Now is the time to nip corner-lounging in the bud.
The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 159 bales.
The hens are preparing for Easter—laying for it, so to speak.
In order to rise with the sun you must now get out of bed at six o'clock.
You can now buy Improved Heating and Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S. A weak man will say more than he does, a strong one will do more than he says.
Real estate is thought to be reviving in price, and many there be who do not regret it.
Turkeys now step down and put, and as an article of food will not be relished again until next October.
When a man puts an innocent hen to work upon a porcelain egg, is he setting that hen a good egg-sample?
Emeralds, which have been locked up in jewel boxes for several years are coming into fashion once more.
Hon. D. L. Russell was expected to return to the city last night but did not arrive here. He will get here to-night.
A smart but conscientious sausage-maker stuffs all the old chopped flannel in the middle, so as to make both ends meet.
Schr. Cygnus cleared to-day for Progreso, Mexico, with 152,626 feet lumber, shipped by Messrs Northrop & Cummings.
A writer says justly, farewell is a sad word but if we could only contrive to say it to some of our bad habits we should be much happier.
The cornet practice is getting to be quite universal all over the city, and houses in the immediate vicinity of the players rent for half-price.
Mr. J. K. McIlhenny has placed a large illuminated mortar at the corner of Front and Market streets. It answers as a street lamp and is handsome.
New street lamps have been placed at the northeast and southwest corners of the intersection of Market and Front streets, and letter boxes have been attached to the posts.
It knocks all the love out of a man to have the music stopped suddenly and everybody in the hall-room hear him asked his girl: Can I hold you a little while when we get home?
A man should enter and graduate from college early in life, if at all. He then has ample time to look around and find out what he ought to learn to enable him to make a respectable living.
Mr. S. G. Northrop is to open a confectionery store at the corner of Water and Chestnut streets, under the Review office. The store is being fitted up and in a few days it will be ready for use.
A century ago lung pads and liver pads were unknown, but the foot pad is an institution of such long existence, that the memory of man runneth not back to the time when he did not annoy the people.
Rev. Mr. Mendelsohn, of this city, was in Charlotte on Wednesday for the purpose of uniting in marriage, according to the Jewish rites. Capt. J. M. Roessler and Miss Esther Bernstein, of that city.
We saw a few days ago a unique souvenir made of hair by the deft fingers of a young lady who will some day make this city her home. The proud recipient says that he will soon leave for the remainder of the hair and when he returns will feel like a new man.
The Wadesboro Times, one of the very best of our weekly exchanges, comes to us now considerably enlarged and very much improved. We are glad to note such evidences of prosperity that the memory of man runneth not back to the time when he did not annoy the people.

The Little Joker—"Now You See Me and Now You Don't."
"Let well enough alone."
Better to have the day of completion more remote than to have the great work pass into the hands of aliens."—Wilmington Star, March 1, 1881.
"The bill to appoint a commission with power to sell the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. should meet with no favor at the hands of the Legislature."—Star, March 1, 1881.
The Star has not forgotten how very incredulous some people and papers were as to Best's movements, and what a proper man he was in their sight. If they have the welfare of North Carolina at heart it isn't what the Star believes."—Star, March 4, 1881.
Our only fear in regard to the sale of the State's interest in the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. is the possibility that it may fall into the hands of those who will direct the trade of the rich country through which it passes from its natural outlet. At a fair price we would be glad to see the road sold to some one who would complete it to Wilmington.—Star, March 6, 1881.
This is the bill, with the addition of three commissioners, referred to in the Star of Sunday last, and to which we then gave our indorsement."—Star, March 11th, 1881.
"The last link in the line of railway which connects Wilmington with the mountains of the Blue Ridge has been completed; the last spike was driven yesterday. We now have a true North Carolina system, such as a Caldwell could but dream of. It has been reserved for gentlemen from another State, who have vast interests within our borders, to do the work and build the road. The North Carolina system is now a practical reality. The iron horse is harnessed in Wilmington in the morning and stabled under the shadows of the Blue Ridge at night. We congratulate ourselves; we congratulate the company, we congratulate everybody, on the completion of this grand enterprise. Let the Great West belch forth its stores of mineral wealth into the harbor of the Cape Fear; its bosom is broad enough to bear them all and from thence they will be wafted to every quarter of the habitable globe."
* * * At the beginning, some two years ago, it will be remembered, the Star fought this fight almost single-handed and alone, and success has resulted almost by compulsion from the Legislature of the State, in securing the passage of the bill for the sale of the State's stock in the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley R. R. * * * We have never, for one moment, doubted either the integrity or the ability of Gen. Imboden and those he represents and the result has gloriously justified our implicit confidence in these enterprising gentlemen.—Wilmington Star, July 1, 1883.

