Try
Mrs. Joe Person's Indian Tonic Bitters.
It cures SCROFULA, Cancer in its early stages, Rheumatism, Heart Disease, Chronic Bilious Colic, and all kinds of eruptions of the skin. It is a powerful purifier of the blood. As an Alternative, Tonic and Blood Purifier it has no equal. See GOV. HOLDEN'S OPINION. I take pleasure in stating that a member of my family has used Mrs. Joe Person's Indian Tonic with good results. I believe her remedy to be excellent for the purposes for which it is intended. W. W. HOLDEN.
SEE JUDGE STRONG'S OPINION. Mrs. Joe Person—Madam: Some months ago I was in bad health, suffering from debility, indigestion and loss of appetite when a friend induced me to try your Tonic. I did so with the most happy results. I take great pleasure in recommending it as a valuable and efficient Vegetable Tonic, and wish you much success. Very respectfully, GEO. V. STRONG.

Every other boy one now meets has a cigarette between his lips, hence the enormous increase in the consumption of the article need not be matter for surprise. In 1870 taxes were paid on 19,881,417 cigarettes; and in 1880 on 408,706,365.

The equinox is at hand and the weather is of course turbulent. There was a heavy rain this morning and at 1 o'clock the barometer was still falling. The wind has shifted repeatedly and rapidly during the day and the storm may be upon us to-morrow. The rainfall since 7 o'clock this morning is 1.05 inches.
Nominations
The Republicans of the First Ward met last night and nominated James W. Telfair, colored, from the lower division for Alderman. In the upper division there was a tie between the candidates and no nominations were had. The fire tried are to meet again on Tuesday night to make their nomination.
A Safe and Sure means of restoring the youthful color of the hair is furnished by Parker's Hair Balsam, which is deservedly popular from its superior cleanliness.

The Vernal Equinox.
Spring enters on the scene to-morrow morning at 20 minutes past 7 o'clock, when the vernal equinox takes place. It is a very prevalent idea that winter is over with February and that Spring commences with March but this is an error, as although March is the first Spring month yet the season does not commence, technically, until the day of the vernal equinox.
Lippincott's Magazine
Lippincott's Magazine for April presents a very varied list of contents, yet all of a light and vivacious character. "A Peep at the North of Ireland," and "Characteristic Dances of the World," entertainingly written and well illustrated, are otherwise sufficiently described by their titles. The first of a short illustrated series of papers on "Zoological Curiosities" treats of Mountain Sheep. "On a California Ranch," is a capital descriptive sketch; J. Brander Matthews writes of the "Present Tendencies of the French Drama;" Lizzie W. Champney has an anecdotal paper, from unpublished sources, on the American loyalists who, after the Revolution, found new homes in the province of New Brunswick; and Frank D. Y. Carpenter gives a very amusing sketch of "Wash Lo," the typical Chinaman of the present day, in distinction from Ah Sin, who is now all but extinct.
A new serial story, with the quaint title of "Craque-o-Doom," opens well, the characters being novel and yet life-like, the movement rapid, and the style crisp and spirited. Of the short stories, "John Henry" is laughable, while in "Sister Weedon's Prayer," there is a mixture of humor and pathos. Among the good things in the "Monthly Gossip" is a notice of Carlyle which describes his person, manners, and conversation in the surroundings of his own home.

The New Revenue Law.
As a week or so will elapse before this act can reach the officers charged with the execution thereof, we give below, as we find them in the News and Observer, the most important changes made in the act to raise revenue. It may be of interest to state in this connection that the total levies by the State in the revenue and school acts amount to 40 1/2 cents on the $100 value, leaving 26 1/6 cents for the counties. The counties had last year 34 1/2 cents on the $100 value.
Schedule B. taxes each side show $10 in addition to the tax of $100 on every exhibition of a circus or menagerie.
The purchases of farm products from the producer are exempted from the purchase tax. Transient dealers are to be looked after by the sheriff to the end that the purchase tax in their cases be collected.
Persons who sell only wines of their own manufacture are not subject to be taxed by the State as drummers.
Retailers of spirituous or malt liquors, wines or cordials or bitters, in quantities less than a gallon, must file their petitions as heretofore, and if the county commissioners direct the sheriff to grant license to retail, the retailer must pay to the sheriff a tax of sixty dollars per year in advance, and no license shall be issued for a shorter time than twelve months. Five per cent. on the amount of purchases of any and all liquors in or out of the State is again fixed as the tax. The counties are not allowed to levy a greater sum than is levied by the State.
Merchants' licenses are to expire on the 1st of January next ensuing date of their issue. These licenses must be obtained from the sheriff, and are to be countersigned and recorded at once by the register of deeds. The sheriff's fee for this service is twenty-five cents, and that of the register of deeds fifty cents.
Schedule C imposes a tax of one dollar on each marriage license. The register of deeds is entitled to fifty cents as a fee for all services connected with the issuing and recording the return to each license. There is no tax on marriage contracts, and the tax of one dollar heretofore imposed on mortgage deeds and deeds in trust to secure creditors, where the amount secured exceeds three hundred dollars, has been abolished.
The act has been in force since the 12th inst., the date of its ratification.
Next Thursday is election day. You cannot register on that day; only those who arrive at their majority on the day of election will be entitled to register then.

