Ice again this morning.
No City Court this morning.
The bagpipe men are doing up the town.
Quite a large number of timber and wood rafts arrived this morning.

Last year this time luscious strawberries were everywhere to be seen.
A man may always be right, yet going to the train he may be left.

A young man who knows says that from court to caught is but a short step.
You can now buy improved Heating and Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.

Breadstuffs are on the increase owing to the shortness of the wheat crop in the West.
It is a backward season for planting but the ladies are all busy on spring sewing.

The wife who has a husband who is always grumbling should kiss him for his "matter."
Don't fold up that ulster yet, young man, don't pack away that sealskin sacque, young lady.

Women generally are in favor of corporal punishment. They never go anywhere without their switches.
We advise our friends to call at JACOBI'S for Household Hardware of every description. There you get the lowest prices.

The man who spends too much of his time building castles in the air is not likely to hold much real estate on the earth.
The recent cold, ice and frost has no doubt killed the present growth of early vegetables and the prospect for an abundant peach crop.

The woodwork in the interior of the Marine Hospital is being painted. It is thought that the Hospital will be formally opened in about two weeks.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard will deliver an address this evening, at 8 o'clock, at the First Baptist Church. His subject will be "The History and Needs of Wake Forest College." The public are invited to attend.

Turn your eyes heavenward on the 22d inst., and you will probably see within twelve hours, Saturn in conjunction with the sun, Jupiter in conjunction with the sun, and Jupiter and Saturn in close conjunction. At least this is what astronomers tell us.

How to be your own painter: Buy the N. Y. Enamel Paint, ready mixed and arranged at JACOBI'S.

COURT
The Court opened at the regular hour this morning at 10 o'clock, presiding, and Mr. Solicitor Moore representing the State. The time of the Court was taken up this morning in the trial of Ed. Saunders, charged with carrying a concealed weapon. Verdict guilty. Sentence not yet passed.

CATTLE ORDINANCE.
Newbern enforces its cattle ordinance. The Nut Shell says: "The war on stray cows is waged by our policemen with a stern hand. Hardly a day passes that two or three stray cows are not conveyed to the City Pound."

Why is it that the authorities of this city cannot afford to enforce the cattle ordinance. Are they afraid to do it?

For the Benefit of the Sisters of Mercy
The good Sisters of Mercy and the ladies of the congregation of St. Thomas Church are getting ready for a grand bazaar to be given for the benefit of those noble and self-sacrificing women, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of Easter week. Large contributions, we hear, have been received from cities North and South of us. The undertaking deserves to be well patronized.

Food for the Brain and Nerves that will invigorate the body without intoxicating is what we need in these days of rush and worry. Parker's Ginger Tonic restores the vital energies, soothes the nerves and brings good health quicker than anything you can use. Trybuns. See other columns.

No Tidings.
There are as yet no tidings of Mr. Matthiesen, Mate of the Nor barque Morvig, who has been missing for several days, an account of which appeared in Monday's issue of the Review. It is very generally believed that the missing man fell overboard and was drowned.

Monthly Report.
Dr. J. C. Walker, Superintendent of Health, makes the following mortality report for the month of "arch":
Whites—Males, none; females, 4; adults, 4; children, none. Total, 4.
Colored—Males, 3; females, 11; adults, 12; children, 2. Total, 14.
Total white and colored for the month 18.

River News
Boatmen report only four and a half feet of water on the shoals now, with the river still falling. From the same source we learn that Capt. Skinner and his workmen raised the God Worth 14 inches yesterday, and that with the same progress during the next two days, added to what already has been accomplished, our informant thinks the sunken steamer will in that time be afloat again.

Go to JACOBI'S for Doors, Sash and Blinds, pure White Lead, Oils, Varnishes, Window Glass, all sizes. All at the lowest prices.

