WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY, JUNE 14, 1881

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N C., as Second Class Matter.

Mr. P. Lorillard has matched his col Sachem, by War Dance, dam Sly Boots, against Messrs Dwyer Brothers' cold Onondaga, by Leamington, dam Susan Beane, three quarters of a mile, for $5,000 a side. The race will come off at Jerome Park on Safurday, 25th mst.

The London Economist estimates the average immigrant, in capital or capital producing force, at $1,000, an estimate which agrees with the opinions of political economists generally. Looked at in this light, the United States is being enriched at present to the amount of $4, 000,000 or $5,000,000 daily.

Florida, having established a large and growing market for her oranges, is now beginning to ship peaches to the New York market. A consignment arrived recently, packed in compartment boxes like the patent egg boxes, and each peach wrapped in cotton. They were apparently as fresh as when picked from the tree, and sold readily at two dollars a dozen.

During the first five months of this year 182,108 immigrants were landed at Castle Garden. The corresponding per iod of last year was remarkable for the from taking up a collection. activity of immigration, but the arrivals of 1881 exceeded those for 1880 by 46, 772. They have steadily increased month by month, and in May alone they were much more than half the total number joking, Elise, I do adore you. When I for the first five months of last year.

A foreign correspondent writes to a German paper that the order to close the saloons of St. Petersburg on the morning and evening of the day on which the five Nihilists were executed was a clever forgery of the signature of Leris Melikoff, minister of the interior. It was a concection of the Nihilists to have the same tokens of mourning observed on that occasion as were observed after the death of the late Czar.

The Washington Star does not mean to leave any room for a new Administration organ there, and says: "It will be well for all parties interested to know and to realize that President Garfield is endowed with the rare genius of rulership. He evades no responsibility and is controlled by no subordinates. His relations with every member of his Cabinet are most cordial, but the head of the table is where MacGregor sits."

The New York Sun professes to have received intelligence from Washington City to the effect that Mr. Blaine, Secretary of State, is "not only seriously but alarmingly ill." The Sun does not indicate the exact nature of the disease but we infer that it must to paralysis. It tells us that:

Mr. Blaine's most intimate friends, personal as well as political, have seldom been able to see him, even when they have called at his residence, of late. The commissions of officers whose appointment Mr. Blaine most earnestly desired. though made out by the clerks, remain unsigned by the Secretary of State. This district is without a Judge, simply on account of a lack of muscular strength in Mr. Blaine's right hand to sign his commission.

Gen. Grant has arrived in Chicago from Mexico and will leave that city for New York to-morrow. He discusses on the great political question of the day in New York, the Conkling farce, and expresses his firm and unalterable and undying belief in the hero of Sprague's little shot gun. He will leave Chicago for New York to-morrow and when once he gets there and has fairly flung his mouth into the mess we predict that the deadlock will be broken, either by the rout of in a very feeling manner by Conrad A. all of Conkling's forces or else by an adjournment. It is difficult to understand how Grant can help Conkling in this contest, especially when it is remembered that New York State never did take much stock in Grant as a politician.

The suit against the Catholic Church property of the Cincinnati Diocese, brought by the assignee of Archbishop Purcell, was called in the Common Pleas Court at Cincinnati, last week. The suit is against all property which is held of the North Carolina conference. in trust by the Archbishop, and includes churches, schoolhouses, hospitals, cemeteries, and such city and other property as has been given by benevoleht persons for the use of the Church, and has been held in trust by the Archbishop. The creditors represented by the assignee 1881. number about 5,000, and their claims aggregate $4,000,000. The suit will, by agreement, go at once to a higher court. The chief point at issue—one which it storing gray hair to its original color and is said has never been decided in the beauty.

courts-is whether the property held in trust by a bishop of the church is liable for his debts.

A mong the rumors floating around to. day, says a Washington local, is one to the effect that a statement from ex-Governor Shepherd will soon be given to the public containing a full account of the $5,000 fee paid to General Garfield in the matter of the De Golyer pavement contract Of course General Shepherd knows all about this matter, but although he is such a close friend of General Guant and Senator Conkling, it is doubtful whether he would consider it just the thing for him to tell all he knows about it. Rumors are thick as to developments which are impending, and which will put ex-Secretary Sherman in an awkward position on account of transactions during his adminstration of the Treasury Department. These rumors have been brought to Mr. Sherman's attention, and he says they are beneath his notice.

Here is the Test.
