PELLERIN'S MILL'S, Carteret Co., N. C., July 17th, 1879.

Mrs. PERSON—Dear Madam: I think your medicine is the best that is now before the public for the cure of blood diseases. I have great confidence in it, and believe that it will do all that you claim for it. I have the personal knowledge of the condition of young Mr. Stokes, before he commenced taking your medicine, and I see you have the testimonial that he is cured. Go on, and I say God speed you in your efforts to ameliorate the condition of mankind, and add to his comfort and happiness. I will do all in my power for you among my friends. Yours respectfully,
DR. W. H. BARKER

At 3 P. M. to day the thermometer in this office stood at 93 degrees.

Ger. brig Cromarty, from this port, arrived on the 13th inst. at London.

Swedish barque Oriental arrived at Glasgow on the 13th inst. from this port.

Nor. brig Erstatingen, from this port, arrived at Antwerp on the 13th inst.

Study your interest! You can now buy Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.

Steamship Benefactor, Capt. Jones, arrived here this morning from New York.

We understand that Rev. Dr. Bernheim's resignation was accepted by the congregation of St. Paul's E. L. Church last Sunday.

"Tis love that makes the world go round." It also makes the young man go round—to the home of the girl about seven nights per week.

Decline of Man.
Impotence of mind, limb, or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility &c, cured by Wells' Health Renewer. $1. At Druggists. Depot Jas. C. Munds.

The fire steamer Cape Fear was out yesterday at the foot of Market street, for trial. They had no coal and were compelled to burn wood. The trial was satisfactory.

The presence of the excursionists from Fayetteville, and those who are drawn here to the chicken fight and horse race, make our streets look a little livelier this forenoon.

It is absolutely painful to see vessels discharging Northern hay here, while there are thousands upon thousands of good hay lands left entirely idle within a few hours' ride of Wilmington.

William Hall, colored, of Charlotte, will run an excursion between that city and Wilmington on the 27th inst., on the occasion of the meeting of the State Grand Lodge of Good Samaritans, colored.

The barn and stables of Mr. K. J. Brady, of Carver's Creek township, Bladen county, were destroyed by fire early last Sunday morning, together with the contents of the barn and two valuable horses in the stable. Loss about $500; no insurance.

We understand that the C. M. Stedman Bucket Company have concluded to give an excursion to Smithville and the Fort on Wednesday, the 29th inst., two weeks from to-day, and to this end have chartered the Passport for that occasion.

The family excursion given on the Passport yesterday to Smithville was a very successful and a very pleasant affair, and we trust that there was "something over" when the expenses were all paid, for the benefit of the worthy object for which the excursion was given.

Exports Foreign.
The exports yesterday to foreign ports consisted of 4,225 bbls. rosin, per German barque Richard, to Granton, 500 bbls. spirits turpentine and 2,650 bbls. rosin, per Norwegian barque Brakka, to Belfast, Ireland—both shipments by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son; and 169,133 feet of lumber and 45,100 shingles, per Schooner Vineyard, to Port-au-Prince, Hayti, by Messrs. Northrop & Cumming.

Departure of a Prisoner.
Sheriff McCallum, of Columbus county, arrived in this city to-day from Whiteville and took Alfred Thompson from the New Hanover county jail into custody and conveyed him under his especial escort with the aid of a pair of handcuffs to the depot of the W. C. & A. R. R. where Sheriff McCallum with his prisoner took the 4 o'clock accommodation train for Whiteville. The prisoner Thompson is the same whose capture was recorded in these columns on Saturday last and who made his escape from the Gas House in this city, where he was working some time since, about the time efforts were being made for his capture. His safe conduct to Whiteville jail is assured now under Sheriff McCallum.

Another Spectacle.

The next grand spectacle the heavens will offer will occur on the 21st, when the moon will be in conjunction with Mars and Saturn. On the morning of the 23d the heavens will present a superb picture, made up of the waning moon, and the bright planets Venus and Jupiter. Between 5 o'clock on the morning of the 21st and 2 o'clock in the afternoon of the 22d the moon is in conjunction with five planets—Mars, Saturn, Neptune, Jupiter and Venus.

