His Honor Mayor Fishplate is confined to his bed by sickness.

The diagram for Rial's Humpty Dumpty performance is filling up very rapidly.
There are quite a number of timber rafts in the river abreast of the city and more are en route.
The Dramatic Club of Charlotte are rehearsing the Pirates of Penzance and will, after Easter, visit this city by invitation.

Some of the gardens and truck farms near this city are well advanced. Green pea vines are flowering and the prospects are that a good yield will be had unless the vines are killed by frost or cold.
Alderman F. W. Foster desires to make a correction as to a statement made in a circular issued by him. The contract referred to was accepted by the Board of Aldermen, instead of the Board of Audit and Finance, as stated in the circular.

The Lecture to-night.
Dr. Eugene Grissom arrived here last evening, for the purpose of delivering at the Opera House, this evening, the lecture promised by him for the benefit of the Wilmington Library Association. The lecture will be delivered, as announced, despite the inclement weather, as Dr. Grissom cannot remain here until Thursday, and the Opera House is engaged for to-morrow evening.

Petty Thefts.
Timber agents, saw mill owners and others are frequently annoyed and put to considerable trouble by petty thieves who steal pieces of rope from timber rafts. On several occasions sticks of timber have been set adrift by some thief who would steal the rope with which it was tied. We have heard of an instance where a piece of rope was stolen at night and sold to the rightful owners in the morning. The theft of rope from rafts is not at all uncommon and is a source of serious annoyance to dealers in timber.

Personal.
Col. W. L. Saunders, Secretary of State, arrived here last night and put up at the Purcell House. He will remain here until to-night, when he will leave for the Hot Springs in Arkansas, where we trust that he will find benefit. He has been the recipient to-day of many calls from our citizens.
A Safe and Sure means of restoring the youthful color of the hair is furnished by Parker's Hair Balsam, which is deservedly popular from its superior cleanliness.

Unmailables.
The following unmailable matter remains in the Postoffice in this city:
Wash Beauman, Pender county, N. C.; white envelope, no address; Lichtenstein Bros. & Co., New York, N. Y.; Emma Hooper, Hampton School; Clark & Currie, Clarkton, N. C.

Illumination.
The "City Park" was brilliantly illuminated last evening about 7 o'clock. A mammoth canopy had been erected and from the centre-pole, which ran through the tent, a beautiful flag was flying to the breeze. The orator for the occasion was about to open his address, when the lights were turned full on and the band commenced to play. The brilliancy lasted only for a minute or two, as the boys commenced to "throw dirt," and the orator stepped down. We intended from the first to say that the naphtha lamp, under the law tent, which has been used for a week past by an itinerant pedlar, exploded and Mike Peden's gang commenced to "holler" and throw sand on the flames.

The present year is the Hebrew year 5642, and it is leap year. It has thirteen months. The added month is Adar.

Rial's Humpty Dumpty.
Everybody has heard of "Humpty Dumpty"; that is, everybody who is anybody in a theatrical way. The public needs no introduction to its eccentric inmates. Rial's company is a strong one, and a large audience may be looked for. An exchange says:

The everlasting "Humpty Dumpty" was produced against evening to a delighted audience by Jay Rial's combination. The specialty acts introduced by this company are specially worthy of commendation. Among them may be mentioned the performances of Roi Mueab, the fire eater, Punch Walton, the English comique and cornet soloist, and the London dog circus. Walton was recalled again and again for his solos, and the performances of the dogs excited much wonderment and applause. The dog circus is a whole entertainment by itself.

At the City Hall.
Charles Sommus, a nautical traveller, was out on a lark pretty late last night and when he fetched up at the Seamen's Home he found the door at the foot of the stairs locked. So he banged and banged away until he broke the glass door, which caused the policeman's attention to be arrested and he proceeded forthwith to the scene of the disaster and now for the first time the nautical traveller found out that he had broken the door to the entrance of the Carolina Club room on North Front street, and that he was not at the Seaman's Home on South Front street, as he had fondly hoped. Upon a proper explanation and full payment of damages done, the man that goes down to the sea in ships was discharged.