Indications.
For the South Atlantic States generally clear weather, followed by increasing cloudiness, possibly rain, winds shifting to northeasterly, stationary or higher temperature, lower barometer in the western parts.
Look Through a Telescope.
Large crowds were observed last week gathered around a Telescope man at the corner of Eighth and Market streets. Our reporter stopped to ascertain the cause of so much excitement, paid his five cents for a look and discovered across the face of the moon at which the "scope" was pointed, "Best thing for a Cold—Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup." He just concluded that Dr. Bull was a high old advertiser, and that Bull's Cough Syrup was the best thing out. Some one had stuck a strip with those words across the end of the glass.—Philadelphia, Pa., Traveler.

New steam Yacht.
A steam yacht 30 feet long, 7 feet beam and 7 feet hold, was shipped from Philadelphia on the schooner Thos Van Gilder, on Monday last, for the Navassa Guano Company of this city. We presume the yacht, which is said to be a very nice one, will be used in going between this city and the works of the Company, at Meares' Bluff.
Arrested.
Wm Newkirk and Ben Blaney, two colored men, were arrested by Officer Bryant and carried to the Guard House this morning for engaging in an affray upon the streets. When they arrived at the Guard Room and felt the grip of the law upon them, it all turned out to be a joke and they declared they were only playing Newkirk was released on bond while Blaney was still held at last accounts in default of bail, until the trial to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Gotten Off
The three masted schooner Mary A. Powers, Capt. Watts, from Boston for this port, with 550 tons guano, reported ashore near the bar in our yesterday's issue, was hauled off by the steam tug Blanche at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon and arrived in port to-day. The only damage sustained was the loss of about 50 tons of guano, which were thrown overboard to lighten the ship and possibly the copper scraped a little on the bottom. The mizzenmast, Capt. Watts reports, was lost off Frying Pan Shoals in a gale of wind.
Mr Hermon and Miss Clarke.
By letter we learn that Mr. Harry Hermon, humorist, mimic and character vocalist, will shortly appear in this city with Miss Louise Clarke, of Selma, Alabama, the Southern elocutionist, and will give one of his laughable entertainments, consisting of impersonations of character and humorous songs. It is said Miss Clarke excels in comedy, but tragic power is not wanting in her, and we discover who hears her recite "The Sioux Chief's Daughter," her gestures are a poem in themselves in this recitation. She is a Southern girl, and her family and associations are among the best in the country.

Bow Wow No 1.
The Rads had a bow wow at the truck house of the Fifth Ward Bucket Company (colored) last night at which E. A. Dudley, colored, presided, and W. E. N. Sellers, white, acted as secretary. The ostensible object of the gathering was for the purpose of nominating a ticket for the Board of Aldermen. The candidates numbered seven and when the time came to vote all hands except the officers were put out of doors and were then admitted, one by one, past the secretary's desk, where they voted. When the balloting was about half completed we understand that it was declared that Mr. George Hooper and E. A. Dudley had been chosen as the nominees of the "Republican" party from the Fifth Ward. At this juncture there was a perfect babel of voices and confusion reigned supreme, amidst which the lights were extinguished and every fellow groped for the door, and that was the end of bow wow No. 1 in the Fifth Ward.

The South Atlantic.
The February issue of this magazine, which is just at hand, is one of the best that the accomplished publisher has yet given us. An admirable article on Thomas Calyle, by W. M. Coleman, is the first paper; All Hail, which follows it, is a beautiful poem written by Mr. Preston to the memory of Bishop Atkinson; Auld Robin Gray is a pleasant little story; Short Sketches of the old Southern Regime, by Philip A. Bruce, is continued; M. Father's Home, by Francis H. Marr, is good; Alx Stephens, by C. DeR. Faust, is an admirably written critique on the great Georgia statesman; Cooleem, the serial now being written by Annie E. Johns, is continued; Walking Through the Fields is a charming poem from the pen of our North Carolina poet, John Henry Boner, and Where Does Protection Protect? is a lively and forcible paper on one of the great political questions of the day from the pen of another North Carolinian, Daniel R. Goodloe.

Gray Hairs are Honorable, but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair-Balm is popular for cleanliness and promptly restoring youthful color.
