IT CURES SCROFUL. Cancer in its early stages, Rheumatism, Heart Disease, Chronic Bilious Colic, and all kinds of eruptions and skin diseases arising from impurity of the blood. As an alternative, Tonic and Blood Purifier it has proven itself unequalled.

SEE GOV. HOLDEN'S OPINION.

W. W. HOLDEN. BALTIMORE, N. C., Dec. 2d, 1880. I take pleasure in stating that a member of my family has used Mrs. Joe Person's Indian Tonic with good results. I believe her remedy to be excellent for the purpose for which it is intended.

SEE JUDGE STRONG'S OPINION.

W. V. STRONG. BALTIMORE, N. C., Dec. 1st, 1880. Mrs. Joe Person - Madam: Some months ago I was in bad health, suffering from debility, indigestion and loss of appetite when I was induced to try your Tonic. I did not win the most happy results. I take great pleasure in recommending it as a valuable and healthful Tonic, and wish you much success. Very respectfully, W. V. STRONG.

Mr. W. D. Mahn has been confined to his house for some time past by typhoid pneumonia. We hope to see him out in a very short time, though he is at present quite ill.

Two corrections: The hole in the Gov. Worth's hull was about 7x12 inches, instead of feet, and the big rattlesnake weighs 13, instead of 50 pounds, as stated by us yesterday. Accidents will happen, you know, in the sanctum as well as in the composing room.

The Produce Exchange

The regular annual meeting of the Produce Exchange was held today at the rooms of the Exchange, on North Water street. Mr. R. M. Calder, president, called the meeting to order. The regular routine of business was then proceeded with, the first in order being the Secretary and Treasurer's report, which was read and then upon motion was received, approved and ordered to be spread upon the minutes. The president then addressed the meeting, congratulating the members of the Exchange upon the good feeling and harmony which had prevailed during the past year, not one case having been submitted to the Arbitration Committee. The president stated that the finances of the Exchange were in an improved condition, and referred to the marked improvement and increase in the cotton trade of this city. The decrease in receipts of naval stores was accounted for from the fact that more attention is now given to the culture and production of cotton to the neglect of the other trade. The president also stated that there had been a general improvement in the business of this port, and he further congratulated the Exchange upon the wholesome effort and influence which the body had exerted and which was felt in every kind of business by establishing rules of trade. After referring to the increased depth of water on the bar, the president concluded his address, and returned his thanks for the courteous and pleasant intercourse which he had enjoyed during his term of office with all of the members. Upon motion it was resolved that the Board of Managers be requested to appoint a quotation committee on grain. Upon motion the meeting adjourned.

The polls were opened this morning for the annual election of officers of the Exchange from 11 o'clock until 1 o'clock, and resulted in the election of all the old officials, as follows: President—R. E. Calder. Vice President—Roger Moore. Board of Managers—A. Martin, C. H. King, B. F. Hall, E. Peschau, Thos. E. Bond.

Inspectors of Election—Oscar Pearsall, Jno. D. Woody, G. J. Boney.

A handsome steam yacht arrived here this morning on the steamship Gulf Stream for Messrs. Empie & Elliott, which those gentlemen propose to run between the city and their place of business on the Cape Fear. The name—Little May—is painted on her stern, but this may be discarded and another substituted.

Easter Goods

Miss E. Karrer has her Spring stock of millinery flowers, bonnets, hats and hair goods in store and asks the attention of the ladies. Her stock is very beautiful and she has some rare and elegant roses and pansies, the latter being hand-painted. Her Easter goods are particularly fine and pretty.

Handsome and Cheap

A very large and beautiful wax doll, superbly and tastefully dressed, leading a little white lamb by a piece of ribbon, is on exhibition in Capt. R. M. McLintire's show window on Front street. The doll will be raffled at the Grand Bazaar and Festival by the ladies of St. Thomas' Catholic Church, to be held at the City Hall on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The doll, which is dressed as a child, is a beauty and will be raffled at 25 cents per chance.

Almost a Fire.

The residence of Mr. Alexander Johnson, Jr., on the corner of Sixth and Walnut streets, made a narrow escape from destruction by fire on yesterday afternoon. The fire was discovered in its incipient and promptly extinguished. Had the devouring element gotten a few more minutes headway there would have been no hopes of checking it. The damage was light.

City Court.

His Honor Mayor Smith sat again at the tribunal of justice this morning and disposed of a case of an affray in which Sarah McKenzie, Emma Tucker and Joanna Larkins, three sable-hued damsels, were the defendants, as follows: To Sarah McKenzie, who is a sort of half-witted creature, His Honor said, "Go in peace, but you must leave this city." The defendant acquiesced in the judgment and then departed. The other two defendants, Emma Tucker and Joanna Larkins, were fined $2.00 each for their violation of the peace, good order and dignity of the city. This finished the business and the Court adjourned.

The Fire this Morning.

The alarm of fire was sounded this morning about 9 o'clock, caused by the burning of the roof of the dwelling of Capt. Jno. L. Boatwright, on the southeast corner of Fourth and Orange streets, Fifth fire district. Capt. J. M. McGowan discovered the fire and gave the alarm. He and others who were soon at hand commenced to remove the furniture, when the engines arrived and soon extinguished the fire. The fire was discovered bursting through the roof at the northwest corner of the house, near one of the chimneys. It originated between the ceiling and the roof, and must have caught from a defective flue. The greatest damage done to the property was by water. Capt. B.'s loss does not amount to very much, and is covered by insurance.

