piazzas around the structure had rotted weight and presented the appearance, not falling to pieces from decay and neglect-

It was left to the mercy of the elements and to rats and squatters, there being about thirty of the latter in it when the work of repairing was commenced in August last. The work on the building has been completed, with the exception of painting, though there is much yet to be done on the hospital grounds. At our request Mr. Dart showed us through the building on Wednesday last and kindly gave the Review reporter the informa tion herein contained. There is not a piece of woodwork in the house which is not new or has been renovated which is not now as good as ever.

Many of the ill-shaped cuddy holes have been remodelled and transmogrified into new pantries or closets. New Venetian blinds have been put to the windows throughout the building and the interior of the edifice is so changed for the better that it is hardly recognizable now as pieces last summer. There are bath-
