THE C. F. & Y. V. R. AND THE ANSON TIMES.

Our esteemed contemporary of the Anson Times seems worried again over the proposed sale of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. and devotes a long article to the subject in its issue of the 7th inst.

Would our cotemporary be General Imboden's company owns mines in Virginia, refuse to allow him to transport his minerals through the State of North Carolina to a North Carolina seaport for shipment to foreign, as well as domestic ports? Is it to be supposed that the products of one mine in Virginia will monopolize the entire traffic of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. for 200 miles or more? Does it seem reasonable to suppose that this new company whose object is the development of the hidden wealth in the mineral sections of Virginia, and our own State through which this road passes, would put an embargo on trade, so soon after the stockholders had invested their money down here? Could any company of capitalists afford to build and purchase together, a road 200 miles in length, or possibly more, to simply carry the products of one coal or iron mine to market? The idea of this company discriminating on rates of freight in favor of the Virginia mines to the detriment of the mines in North Carolina is, if our cotemporary will pardon the expression, to our mind peculiar. On the contrary it would seem to us that their object would be to foster and encourage all the traffic and trade they could. Running as this road is expected to run, through an almost unexplored region of mineral wealth, it seems to us that the stockholders would desire to invite immigration and settlers to that section in order to assist in developing the country, knowing that every improvement along the line of their road would benefit and enrich the company that much more by adding to their freight transportation. Hardly then would they pursue such a suicidal policy of discrimination against property owners along the line of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R.

Our cotemporary is in error in stating that the proposed new company is composed of Virginians. Gen. Imboden the attorney of the company it is true is a Virginian, and an ex-Confederate soldier, but we understand that the stockholders are Northern capitalists. Mr. Hyndman, who accompanied General Imboden to this city a couple of months ago, is a Pennsylvanian, and we have been informed by one of our most highly respected and esteemed citizens, viz: Dr. A. J. DeRosset, that the Camerons of the Keystone State, were among the interested parties in this proposed transaction. The Times propounds this question to us: "If in case the sale to Imboden & Co. is made, would there be a guarantee of no anti-North Carolina discrimination?" Now, really, we are not in the secrets of General Imboden, and know no more about the proposed plan of these gentlemen than the information already furnished to the public, and which the Legislature deemed a sufficient guarantee to justify it in passing the bill appointing and empowering a commission with the consent of the private stockholders and the sanction of the Governor and council, to conclude the sale.

Our cotemporary quotes from a lecture by our State Geologist to show the immense mineral wealth of North Carolina which, according to that gentleman's own showing, still lies hidden in the bowels of the earth. Why is it then that these great resources have never been developed? Professor Kerr says "North Carolina has as yet done nothing or next to nothing" in that direction, why then we repeat, is it that these great mines of wealth still remain undeveloped? The lack of capital is the one simple and plain answer to this question. Now then, if a company of capitalists, no matter whether they are from Virginia, Pennsylvania or Dahomey, propose to add to the revenue of the State by investing in a Railroad, which is to bring these valuable minerals to market, why should there be such captious opposition from the very people who are constantly prating about the great hidden and undeveloped wealth of North Carolina?

The recent bogus butter investigation in New York brought out a good many strong statements from the dealers in dairy products, about the extent and villainy of the oleomargarine fraud. That the thing is a downright fraud is now beyond a doubt. It is sold all over New York, in fact, all over the country, every day, as genuine butter, and at a price very nearly as high as that of pure dairy butter. The retailers charge a high price, because if they offered it low their customers would suspect that it was not butter and not buy it at all. It seems that the fat from which it is made is prepared at a temperature of 120 degrees, while nothing less than 212 degrees will destroy animal life. Therefore, any insects that may be in the fat or the oils are sure to pass alive into the bogus butter. It is estimated that the manufacture of oleomargarine caused a loss of $45,000,000 to American dairy interests last year.

The flow of gold to this country continues without abatement. The steamship Republic, which arrived on the 25th of March, brought $1,000,000; the Wyoming, on the 22d, brought another million, and the Bank of England has parted with over $600,000 for shipment to New York. The drain of gold on France has been so serious that the bank has suspended gold payments, and in the Paris market gold is at a premium of one-half of one per cent.

When Gen. Sherman arrived in Auburn on Tuesday to attend Gen. Emory Upton's funeral he was accosted by an old veteran, who stepped up to the General and extended his hand, saying: "Let me shake hands with you, General. I was with you in the Shenandoah." "Yes," said the General, "that's all right, but I wasn't there." The veteran subsided and slid out of sight as fast as possible. This is one of the sort of veterans that always manage to draw pensions.

Man was created a little lower than the angels and he generally stays there. Never refer to favors conferred. If you owe a man $5 it would be extremely indelicate to allude to it.

It is hoped our government will do nothing to offend the Nihilists in this country. A glass bomb thrown at our navy would entirely obliterate it.

Now, if it had been the King of Sweden instead of the Czar of Russia, we should not have been surprised. The King of Sweden writes poetry.—Norristown Herald.

"But, Miss Tomkins, do tell me [now how old you are." "Oh! but I don't tell my age any more; I'm just as old as I look—there!" "Indeed, I thought you much younger."—Paris Figaro.

Theatre-going is great fun in Leadville. When a new play proves to be very bad the author is enthusiastically called before the curtain and at a given signal the audience begin shooting at him for the drinks.

Out in Leadville when one is introduced to a stranger the polite thing is to ask, "What was your name before you came here?" The next question, according to the rules of etiquette, is, "How did you manage to escape?"—Oil City Derrick.
