SEE JUDGE STRONG'S OPINION.
RALPHIGH, N. C., Dec. 1st, 1880. Mrs. Joe Person—Madam: Some months ago I was in bad health, suffering from debility, indigestion and loss of appetite. When a friend induced me to try your Tonic, I was glad to do so, and in a very short time I felt much better, and in fact, I take great pleasure in recommending it as a valuable and efficient medicine, and wish you much success. Very respectfully,
GEO. V. STRONG.

The City Prison is again empty.
No City Court this morning.
The police has made no arrests for the past three days.

You can now buy Improved Heating and Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.
Hands were engaged to-day in laying pipe for the water works on Market street.
We regret to learn that Mr. W. D. Mahn's condition is not considered any more favorable than it was yesterday.

We advise our friends to call at JACOBI'S for Household Hardware of every description. There you get the lowest prices.
Dan Quinn says his helper is a remarkable man. He is always on a strike, and makes money by it.
Somebody has been hammering out the nickel three cent pieces, so that the head side will pass for that of a dime.
The Nor. barque Atlantic cleared hence for Glasgow, Scotland, to-day with a cargo of 4,139 barrels rosin shipped by Messrs Paterson, Downig & Co.

The river for thirty miles above the city is almost blocked up with timber rafts. The river steamers find considerable trouble in passing them and frequently butt them out of the way.

The second quarterly meeting of Fifth Street M. E. church, South, will be held to-morrow and next day, Saturday and Sunday, Rev. Dr. L. S. Burkhead, P. E., officiating. Love feast to-night, to which all Christians are invited.

In our yesterday's issue we alluded to the fact that the Executive Committee of the State Prohibitory Association had requested Dr. S. S. Satchwell, President of the State Board of Health, to deliver an address before the Prohibitory Convention, which assembles at Raleigh on the 27th inst., in which we may have left the impression that he was to discuss the question in merely a moral point of view. This is an error which we now correct. The question which Dr. Satchwell will discuss before the Convention is "The use of intoxicating liquors in its relation to disease and health." The subject is to be treated in a purely scientific manner, rather than upon the moral issues involved.

A Big Fish But Not a Whale.
Capt. Frank Wilkinson, of the steamer Elizabeth, who every one knows to be a jolly good looking, shrewd, fellow has before kindly helped us to gather information for our readers, but never did he give us an item that we appreciated more than the following one. "Yesterday," said he, "while we were coming up the river running about eighteen knots an hour, I looked over our port bow, nor-by-east-half east when I saw a dark object apparently about fifty feet long, lying on the slanting gang way on the starboard of the fish house at Keg Island. We were then running nor'-west when we changed our course to east-nor'-east-half east and ran for the fisheries. As we approached we saw the object on the slanting gangway sorter raise up, stretch itself and disappear into the water. I knew what it was the moment it struck its natural element, water, and got our harpoons ready, for I was determined to capture that whale. We kept a sharp eye to the windward and chanced our course. Nor' nor' west and resumed the channel. By this time we were making about twenty-two knots an hour, and were bearing down on the No. 4 black buoy, which we passed to the starboard. Just as we passed the buoy we discovered the whale passing across our bows, but out of harpoon reach. I concluded to give him a shot and fired at him with a No. 1 Smith & Wesson six-shooter. Being a pre-tty good shot I stopped his headway and we ran alongside. Well, sir, we got it on board and I'll be blamed if it want the biggest rock fish you ever saw; it weighed eighty-seven pounds and I can prove it by—"
As he was looking around for someone to prove it by, we hurried along to the office to dot the item down while it was fresh in our mind.

Strawberries en Route.
The Railroads are carrying large quantities of strawberries through our city to the Northern markets. The berries are brought from Charleston and vicinity, and reach New York in good condition.

