No City Court to-day.

President Garfield. Shake? Wood is selling at $3 per cord.

It thundered and lightened last night. The off-shore storm signal was flying to-day.

The fish market is bountifully supplied.

Board of Aldermen meet Monday night.

There are twenty-one fire cisterns in this city.

Congress adjourned sine die to-day at 12 o'clock.

Board of County Commissioners meet Monday afternoon.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 532 bales.

This is the season of the year best adapted to trimming trees.

Only four beardeners in the county jail and one in the City Prison.

The Custom House is decorated to-day in honor of the new President.

Miss Mary Anderson was to have played Parthenia in Ingomar at Peters burg last evening.

How to be your own painter: Buy the N. Y. Enamel Paint, ready mixed and warranted at JACOBI'S.

The Superior Court for this county will convene on the first Monday in June, which is just three months off.

Fires were raging in the woods near this city, but we presume the heavy rain of last night checked them.

Some of the fencing around the farm of Mr. John S. Harris, near this city, was destroyed by fire a few days ago.

Go to JACOBI'S for Doors, Sash and Blinds, pure White Lead, Oils, Varnishes Window Glass, all sizes. All at the lowest prices.

A stranger who was one of Arlington's audience at the Opera House last night, was taken with a fit during the performance.

We are glad to learn that Capt. B. G. Bates, who was considered very ill for the past two or three days is reported as much better.

Col. Brink will have two new street letter-boxes placed at the corner of Front and Market streets as soon as the gas lamps are placed in position.

Why is this month like an umbrella on a rainy day? Because its Lent. Here is another: Why is to-day like a country in South America? Why, because its Chili.

This is about the season of the year when one sees the stately pater familias throw aside his dignity and dig down the street after his chapeau which is being borne swiftly on by a stiff March wind.

You can now buy Improved Heating and Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.

We are getting to be some pumpkins. Only a week ago a large seal was caught in the river, and yesterday a fine pelican was killed on the Sound. When extreme meets extreme, then ye local looks out for an item.

We advise our friends to call at JACOBI'S for Household Hardware of every description. There you get the lowest prices.

Mr. M. B. Curtis' "Sam of Posen, a Commercial Traveler," is the next attraction at the Opera House. Mr. Curtis was formerly with Milton Nobles and rendered the character of the Jew in the Phoenix very creditably.

We understand that the Scott bill for the protection of farmers and fishermen, which has been facetiously dubbed by some "the poor man's bill," was laid on the table in the Senate yesterday. This may kill it for the session.

In felling the old chinaberry tree, on Princess street, this morning the government telegraph wire was broken. Judge Clark repaired the damages and actually blamed the tree. The tree didn't break; it was the wire should have been blamed and not the tree. Der yer see, Judge?

Charles Hartman, Toledo, Ohio, says:—I know it cured me, and I hope others similarly troubled with pain in the chest may be helped by the "Only Lung Pad" as I have. See Adv.

In Honor.

In honor of the election of Mr. J. I. Macks as Grand President of the Fifth Division of the I. O. E. B., at Baltimore, a few weeks ago, his friends will present him with a handsome testimonial at the rooms of the Harmony Circle this evening.

The Faison & Clinton R. R.

From a gentleman from Clinton we learn there is no doubt that the railroad from Clinton to Faison's depot, on the W. & W. Railroad, will be built in a short time. The distance is not more than twenty miles and the survey runs through a level country, which is comparatively free from large streams. The people are alive to the needs of the road and it will no doubt be a great convenience.

Old Lan mark.

The old chinaberry tree which has stood near the corner of Front and Princess streets for lo! these many years and whose branches have been swayed by many a March wind, was cut down to-day. One of our old citizens who does not wish to see the old landmarks pass away one by one, repeated in a very pathetic and entreating manner "Woodman, spare that tree," but the Woodman replied, "Oh no boss, wood don't give up to $1 a load as deys two cords in dat tree."

Arlington's Minstrels.

A very large audience greeted Arlington's minstrels last evening at the Opera House. The troupe is the best of its kind that has visited this city in several years, and gave very general satisfaction. The quartette was very good and rendered some very enjoyable music. The sextette clog club is the best that has ever been on our boards. Mr. Arlington has every reason to be satisfied with his reception and on his next visit we predict that standing room will be more in demand than it was last night.