Many Fires but Little Damage.

The second alarm of fire sounded this morning was caused by the burning of the roof of an old dilapidated building, used as a blacksmith shop, on the corner of Front and Walnut streets, third fire district. Upon the arrival of the fire department it was ascertained that the stable attached to Mr. Alex Oldham's mill, on the west side of Front street, was on fire, also the sawdust on Walnut street and the grass in the Methodist Church grave yard was burning. The fires were soon extinguished and the engines were turned back. In a minute or two afterwards smoke was discovered boiling out from under the shingles of the tenement house next east of the blacksmith shop. The Little Giant threw a stream on the house and the fire, which was between the ceiling and upstairs floor, was soon under control. The fires are said to have originated from sparks from the chimney of the Cape Fear Flour and Grist Mills. On the west end of the tenement, one end of a piece of weatherboarding had slipped down about two inches, and it is supposed that a spark must have blown in and set fire to the building. The damage to the house was very light, and is thought to be covered by insurance by the owner, who is represented in this city by Messrs. Cronly & Morris. The furniture in the house is more or less damaged, on which there is no insurance.

Musical.

We have before us the April number of the Musical Herald, published at Boston, Mass. by the Musical Herald Publishing Company. This publication, some months since, gave a very flattering notice of that tissue of slenderous falsehoods, "The Fool's Errand," with which we were supremely disgusted. Its music, however, is always of the very highest order and its musical criticisms are fearlessly just, not hesitating to condemn when necessary and ever ready to praise where the music is worthy. The musical knowledge imparted in its columns is truly valuable, which goes to prove that its editors have an intimate knowledge of that delightful science while they are woefully ignorant of the political history of the South in general and North Carolina in particular.

Board of Aldermen.

The Board of Aldermen met in adjourned session at the City Hall yesterday evening. All the members of the Board were present. Committee on Lights were granted further time to report on applications for street lamps.

Favorable report of Committee on Fire Department on application of the Hook & Ladder Company for the city to feed their horse, and also to purchase a new ladder for the company, was adopted. Further time was granted the committee concerning old hose belonging to the department.

The tax levy for the year 1881 was considered and adopted.

A petition for a new fire alarm was referred to the committee on Fire Department.

Consideration of the matter of the election of policemen was referred to the committee on Police, to be reported at next meeting.

A petition from Messrs. Northrop & Cumming for sundry lamps was referred to committee. The approval of the Board of Audit and Finance of the appropriations and salaries fixed for the fiscal year was read and filed.

F. Mayer was elected city detective, at a salary of $50 per month. Mr. L. M. Williams was elected cattle weigher, and empowered to collect license tax, under direction of the City Tax Collector, as imposed on butchers and hooksters by the tax ordinance.

On motion the Board adjourned.

Wilmington, New Hanover County, N. C. E. R. BRINK, P. M. St. Jacobs. Rev. A. Opitz, of Schleisingerville, Wis., an honored German Minister, writes: "I was a sufferer with Rheumatism for years. Friends recommended the use of St. Jacobs Oil; I tried it and must confess that the result was astonishing. Having hardly used up the first bottle, I found relief, and the second one cured me. I therefore feel under obligations, and shall recommend this effective remedy whenever I have a chance."

Three Close Trips.

Steamship Gulf Stream, Capt. Ingram, arrived here this morning from New York. She left her pier in that city at 4:15 p. m., on Saturday, and arrived here this (Tuesday) morning, about 8 o'clock. She brings a heavy freight. It is a remarkable fact that during the last three trips made out by this fine steamer, Capt. Ingram has brought her to her wharf here within a few minutes, each trip, of the same hour. The Gulf Stream, in addition to her other freight, brings out a steam yacht, referred to elsewhere, and a number of plugs and water mains for the Water Works Company.

The editor of this paper came out from New York this trip on the Gulf Stream and he desires herewith to tender his acknowledgments to Capt. Ingram and his officers for their courteous attentions to him during the very pleasant passage.

For the Far West.

Mrs. John London and Mrs. H. N. Latham, her sister with their children and kinsman, Mr. Eli W. Hall, left this city last night for Fort Laramie, Wyoming Territory. Our young townsman, Mr. W. N. Cronly, son of M. Cronly, Esq., made one of the party also, and goes to Fort Laramie to accept the position of book keeper for Mr. John London, formerly of this city, who is Post Trader at that point. Mr. Cronly has for the past few months been residing temporarily at Goldsboro in the establishment of Messrs. Murchison & Williams of that town. Here is the way the Goldsboro Messenger goes for our young friend:

Mr. W. N. Cronly, the clever and efficient book-keeper and financial clerk of the extensive establishment of Messrs. Murchison & Williams, in this town, leaves to-day to take a position offered him at Fort Laramie in Wyoming Territory. The firm here gives Mr. Cronly up with utmost reluctance and regret, and he carries with him the warmest good wishes of a host of friends in this community, for his success in the new distant home he is seeking. He is a gentleman of amiability and character, possesses rare business qualifications, and is well worthy the esteem and respect of his new friends, as of those whom he leaves behind him.