The K. of P. Excursion.

The steamer North State, having on board about one hundred ladies and gentlemen from Fayetteville, arrived in this city this morning about 11 o'clock. The excursionists, who are under the care of the Knights of Pythias of Fayetteville, embarked on the steamer Passport at 12 o'clock for a trip down the river. Quite a number of the citizens of this place accompanied them. It is now undecided as to what hour the Passport will return.

County Aid to the Duplin Canal.

At Kenansville, on Monday, the 6th inst., during the sitting of the Magistrates, they gave Maj. W. L. Young a hearing upon the question of Duplin county giving aid to the Canal.

Maj. Young stated, according to the report of our correspondent, that he had not been authorized by the Company to take any steps in the matter, but as the Magistrates represented the sovereignty of the county, it would be well for them to advise themselves upon the matter.

That the Legislature of North Carolina had empowered counties and towns to give aid to the Company, either by taking stock or endorsing the Company's bonds. And while the Company could at will submit the question to any county or town for the action of the popular vote, yet it required the majority of the votes cast in any county or town to give the legal sanction.

Major Young stated that he was hopeful that the Company would be able to get along without having to call upon the county for aid; but in case the Company should do so, then the county could be secured by making the stock preferred and prior to a first mortgage; that this would preserve the county's interest even should the Company fail.

That the county would make money by taking stock as the investment would be a good one. The profits on the drained lands would be very great, and the tolls would be perpetual. Upon the close of his remarks Major Young thanked the Magistrates for the courtesy they had extended to him.

For years the canal scheme has had to struggle against old time prejudices, ignorance and ridicule, all of which are formidable obstacles to overcome. But day by day the scheme is becoming to be better understood, and less attention is being paid to the many idle rumors circulated around. And the public mind begins to realize that the canal enterprise will be a success in the near future as it has outlived ridicule and is now receiving the serious attention of the intelligent.

Should the county be solicited to take stock the amount that will be asked for will not exceed 28 cents on the one hundred dollars worth. By dividing this into two payments it would only be 14 cents for each respective year. This amount is too small to receive any serious opposition.

If the Canal should be extended to the mouth of Goshen, the result to Duplin would be fabulous, as it would increase the value of real property double. Duplin county has never done anything for herself. Now is the time to secure the drainage of the 50 or 60,000 acres of mud land within her borders; should she move in the matter it would stimulate the other interested counties to joint action.

W. J. Moran, Esq., 3 St. Charles Market, Boston, Mass., observes: For two years past I have been lame from water about the kneejoint. I have bandaged the knee, used liniments and prescriptions from eminent physicians of Boston, without any benefit. The only relief I could obtain was from the hand of a hired nurse. Two weeks since I was ordered to try St. Jacobs Oil. The swelling is reduced, the nurse discharged, the tendons have relaxed, the pain has to a great extent disappeared, the bandages removed, and I feel free from pain and better than I have for two years.

Superior Court.

