Not Cool Enough.
Our community has been without ice now for nearly a week. What is the matter? why can't the ice dealers supply the demand? Ice is almost a necessity for the sick, and yet the sick have had to go without it. This state of things ought not to be in a place the size of Wilmington.

Acquitted in two Cases.
H. Bentley, charged with carrying on a lottery, was tried and acquitted in the Criminal Court in two cases on yesterday. His bond was reduced from 1,000 to $500. There are thirty-two more indictments against him. The affidavits on which Mr. Bentley was arrested were sworn out by Toney Ashe.

Criminal Court.
His Honor Judge Meares presiding. There being no jury cases ready the Court took a recess until 3 o'clock, this afternoon.

The Grand Jury were then sent for when His Honor read and explained the lottery law and charged them that if photographs drawing blanks or prizes had been sold as described by witnesses before the Court yesterday, that not only the owners but that the agents and clerks were guilty of a violation of the lottery law and should be indicted. There being no jury cases ready the Court took a recess until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, at which hour the cases of State vs. Bentley are set for trial.

The Last Gun.
We invite the attention of our readers and especially those who read the communication published in the REVIEW of the 31st ult. signed "Confederate," to the manly letter of Major Jas. D. Cumming which we publish below. It will be seen from Major Cumming's letter, that he lays no claim whatever to the distinguished honor of having fired the last shot at Appomattox, but in a spirit of true manhood, declines to allow a false impression to go abroad—however complimentary it may be—giving to him and his command the credit which belonged to others. All honor to the brave man who in a chivalric spirit which reminds one of other and better days, gives a frank and correct statement so far as he is concerned of the truth of this bit of history. Major Cumming was a Confederate soldier from the first day that Governor Ellis ordered the troops in this city under Col. Jno. L. Cantwell to take possession of the Forts at the mouth of the river, until the last bugle note was sounded in the contest.

Major C. is now of the firm of Cumming and Bailey, commission merchants in the city of New York.

New York, April 5th, 1881.
EDITOR REVIEW:
In your issue of the 31st ult. I note a communication signed "Confederate," which unjustly claims for my old battery the distinguished honor of firing the last shot in the army of Northern Virginia. Your correspondent is mistaken. This honor has never been claimed by myself or any member of the battery as far as I know and I think it an act of justice to correct any such impression. While the old battery was more than once named in "general orders" and frequently complimented by Generals Beauregard, Hoke, Pettigrew and others, and I feel proud of its record I cannot claim for myself that is due some other gallant commander.
Respectfully,
JAS. D. CUMMING.

Shipped Foreign.

The foreign exports to day consist of 200 casks spirits by Messrs Williams & Murchison and 1,856 barrels of rosin, by Messrs E. G. Barker & Co., all of which went on board the Nor. brig Fred cleared from this port for Hamburg today.

Correction.
In our report of the remarks of Mr. Solicitor Meares in the Criminal Court proceedings of Tuesday last in the matter of the city bond case, we possibly may have erred in quoting Col. Moore's language. The Solicitor thinks we did, and desires us to state, which we do with pleasure, that he did not express any opinion as to the intent of the defendant, but simply stated as a matter of law, that the offence with which he was charged not having been completed, the defendant could not be held criminally responsible, and hence there was no necessity for a bill of indictment on the presentment.

This statement is made in lieu of the communication which we referred to in our issue of yesterday.

Shot in the Abdomen.
On Saturday last about 5 o'clock, Mathew N. Leary shot David A. Bryant, about two miles from Fayetteville. Both of the parties are colored and Leary is in jail awaiting the result of the wounds inflicted. The altercation which led to the shooting grew out of a law suit as to the lines of some lands. The case as to the property was to have been heard on Saturday morning but was postponed at the instigation of Bryant on account of the absence of material witnesses. Saturday afternoon Leary was seen walking in the woods with a gun on his shoulder, and in response to an interrogation said he was hunting crows. Bryant was in the woods some little distance off cutting wood when Leary approached and a quarrel ensued. Leary discharged one barrel at Bryant when his adversary made at him with the axe. Leary then turned and fired the second barrel, the contents taking effect in Bryant's abdomen. Leary was arrested and put in jail. The wounded man has received proper medical attention and may recover.

