The first shrimps of the season were in market yesterday.

At 12 o'clock to-day, in this office, the thermometer registered 74 degrees.

You can now buy Improved Heating and Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.

Go to JACOBI'S for Doors, Sash and Blinds, pure White Lead, Oils, Varnishes Window Glass, all sizes. All at the lowest prices.

The Cincinnati Star editorially says: St. Jacobs Oil is a boon of incalculable value to rheumatic martyrs all over the world.

The steam tug Orlando was raised yesterday and is now on the shoals opposite the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. depot.

The fish market was well supplied yesterday afternoon with pigfish, blackfish, croakers, flounders, &c. Fine pigfish were sold at 15 cents a bunch.

The cool snap continues, but with a better prospect for to-morrow. The wind this forenoon was almost due North but it has since veered around to the West.

The proceedings of the Diocesan Convention and of the second day of the colored convention in Raleigh will be found in full in this issue, as extracted from the Nems and Observer.

There was a stag party of gray beards on the Sound to-day, in honor of the glorious twentieth. Captain Chas. D. Myers' delightful summer residence on Wrightsville was the rendezvous.

If this fine weather continues there will probably be a very large attendance on the excursion to be given to Waccamaw to-morrow by the Sunday School of the First Presbyterian Church. The train leaves the depot at 8:30 o'clock.

All the produce brokers on the wharf paired off to-day and agreed not to make a transaction in spirits, rosin or cotton. In addition to this the Produce Exchange was closed tight, and some of the prominent commission houses on Water street closed their doors at 1 o'clock, for the day. This gave the day something of the appearance of Sunday on the wharf.

The Twentieth.
 With those of us who were left in the city the day passed off very quietly. There was almost literally nothing doing on the wharf, many places of business being closed, while the streets presented a forlorn and deserted appearance. The only parade during the day was that of the Wilmington Light Infantry from their armory to the boat.

The Light Infantry.
 The excursion given by the Wilmington Light Infantry to-day on the steamer Passport to Smithville and the Forts was well attended. At 8 o'clock the company, under command of their new Captain, Col. Jno. L. Cantwell, formed at their armory and marched to the boat. At 9:15 the steamer left her landing and steamed down the river. At Smithville there was target practice, the prize being a beautiful medal of solid gold, to be worn by the winner for one year. This was won by Mr. A. A. Johnson, the same gentleman who carried it off last year. At first there was a tie between Mr. Johnson and Mr. J. W. Brinkley which was shot off, Mr. Johnson scoring 7 and Mr. Brinkley 4 out of a possible 15. At our close the excursionists had not returned to the city.

Many lose their beauty from the hair falling or fading. Parker's Hair Balsam supplies necessary nourishment, prevents falling and grayness and is an elegant dressing.

Fire at Northwest.

Early Wednesday morning the store of Mr. John E. Moore, at Northwest, in Columbus county, on the line of the Carolina Central R. R., was destroyed by fire. The loss is about $500 and there was, we are sorry to learn, no insurance. Mr. Moore and his brother were asleep in the store at the time and barely escaped with their lives. We have not learned the origin of the fire.

Norfolk as a Business Centre.

We have received from Mr. Cary W. Jones, of the Norfolk Virginian, a copy of the second issue of his compilation of "Norfolk as a Business Centre." It is a large volume, handsomely gotten out and profusely illustrated with views of the principal points of interest in and near Norfolk, prominent business houses, hotels, banks, public buildings, &c. It is in every way a very creditable production, and one which seems to be liberally sustained by the business men of that thriving city.

Change in Officers.

We had the pleasure of a visit this morning from Mr. Samuel A. Haney, of the Signal service, who has just arrived in our city and enters upon duty as the Assistant Signal Officer at this station. Mr. Haney relieves Mr. F. H. Clark, who has been on duty here for some time and is now temporarily in charge of the station. Mr. Clark, who was originally ordered to Alaska, has recently received notice to report to Washington City for duty, and will probably leave here on Sunday or Monday for the Capital.

City Court.

Amelia Bradley and Alice Hall, two dusky hued damsels from Paddy's Hollow, found their way to the Guard House under a police escort at the wee sma' hour of 1 o'clock this morning.

Alice Hall was first arrested for disorderly conduct, and taken to the Guard House, where she was followed by Amelia Bradley, and the last named individual was arrested after she reached the Guard room, for her boisterous manners and disorderly conduct there. Mayor Smith, after listening to the evidence in the case, said $10 fine—or thirty days in the C. P., in each case and defendants went below.

A colored individual, who requested us to suppress his name, and a white sailor, were arraigned upon the charge of disorderly conduct. From the evidence in the case, it appeared to the satisfaction of the Court that the individual first referred to in this case was the primary cause of the disturbance, and His Honor thereupon imposed a fine of $3.00. The latter was fined $1.00. Both defendants planked down the spondulicks and the city treasury was increased $4.00. This finished the docket and the Court adjourned.