Della, a colored woman who is evidently crazy was in the neighborhood of the Gas House yesterday afternoon making an indecent exposure of her person, and last night she proceeded to the house of a colored woman residing in the Fifth Ward and there disrobed herself entirely, piling up her clothes in the middle of the floor and attempting to set fire to them. The woman of the house was absent from home at the time, but her children, who were alone in the house until the entrance of the poor crazy creature, were very much frightened. Afterwards the demented woman wandered out into the streets and was arrested by Officers Grant and Williams and taken to the Guard House where she now is awaiting an examination by a Board of Inquirendo de Lunatico.

Ben Peters, another jolly tar who was on a land cruise last night, shipped too much of a cargo of John Barleycorn and sank under the heavy load he was carrying. A policeman gathered him under his protecting wing and carried him to the Guard House where he was locked up all night. This morning the son of Neptune said it was his first time ashore in many weeks and he had only taken a few drops of the crathur when he was "keeled over." In consideration of the fact that defendant belonged to a much-abused class of people and had done no harm to any one but himself, the good-natured Chief Brock said, go and come here no more.

The storm signal was raised last night and is up yet.

Thus far the fruit prospects hereabouts are not damaged.
The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 434 bales.

The Radicals are mustering their strength and sending out their runners to gather in the delinquents who have heretofore neglected to register.

Democrats of the Second, Third and Fourth Wards, will you by your own neglect and carelessness allow the city to pass into the hands of the Radicals?

Nor. barque Gyller cleared to-day for Hamburg, with 4,330 barrels rosin, shipped by Messrs. Williams & Murchison, and Nor. barque Gioja cleared for London, with 2,530 barrels rosin, shipped by Messrs. Chess, Carley & Co.

The Republicans in the Third and Fifth Wards met last night and nominated F. W. Foster and Benj. Scott from the Third and Joseph H. Willis and Joseph D. Sampson from the Fifth, as candidates for Alderman from those Wards.

Death of Capt. Lawton.
Capt. Jas. E. Lawton, formerly of this city, died on the 5th inst., at Foster, R. I., aged 81 years. Capt. Lawton is remembered here by all ante-belleum residents. For several years, previous to the railway connection with Charleston, he commanded the Vanderbilt, one of the fine large steamers which plied daily between this port and Charleston, connecting with the trains on the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. as part of the line of through travel. When the railroad line was open to Charleston, and the steamers were withdrawn, Capt. Lawton remained here until the close of the war, when he removed to Rhode Island, where he died at an advanced age.

This is probably the tail end of the equinoctial. It was ushered in with a fierce blow on Saturday and Saturday night and to-day has been remarkable for heavy rains.

The members of Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1. will celebrate their anniversary to-morrow by an engine trial, in full uniform, but there will be no parade.

Eighty-Fourth Anniversary.
While Nihilists, Socialists and Communists are pulling down and destroying; assassinating crowned heads and murdering quiet, peaceable and inoffensive citizens who may chance to be in the way of their designs in the old world here in Republican America the faithful subjects of King William of Prussia and Emperor of Germany, are casting their eyes wistfully over the broad waters that separate them from the Faderland and drinking the health of their much beloved monarch on this, the eighty-fourth anniversary of the Emperor's birthday. Mr. E. Peschau, the German Imperial Consul at this port, had the official colors of the Consulate flying from the flag-staff over his office to-day, while within the consulate, the Consul was holding a levee in honor of the occasion mentioned above, where cake and wine were dispensed quite freely and cigars with a pleasant aroma were puffed by many of the numerous callers.

A distinguished British scientist predicts a great drought this summer as the historical sequence of the great frosts of the past winter. He quotes various instances, ranging from the second century to the present time, to confirm this theory.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Margaret D. McIlhenny, postponed to-day on account of the inclement weather, will take place to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from St. James' Church to Oakdale.