A Vessel Sunk Lying at Her Wharf.
The small schooner Lorenzo, Captain Russell, which generally plies between this port and New River, being owned at the latter named place, was lying on the west side of the river last night, just out side of a large fore and aft schooner which was made fast to Messrs. DeRosset & Co's wharf, (the Lorenzo being made fast to this large schooner) with a cargo of 204 bbls. resin on board which she had been engaged to lighter down the river to-day by Messrs. Legg & Williamson, stevedores, to be put on board of the Nor. barque Sapademen which the above named firm are stowing for Messrs. Paterson, Downing & Co.
Captain Russell, being anxious to get off, was up and down frequently during the night, observing the weather, for the purpose of seizing the first favorable opportunity of a breeze to hoist his sails and clear away for his destination. At 12 o'clock he was up and his vessel was all right and at 4 o'clock he was awakened again and springing out of his bunk he was terribly surprised to find himself in water, which was over knee-deep on his cabin floor. Capt. Russell quickly aroused two of his crew, who were sleeping in the same cabin with him, and all unconscious of any danger were still in sweet oblivion, lying in the arms of Morpheus. When the Captain aroused them to a sense of their peril they barely had time to get ashore and get their trunks out before the vessel settled down below the water's edge. The Captain and crew got extra lines out and made them fast, which held the vessel up and prevented her going to the bottom. The forward part of the schooner is several feet under water but the top of the house of the cabin is just out of water. Had Capt. Russell not waked at the exact time that he did, or had he slept ten minutes longer, the Captain and crew would all have been drowned. But the most singular thing about the whole affair is that the vessel has just come off the ways, where she was thoroughly overhauled and repaired. The damage, we learn, will be very slight, not a barrel of resin has been lost and it was thought the whole cargo would be transferred to another vessel before night, and the sunken vessel pumped out and ready to be taken on the ways again. The cause of the accident, it is believed, must have been that a seam was stopped up with trash and the caulkers overlooked it while they were caulking the vessel. The delay caused is the greatest damage sustained to all parties.
Since the above was in type another small schooner, to which the load of the Lorenzo had been transferred, had secured the above named vessel with lines to her side and the steam tug Blanche started with them in tow for the Dock street dock, turning them loose, head on just before they reached this side of the river. But the wind and tide drifted them a little below the dock and the bowsprit of the vessel floated entered the warehouse of Messrs. P. Cumming & Co., tearing off one or two planks. Extricated from this difficulty the vessels became completely unmanageable and the wind which has been blowing a gale all the afternoon seized them and carried them against the Harbor Master's boat shed on the dock, and from thence the two vessels got foul on the rigging of the fruit vessel Rosalie. The steam tug Blanche then hitched hold of them again and pulling them away the rigging of the good lighter commenced to snap and pop. At this point our time was up and we had to leave. What became of the two unfortunate vessels finally, we will have to inform our readers in our next issue.

Personal.
Four members of the Hon. Abram S. Hewitt's family, including Mrs. Hewitt, registered at the Parcell House last night, but Mr. Hewitt himself did not come. The party, we learn, are en route to the sunny clime of Florida, and will probably leave for that State after a short respite in the way of a rest here.
Cotton on the Boom
Cotton futures for May have advanced since Wednesday of this week from 10.43 to 10.93, a rise of .50 points. Any one who had a margin up for 100 bales on Wednesday would have made a clear profit of $225. But then if it had gone the other way, a fellow might have lost just the same amount. Mighty uncertain kind of business.

Ger barque Scharnhorst cleared to-day for Cork, Ireland, with 1,625 bales cotton, shipped by Messrs. Williams & Murchison.
The Register of Deeds has issued four marriage licenses during the week—two of which were for white and two for colored couples.
Lost Race.
The first scull race of the season took place on the Cape Fear, opposite the city, yesterday afternoon, between the White Swan, owned by Mr. L. Tate Bowden, and the Point Peter, owned by Mr. J. H. Alderman, both manned with four oars. The course was about three-quarters of a mile and the boats started from a point opposite Hilton. The race was won by the White Swan. A more extended contest is spoken of for next week.

Frou-Frou.
The entertainment at the Opera House last evening, by the Ada Gray troupe, was rendered to a good house and to a very appreciative audience. The piece presented was Frou Frou and in this Miss Gray sustained well the character of the heroine. She was twice encored during the progress of the piece. Mr. Murphy was also excellent and Mr. Benson was in his funniest vein. There was a matinee this afternoon and the season will close to-night with Ruth Tredgett.

The Alarm This Morning.
The alarm of fire this morning was a false one. It was caused by a peculiar circumstance. The engine of the Carolina Rice Mills supplies the Messrs. Willard with motive power and some of the steam seems to have escaped and by a peculiar oppression of the atmosphere was kept hovering, for a few seconds, over some cotton on Messrs. Willard's yard. This was noticed by some colored women at work there and they, naturally thinking that the cotton was on fire and that the steam they saw was smoke, gave the alarm. It was soon ascertained, however, to be a false alarm. But one engine arrived at the scene before the order was countermanded and that was the Adrian.