Lippincott's Magazine.

For June opens with a well illustrated article on "The Lower St. Lawrence and the Saguenay," which is full of fine touches in the way of description, and will no doubt have the effect of sending many summer tourists over a line which presents so many noble features different from those of more familiar routes. The third chapter of Dr. Oswald's "Zoological Curiosities" treats amusingly of "our four handed relatives," and has some capital illustrations. "Among the Cow-boys," by Louis C. Bradford, is an excellent sketch of the life of the Texan herdsman and of the career of King and other great cattle owners. Mr. Dorman B. Eaton discusses the subject of "Tegure of Office." Rowland Connor writes critically but generally of the "Moral Reformers" who blossom out annually at Boston during "anniversary week." "An American Salon in Rome," introduces Miss Brewster and her circle, regarding whom Miss Tinker's new novel, "By the Tiber," has just been piquing the interest of a good many readers. There are several capital short stories and sketches in the number. The serial, "Craque-o'-Doom," reaches a dramatic climax in this number. The poetry is by Maurice Thompson and Louise Chandler Moulton. The editorial departments are well sustained, and the varied character of the number is popular and entertaining.

Magistrate's Row is dull, it is dull at the City Hall, it is dull on Water street, it is dull in commercial circles, and ye local is feeling dull, consequently we can give nothing but dull news to-day.

The Ladies' Memorial Association.

The regular annual meeting of the Ladies' Memorial Association of Wilmington was held at the school room in rear of St. James' Church yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. We are happy to learn that there was a much larger attendance than usual and many new members admitted. There was also a much deeper interest manifested on this occasion, we have been told, than has been shown on many previous occasions for several years past. The subscriptions from old and new members, including private donations of $5.50, amounted to $35.50. We have also been informed that since the adjournment of the meeting other names have been added to the list of members. This we know must be very gratifying to those ladies who are still endeavoring to preserve the organization, and continue the prevailing custom of once a year on each succeeding anniversary of the death of Jackson of making the annual pilgrimage to the tomb of those who sleep in quiet Oakdale. The efforts of this Association in rescuing from oblivion the names of the dead Confederate soldiers will be probably appreciated when it is known that the grave of every soldier interred in the sacred precincts of that beautiful city of the dead, that had naught else but a common wooden head board to mark the place of his resting, has been supplanted by a marble stone, with the name and command of the deceased carried upon it. This together with the beautiful memorial of the silent soldier on guard in the Confederate lot, will be lasting monuments to the efforts of the noble ladies of the Memorial Association. In this connection we will state that we recently heard a gentleman, whose experience and observation are both varied and extensive, state at a private dining that he had seen many shafts and columns which served the place of monuments to the departed worth of those who slept beneath or who had fallen in defence of their country at different times in the carnage of war, among which was the monument in London to the soldiers of the Crimean war, but never had he observed one so beautiful in symmetry, so tasteful in design, and so appropriate to the purpose, as the Confederate monument in Oakdale. There is no doubt that this monument is an ornament to the place and a credit to the worthy ladies and their good male friend who aided them so materially in accomplishing this work. What a pity then that such an association should languish for want of active working members? But we know such will not be the case; we have too much confidence in the true women of our fair Southland to suppose that they will let any indifference overtake them in their noble work.

The following officers of the Association were elected yesterday for the ensuing year:
 President—Miss Hettie James.
 Vice President—Mrs. A. L. DeRosset
 Secretary—Miss Kate Burr.
 Treasurer—Mrs. E. A. Anderson.
 Managers—Mrs. Jno. L. Cantwell, Mrs. Roger Moore, Mrs. John Poisson, Mrs. W. Geo. Thomas, Mrs. John Rankin, Mrs. Daggett, Mrs. James Hill, Mrs. T. H. McKoy, Mrs. Norman McRae, Mrs. Eugene Wiggins, Miss Julia James, Miss Bettie Price, Mrs. Wm. R. French, Mrs. Owen Fennell, Mrs. J. J. Hedrick.

We advise our friends to call at JACOBI'S for Household Hardware of every description. There you get the lowest prices.

Ignoring the Negroes

It is hard to understand what J. C. Hill, of this city, meant by the resolution he introduced into the colored convention at Raleigh on Wednesday, in regard to what he termed, "the ignoring of the negro by the Democrats." Hill is one of the last men in North Carolina to talk of such a thing, inasmuch as he is now, and has been for four years past, a Justice of the Peace of New Hanover county, appointed by a Democratic Legislature. This Democratic appointment has been his bread and meat since 1876.