Too Much Agility.

One of our up-town merchants, being down street this morning, desired to show his feats of agility and accordingly proceeded to demonstrate how high he could kick. Discovering a tin bucket hanging from a shelf about seven feet high in a wholesale grocery, and imagining it was empty, he lifted it from the nail with his foot and down came the bucket, filled with oysters, which rolled out on the floor and down the neck of our friend, who paid for the damages and retired fifty cents less in his pocket, while the bystanders enjoyed the fun.

Important Events.

Two important events in the history of the country and State transpired to-day. We refer to the qualifying of General Garfield as President, and the qualifying as Registrars of Messrs. Archie Alderman and E. Scharff, for the First Ward; J. C. Lumsden, for the Second Ward; W. L. Jacobs, for the Third Ward, Jas. Kendrick, for the Fourth Ward, and H. E. Orr, Jr., for the Fifth Ward. The books will be open on Monday at the places of registration, which will hereafter be designated. An entire new registration will be required.

A Genuine Pelican.

A genuine South American pelican was shot flying across Masonboro Sound on yesterday by Mr. John C. Wagner and was on exhibition in the market to-day. It was bought by Mr. A. Adrian, who has handed it over to a taxidermist to be stuffed. The pelican measured 7 feet 8 inches from tip to tip of wings and stood about four feet high. The feathers on its body are a beautiful shade of iron grey, tinted with seal brown, and its neck a pure soft brown. The upper mandible of its bill is flattened and terminated by a very strong hook, or nail, which is compressed and very much bent. The lower mandible is formed by two osseous branches, which are depressed, flexible and united at the jaw or point; from it is suspended a naked skin in the form of an expansive pouch, which is capable of holding a considerable number of fish. To test the flexibility of the pouch or bag, a colored butcher ran his head with ease this morning into the mouth of the pelican. The bird is quite a curiosity about these parts, and is the only pelican known to have been captured near here.

Miss Mary.

Mary Anderson will be seen in Norfolk to-night in Parthenia, and as Pauline in the Lady of Lyons to-morrow night. Sunday morning she will pass through this city in her palace car, which was fitted up especially for her and provided with all the home comforts, and her old step-daddy, Dr. Griffin; that is, we suppose he will be along as he likes comfort and all that. Doctors now recommend the introduction of a kid or goat into the nursery as a healthful companion for the children. It is not altogether pleasant to learn from a fashion reportress that thin ladies are rapidly going out of fashion, and fat figures are at present thought to be the only correct thing. Black walnut is much less used in rooms than formerly, and light woods are coming into favor, partly because they are cheap and partly because they contrast better with dark walls. It is universally conceded that the heart of a man weighs about ten ounces—that of a woman eight. As the age increases a man's heart grows heavier, and a woman's lighter. Some girls levitate at sixteen while others have little or none to lose. There is nothing so harrowing to the feelings of a modest man in these days of colds, than to discover that his nasal blast was aimed at a hole in his handkerchief and a friend sees him pass his afflicted hand across the seat of his trousers, under the friendly shadow of his coat tail. As a Cure for Piles Kidney-Wort acts first by overcoming in the mildest manner all tendency to constipation; then, by its great tonic and invigorating properties, it restores to health the debilitated and weakened parts. We have hundreds of certified cures, where all else had failed. Use it and suffer no longer.—Exchange. Quarterly Meetings For the Wilmington District, Methodist E. Church, South, 1881. (First round.) Onslow, at Tabernacle, - - - March 5-6 Clinton, at Andrew Chapel, March 12-13 Cokesbury, at Halls, - - - March 19-20 The District stewards will meet at the Parsonage of the Front street Church in Wilmington, at ten o'clock a. m. on the 2d Feb. A full attendance is desired. L. S. BURKHEAD, Presiding Elder.

Maine News.

Hop Bitters, which are advertised in our columns, are a sure cure for ague, biliousness and kidney complaints. Those who use them say they cannot be too highly recommended. Those afflicted should give them a fair trial, and will become thereby enthusiastic in the praise of their curative qualities.—Portland Argus.