Monthly Fire Report.
Col. Roger Moore, late Chief of the Fire Department, reports two fires for the month of March, during his term of office, at which the department work was as follows:
March 23d, dwelling house on Wooster, between Sixth and Seventh streets, owned by W. J. Penton, and occupied by Jesse W. Dicksey. There was an insurance of $300 on house which nearly covered the loss. Mr. Dicksey's furniture was not insured. Cause of fire, probably incendiary.
March 27th, roof of house on premises of F. W. Heyer, on Second, between Walnut and Red Cross streets. Little damage. Accidental.

In concluding his report Col. Moore says:
"I cannot close this, my last report as Chief of the Fire Department, without calling the attention of your honorable Board to the magnificent service rendered by the different companies composing it, and paying to them the highest tribute for efficiency, good order and discipline; not a disturbance having occurred since I have had charge of the department every order obeyed with alacrity, and, without question, under the most trying circumstances, while exhibiting powers of endurance which have called forth the admiration of this entire community."

"Commending them to your fostering care, and urging your honorable Board to encourage them in every way possible, consistent with duty, I remain," etc.

Col. Moore's term of office expired on the 28th of March. Since that time there has been two or three other fires which of course are not included in the above report.

The Lecture Last Night.
"The Reign of Theory," the subject of a lecture by the Rev. E. A. Yates, D. D., of this city, was delivered by that eloquent divine at the Opera House last night to an intelligent and appreciative audience of ladies and gentlemen.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. Chas. H. Robinson, the worthy president of the Library Association, in a felicitous manner, and proceeded at once to place himself at ease with his audience and to establish a bond of sympathy between lecturer and listener, in a manner that is known only to experienced public speakers.

Our predictions of yesterday were quite fully realized by all who attended the lecture last night. The subject was handled in an able and masterly manner by the reverend gentleman, and was fruitful and interesting from beginning to end. The lecturer showed the fallacy of many false theories in these latter day times and touched upon the issues of life from early youth to more advanced years. The lecture was interspersed with scintillations of wit and humor and contained many important truths which would be of value if adopted by this generation of young people and followed to a practical end. Dr. Yates is a graceful and forcible speaker, and has a very pleasing and finished style about him. The general sentiment as far as we have heard from those who attended last night, is one of pleasure and satisfaction.

We have received a communication from the Solicitor of the Criminal Court relative to a part of the proceedings of that tribunal published in yesterday's Review, which will appear in to-morrow's issue. The said communication having been received too late to be inserted in to-day's paper.

Bad Water.
We were shown to-day by Health Officer Scharf, a small bottleful of water which he said came from a well on the premises of Mrs. Williamson, who keeps a salter boarding house on North Water street. The water contained worms and other animal and vegetable matter which must be rank poison to the human system. The officer carried the water to the Superintendent of Health who, we presume, will condemn the well at once, and order it filled up.

The Remains of the Late T. C. Harris.
The remains of Mr. Thos. C. Harris, who met his death by accidental shooting at Birmingham, Ala., on Saturday last, arrived in this city this morning on the 6:20 W. C. & A. R. B. train. The remains were conveyed to the residence of his brother, Mr. C. M. Harris, on Fourth, between Nunn and Church streets. At 11 o'clock the funeral services of the Methodist Church were read over the remains, which were then carried to Oakdale Cemetery followed by a large concourse of friends. Peace to his ashes.

In Trouble.
Mr. H. Bentley was arrested yesterday charged with carrying on a lottery, and was held in a justified bond of $1,000 for his appearance at the Criminal Court. The defendant has been selling photographs, some of which drew money prizes. Before opening his store the accused complied with the law and took out a State, county and city license. He was arrested under the provisions of an old law, which it seems has never been repealed. Unless the enactment of the law in 1879, which provided for the taxation of gift enterprises, repealed the previous law, the legal fraternity think there is a nice point of law involved in the case.