The entire time of the Court has been occupied for the past two days with the case of M. P. Taylor versus the Bell Telephone Company, in which plaintiff brings suit against the Telephone Company for a violation of the contract made with him by a summary dismissal from their employ without occasion on his part for such action. The plaintiff also claims damages to the amount of several thousand dollars for damages to his good character in the matter of a card published in the daily papers of this city, in which it was stated by the General Southern Agent of the Telephone Company that Mr. DeForest superseded and succeeded M. P. Taylor, who was removed for cause. The defendant in the suit introduced no testimony but relied simply upon the plaintiff's witnesses. The counsel for plaintiff, as we have already previously stated, was Col. D. K. McRae and Judge Russell, Attorneys for defendant Majors D. J. Devane and C. M. Stedman. Major Devane made the first speech before the jury yesterday afternoon, and it was thought by his brethren of the bar to be a very able one while by others it was characterized as a very ingenious argument. Judge Russell followed Major Devane in a speech of about forty-five minutes, but it is seldom that a lawyer or a public speaker either says so much in that small space of time as did this profound and gifted lawyer in the few remarks which he interjected into this case before the Judge and Jury yesterday afternoon. Col. Dunbar K. McRae followed Judge Russell and spoke over an hour, continuing his speech this morning for at least two hours. The members of the bar who listened to the last named distinguished speaker refer to it as one of the best efforts of his life. However this may be, certain it is that Col. McRae's speech was a very elaborate one, and exhibited an amount of legal acumen that few members of the bar can rival, and none, we believe, surpass him in the possession of. Major Stedman followed Col. McRae for the defendant, and we are told, made a very good speech. It was not our privilege to remain and hear the last named gentleman to the end, though we heard his beginning, which was in his usual bold and aggressive style.—His Honor's charge we were also debarred the pleasure of listening to, but we are told that it was clear and comprehensive in its meaning and impartial, as was to be expected, in its bearing towards the two interested parties. The Judge concluded his charge at 2 o'clock, when the jury retired to make up a verdict, and are at this writing, 4 p. m., still out. The counsel for plaintiff noted one or two exceptions to the ruling of the Court in regard to the admission of testimony during the progress of the trial and also one or two exceptions we believe during the Judge's charge. The counsel for defendant also noted some exceptions during the progress of the trial.

Ventilate Your Closets.

The Scientific American tells us that soiled undergarments or the wash clothes ought not to be put into a closet, ventilated or not ventilated. They should be placed in a large bag made for the purpose, or a roomy basket, and then put in a well-aired room at some distance from the family. Having thus excluded one of the fertile sources of bad odors in closets, the next point is to see that the closets are properly ventilated. It matters not how clean the clothing in the closet may be, if there is no ventilation, that clothing will not be what it should be. Any garments after being worn for a while will absorb more or less of the exhalations which arise from the body, and thus contain an amount of foreign matter which may be hurtful—matter which free circulation of pure air can soon remove.

The Chicken Dispute.

The chicken contest is still in progress. Up to 1 o'clock to-day, there had been five fights in all, one yesterday and four to-day. Those fought to-day were won equally by Charlotte and Wilmington, and as Charlotte won that fought yesterday she is now one ahead. According to the programme, there are yet seventeen fights to come off.

City Court.

Dave Mallett for being D. and D. again was sent below for ten days.

One case of D. and D. being the first of the kind with the defendant, was dismissed.

Mary Stewart, the colored girl arrested for assault upon Wesley Aney with a deadly weapon, was turned over to a Justice of the Peace for trial.

Miss Ina MacCall.

It must have been exceedingly gratifying to Miss MacCall to be greeted by so large an audience as assembled at the Opera House last evening on her first appearance in this city. She had a critical and an intelligent audience and in point of numbers it was much larger than that which greeted Mrs. Scott-Siddons when she appeared here.

Miss MacCall was introduced by Col. A. M. Waddell in a very appropriate address. Her repertoire consisted of seven pictures and only in the first did she appear in propria persona, reciting in a very clearer manner Charles Mackay's poem, "If I were a voice." The other pictures were presented in costume and were selected with a view of showing Miss MacCall's versatility. She evinced much careful training and the manurism of the professional style. Her voice does not seem to be one of great volume but it is musical and sonorous and we think when she has more experience and it enabled to judge of the size of the hall she must fill she will appear to better advantage. Her enunciation was clear and distinct. We thought Miss MacCall very clever in her recitations but were better pleased with her in "Widow Bedott's Poetry" and Tennyson's latest poem, "Rizpah." She is a young lady of great promise and we think is destined to take an elevated stand in the profession for which she has a talent and which she has chosen. She must not cease to work and study or permit her friends to persuade her into the belief that she is now a great actress. Miss MacCall, accompanied by her mother, left this morning for their home in Rockingham.