New Regulations for the Telephone.
The subscribers to the Southern Bell Telephone Company will find by reading the advertisement of the Manager, Mr. W. H. Sterling, published in another column, something of interest connected with the management of the Phone under the regulations recently adopted, which promise we apprehend, more satisfaction in the future to subscribers than at any time in the past. Mr. R. Lee West, a young gentleman from Richmond, Va., will be in immediate charge of the Telephone Office, under Mr. Sterling, and will see that all calls on the Exchange are promptly and courteously replied to.

Inspectors of Election Arrested.
Messrs. Gaston H. Hill, Registrar, John G. Darden and J. W. Millis, Inspectors, of the general election held in the Fifth Ward last November, were arrested yesterday on an affidavit sworn out by Hiram Hankins, colored, and carried before U. S. Commissioner McQuigg. The affidavit charges the defendants with refusing to allow the prosecutor to vote, on the plea that his family resided in the Fourth Ward. Hankins states that his family left him about two years ago and has since been residing in the Fifth Ward, but that he remained in the Fourth Ward, living in a place which he has owned since 1853. The defendants challenged his vote on the grounds as set down in law that a married man's residence is where his family lives. And the evidence was that before the defendants could consult together Hankins left the polls. That they concluded to swear him as to residence and allow him to vote and let the responsibility of illegal voting rest upon him; that he was called back and sent for, but he either failed to hear or refused to come back to the polls. There being no evidence against Mr. Darden he was discharged, but Messrs. Hill and Millis were bound over for their appearance at the next term of the U. S. District Court which convenes in this city next month.

Military News.
As a matter of interest to our military friends who contemplate a trip to the Yorktown celebration, we append the following article from the Raleigh News & Observer, that the members of our different military companies may learn the prevailing sentiment in regard to the adoption of a uniform dress for the whole State Guard. Our Raleigh contemporary says:
The idea of the State "service" uniform meets with marked favor in many parts of the State. The idea of a uniform is uniformity. Many persons think the word carries with it the idea of a gaudy dress and equipment. It should be borne in mind that in these days, when the militia of the country are not only "play" soldiers, but real ones as well, they should be equipped for work. Since 1877 it has been the aim of the authorities here to arm the troops with the best rifles attainable, and now the idea of equipping our well armed force in one regulation State service uniform is being entertained. There has been considerable inquiry as to the probable cost of such a uniform. We can only approximate it. Blouses of good cadet gray flannel, lined throughout, will cost, say $3.75; trousers of sky blue cloth, good quality, $4, and fatigue caps 72 cents. This makes the cost of a uniform $8.47. The appearance of a command thus attired, every man exactly alike another, strikes every beholder. The uniform will be at once cheap, serviceable and attractive. Of course this data of the cost is only an estimate, but it is no doubt a pretty close one. A specimen uniform is now being made by a well known firm who, by the way, uniformed the North Carolina troops who engaged in the Mexican war.
The idea in having a service dress is to use it whenever the troops are thrown together. This, under the new law, which allows annual encampments, will be done annually. It is understood that companies may on other occasions wear their own peculiar uniform. It is thought that in view of the three merits so marked of service, ability, cheapness and uniformity, the proposed "service" dress will find favor in the eyes of the Guard. It will add a hundred per cent to the appearance of the command at Yorktown.

Memorial Day.
It will soon be here, and it behooves us to make preparations for a proper observance of the day. True, the Memorial Association has met and have made all their arrangements of committees for decorations and things of a like character, but there are other important measures yet to be taken in order to celebrate the day as it demands. It is very important that all the preliminaries should be arranged several days before hand, and it is hoped that action in the matter will be taken as soon as the ladies can make it conform to their convenience and pleasure.

Complimentary to Mrs. M. P. Taylor.
In response to a general sentiment for a repetition of the "Doctor of Alcantara" the ladies and gentlemen who took parts in the performance on Wednesday evening, have together with Mrs. D. Kahnweiler tendered to Mrs. M. P. Taylor a benefit as an appreciation of her services which have always been so cheerfully given. The complimentary entertainment will be given at the Opera House on Tuesday night next the 26th inst. Mrs. Kahnweiler will between the acts render some of her vocal selections which will bring out the full melody of her charming voice. The tender of a complimentary entertainment to Mrs. Taylor on the part of the ladies and gentlemen is a fitting and just recognition of her valuable services at the entertainments heretofore given by them.