The prisoner is quite a noted politician in his county and had some Congressional aspirations. He was, we understand, a candidate before the nominating convention at Smithville, last June.

Suffering Woman.

When the bowels have become constipated, headache torments, kidneys out of flux, or piles distress, take a package, and its wonderful tonic and renovating power will cure you and give new life.—Watchman.

The Fire this Morning—The Need of a General Alarm.

The alarm of fire this morning, at 8 o'clock, or shortly thereafter, was caused by the burning of a few shingles on the roof of the large dwelling-house on Mulberry, near the corner of Third street, which is owned by Col. John MacRae, but at present occupied by Captain S. W. Skinner and family. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been a spark from the chimney, which lighting on the shingle roof, soon caused the inflammable material to ignite. The hose reel of the steam fire engine Little Giant reached the scene of the excitement and this is the nearest approach that any of the fire department made to the spot where the fire was. But we wish it distinctly understood that, from what we have since learned, we do not consider it the fault of the fire department, nor do we write in any complaining spirit of our worthy volunteer firemen, whom we consider equal to any in the country, but to correct an evil which exists somewhere, and which unless public notice is taken of it may continue to exist. When the alarm was first given this morning the horses of the Little Giant were attached to a wagon away from the engine house hauling something for the city. This caused the few members of the company who heard the alarm and had assembled at the engine house, together with the boys of Mr. Catlett's school, and aided by a few other citizens, to seize hold of the engine and drag it up as far as the City Hall when the news came that the fire had been extinguished by a few buckets of water in the hands of some neighbors who mounted the roof and with axes and water did the work effectually. The other engines were turned back.

One good cause of complaint which our firemen have, is the want of a general alarm, and until this is arranged there may be danger of frequent delays on the part of firemen in getting to a fire. The market bell in the belfry of the new market house, is the one single medium for sounding the alarm generally, and situated as the new market is, in the Southern portion of the city, it is not reasonable to suppose that the alarm can be heard in different parts of the city. We hope therefore that our new administration of city fathers will proceed at once to remedy this matter, and do so by providing for a general alarm to be given at the City Hall. This will necessitate building a bell tower, perhaps, but the sooner it is done the better.

Terribly Burned.
Yesterday afternoon Martha Foster, colored, who lives in Price's Alley between Fifth and Sixth and Church and Castle streets, was severely burnt and it is thought that her injuries will prove fatal. The unfortunate woman, who is about 50 years of age, was lying on the floor asleep in front of the fire. She was aroused by her child and found that her clothing was on fire. Before assistance could arrive the clothing of the woman was nearly burned off and her body was a mass of shrivelled flesh. Dr. J. E. Winants and Officer James did what they could to relieve the unfortunate woman.

Committee of Firemen.
A committee representing the different fire companies in this city will meet to-morrow morning in Kasprowicz's Reading Room for the purpose of drafting resolutions and drawing up a petition to be presented to the Board of Aldermen and Board of Audit & Finance, asking for the removal of the fire-alarm bell to the City Hall, assigning as their reason that at present the bell cannot be heard throughout the city.

Governor Worth.

The hull of the steamer Governor Worth has been raised and is now afloat. It will be brought to this city possibly by the end of the week.

A Woman Shoots at a Man.
On Tuesday a Miss Underwood, living on the opposite side of the river at Fayetteville, accompanied by her two big brothers went into Fayetteville in search of Bas Hawley, who had once promised to marry her, as she alleges, but who now declined to fulfill his promise. Miss Underwood found young Hawley and fired at him, the shot not taking effect. What was done after the shooting we cannot learn.