One Charge Remains
The original charge of larceny in the cotton cases which were made against W. J. Penton, Geo. C. McDougal and four colored individuals, still remain against Penton and McDougal on the docket of the Criminal Court. The darkeys were tried at the last term of the Court, and found guilty, and are now serving out their sentences in the penitentiary. Six cases against the fugitives, Penton and McDougal, were arranged by counsel yesterday in order to get the cases off the docket and to avoid summoning the same witnesses at each term of Court.

Planets in April.
Saturn is evening star until the 21st, when at 9 o'clock in the evening he comes into conjunction with the sun and becomes morning star. His conjunction with Jupiter has already been described and his movements are so nearly allied with those of his brother planet that the portrayal of the one includes that of the other. Saturn sets now about 8 o'clock. At the end of the month he rises not far from a quarter before 5 o'clock, very nearly at the same time with Jupiter.

Venus is evening star, and having just passed her period of greatest brilliancy, is now fair to see as, piercing the ethereal depths before the sun has sunk below the horizon, she shines in bewitching loveliness amid the glory of the dying day, increasing in size and radiant glow as the sun sets and the evening shades advance. No member of the starry host can now compare with her in size or delicacy of coloring, or in the soft, penile beauty peculiarly her own. But a change will come over the queen of the stars, for the greatness of her glory as evening star is passing away. As she approaches the earth the illuminated portion of her disc grows more slender, and soon her light and size will perceptibly decrease. Each evening she will set earlier than on the preceding, until, at the close of the month, she will set so soon after the sun as to be invisible, and we shall lose the radiant evening star that graced the sky during the passage of autumn, winter, and spring. Venus sets now about 1:30 o'clock, and at the end of the month a little before half-past 7 o'clock.

Uranus is evening star, and may be seen by the naked eye on clear, moonless nights. His position has changed but little from that of last month, and he may be found near a small star in the hind legs of the lion, and forming a triangle with Regulus and Dembola, the leading stars of the constellation, being a few degrees south and nearly midway between them. He rises now about a quarter before 4 o'clock; at the close of the month, about a quarter before 2 o'clock.

Mercury is morning star, and reaches his greatest western elongation, or greatest distance from the sun, on the 7th. For a week before and after that time he may be seen with the naked eye, this being one of the three favorable periods for picking him up during the year, though his southern declination increases the difficulty of finding him. He must be looked for about an hour before sunrise, about twelve degrees south of the sunrise point. Those observers who have the good fortune to obtain a glimpse of the only planet that twinkles will be well paid for early rising. Mercury rises now not far from a quarter before 5 o'clock—nearly an hour before the sun; at the end of the month he rises at half-past 4 o'clock.

Jupiter is morning star, and is not yet near enough to be an object of interest, though he is coming toward us, and will soon attract attention in the morning sky. He rises now about ten minutes after 4 o'clock, at the end of the month about ten minutes after 3 o'clock.

Try
Mrs. Joe Person's Indian Tonic Bitters.
IT CURES SCORFULA, Cancer in its early stages, Rheumatism, Heart Disease, Chronic Bilious Colic, and all kinds of eruptions and skin diseases arising from impurity of the blood. As an Alternative, Tonic and Blood Purifier it has proven itself unequalled.

SEE GOV. HOLDEN'S OPINION.
RALPHEN, N. C., Dec. 20, 1880.
I take pleasure in stating that a member of my family has used Mrs. Joe Person's Indian Tonic with good results. I believe her remedy to be excellent for the purposes for which it is intended.
W. W. HOLDEN.

SEE JUDGE STRONG'S OPINION.
RALPHEN, N. C., Dec. 1st, 1880.
Mrs. Joe Person—Madam: Some months ago I was in bad health, suffering from debility, indigestion and loss of appetite when I decided to use your Tonic. I had no wish to write the most happy results. I take great pleasure in recommending it as a valuable and efficient Vegetable Tonic, and wish you much success. Very respectfully,
GEO. V. STRONG.