Rev. Dr. Deems' Lecture.
We regret exceedingly that circumstances which we could not control prevented our attendance at the Opera House last night to listen to what has been pronounced by competent judges, as one of the finest of the many able and scholarly productions which have been delivered in the shape of a lecture to a Wilmington audience. From the well known ability of the distinguished divine, who lectured, every one anticipated the feat which we are told was spread for them. Dr. Deems possesses the happy gift and faculty for claiming the attention of his auditors without wearying them from beginning to end, and none who have ever heard him once will less the opportunity when presented of listening to the charm of his voice again. Our disappointment in not being able to give some account of the eloquent effort of the learned gentleman, is only exceeded by our regret that we were not able to be present and enjoy the delightful entertainment.

State Prohibition Convention.
Round trip tickets will be issued at the usual reduced rates on all the railroads in this State to delegates who attend the State prohibitory convention to be held in Raleigh the 27th inst. Parties will ask for the trip ticket at their respective depots. Those who send their names to the committee prior to the meeting of the convention will have homes assigned to them.
All persons who feel a sufficient interest in the cause of prohibition to attend the convention will be admitted as delegates. The convention will assemble at 3 p. m. the 27th.
THOS. E. SKINNER, Chairman Prohibitory Committee.

The Fortune of an Editor.
That St. Jacobs Oil will cure Rheumatism I am convinced. For two years I suffered with Rheumatism in my left shoulder and right arm, and last fall I was incapable of attending to my duties, and lay many a night unable to sleep on account of terrible pains. A few weeks ago a severe attack of this trouble struck me, and this time I concluded to try the St. Jacobs' Oil, I must acknowledge, with but little confidence in its merits. I freely confess that the result has completely astonished me. The first application relieved the pain very materially, and the continued use of only two bottles has completely cured me of this chronic evil, and that after the most eminent physicians and their prescriptions had been of no avail. I therefore consider it a duty to publish the above for the benefit of all sufferers with Rheumatism and kindred complaints.
G. A. HILMAN, Editor Republican, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Concerning the Health of the City.
TO THE EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:
Sir—No doubt you and the Board of Health and municipal authorities are keeping a sharp eye on the digging operations of the water works company people. It is well known all over the South that any cutting up of the soil in the summer months is invariably followed by malignant fevers. After the 1st of May we hope these digging operations will entirely cease until all danger from this cause is declared over.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.
The May Number presents an excellent display of Articles, Stories, Sketches, Poems, etc., etc. The contents are exceedingly varied, and will be found most entertaining and instructive. The leading article is by George Alfred Townsend, entitled "President Garfield and his Cabinet," with eleven excellent illustrations. Among the other profusely illustrated articles are "The Last Conquest of Peru"; an original sketch of travel by August Locher, entitled "The Fat-tailed or Broad-tailed Sheep"; "Hanging Highways," descriptive of primitive and modern suspension bridges, by Arthur V. Abbott; "Optical Illusions," by Conrad W. Cooke—etc., etc. In the department of fiction are a continuation of Benedict's great serial, "A Late Remorse"; a remarkable tale of Old Japan, entitled "Covetousness is the Fountain of Death"; and short stories by popular writers. Mr. Thomas Powell, Louise Chandler Moulton, John Sheehan and others contribute some admirable poems. The miscellany embraces all sorts of subjects—interesting, amusing and instructive. There are 128 quarto pages, representing every department of literature, and with embellishments in the best style of art. The subscription is $3 a year; a single copy 25 cents, sent postpaid. Address, Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 53, 55 and 57, Park Place, New York.

An old lady writes us: "I am 65 years old and was feeble and nervous all the time, when I bought a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic. I have used a little more than one bottle and feel as well as at 30, and am sure that hundreds need just such a medicine." See advertisement.
