingly great, than his taste of selection in the conversations employed between himself and his manikins.

We wish the troupe success wherever it goes and record their entertainment one of a pleasing character.

Gray Hairs are Honorable, but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair Balsam is popular for cleanliness and promptly restoring youthful color.

One of the Holden Kirk Lams.
About three months ago John J. Rhodes, "former marshal of Raleigh," "natural born detective," and "Lieutenant in Kirk's Lams," was arrested in this city charged with perjury. To keep him from going to jail a gentleman stood his bond and the man of many callings jumped his bond and went to South Carolina. Rhodes has been known to be lurking about town for the past month and officers were after him, but by stratagem or otherwise he managed to outwit the officers until last night, when he and behold, their valiant Lieutenant of the Holden-Kirk militia was caught disguised as a colored woman. This son of Mars, who clamors for the removal of Holden's disabilities, was put in jail and this morning had a hearing before Justice Millis. The first charge, carrying a concealed weapon, was disposed of and Rhodes was sent back to jail. This afternoon he will have a hearing in the "masquerade case." When captured Rhodes had on a dress and bonnet and a wig made of moss. His face and hands were blacked in the most improved style known to knights of the burnt cork. On his person was found a pistol, which he forgot to use when he tried to give the officers leg bail. Rhodes is the same man who represented himself some time ago to be a pauper and almost starved, and succeeded in getting a permit to the Poor House. He stayed in the "Institution" but two days, when he left, saying the fare, meat, potatoes, hominy, cabbages, etc., was not good enough for him. We should have said in the proper place that the prisoner did not appear in court in his costume, for the jailer took pity on the court and washed the prisoner up.

HENRY VAN NORTHWICK, of Toledo, Ohio, says:—A friend prevailed upon me to try an "Only Lung, Pad," and I obtained immediate relief from a racking cough. I know the Pad helped me.—See Adv.

D. D. after a person's name on a reporter's note book does not always stand for Doctor of Divinity, but most generally for drunk and down. Star please copy.
