Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as Second Class Matter.

STILL LIVING.

At this writing, in the forenoon, President Garfield still lingers and there are some hopes yet of his ultimate recovery.

President Garfield's condition is, however, very precarious. Of that there can be no question.

The news from Washington City this forenoon, instead of being such as to confirm our fears, is rather inclined to strengthen our hopes.

On the first page of this issue will be found the latest information as to the President's condition, up to the hour of putting our paper to press.

ONE IN FACT AND FEELING.

The dastardly attempt upon the life of President Garfield has developed most palpably one important fact and that is that the people of this country, in matters of supreme importance, are one in fact and in feeling as well as in nationality.

It is a part of the unwritten law of the land, a theory which finds its expression more in facts than in words, that the person of the President of these United States is as sacred as that of the priest at the altar.

This may be hard to the understanding of others, but to the people of this country it is a law of their republican natures.

things may be hard to the understanding of others nations but to us it is a plain and simple and imperative law of our free-born nature.

Pr. Justice Kills.

Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had poohed at for two years, before using it.

MONDAY

We wouldn't care to be the prettiest girl alive. We'd rather be next to her. The monstache is a great epicure.

Why is the earth like a blackboard? Because the children of men multiply on the face of it.

It is an extraordinary fact that those who get to high words generally use very low language.

It was said of an egotistical writer: "Somebody should take pity on his readers and put out his 'I's'."

"Never," says an Irish orator, "write an anonymous letter without signing your name to it."—Lowell Citizen.

There is a temperance society in Russia that binds its members to abstain from brandy until it becomes cheaper.

"What astonishing things women are!" exclaims the Figaro. "They are always thinking of nothing, or of something else."

American horses will never make as much money abroad as American denkeys have spent there.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

The American horse is doing much to remove the disagreeable impression created by American tourists abroad.—Boston Courier.

It is not surprising that there is a great deal of pride at our seaside watering places, for there every wave has its crest.—Boston Courier.

A blind beggar was asked why he entered his dog at the show, and replied, "To demonstrate the importance of dogs applied to industry."

The meanest man on record is in New York. He invited a night watchman to take a drink, and slyly puttin it a powerful stimulant that would keep the man awake all night.—Boston Post.

A Physician of Great Prominence in Thirty-sixth street, New York city, was unable to even help Mr. Wm. McKee, of Patterson, N. J., suffering the agonies attendant upon diseased kidneys.

The mails close and arrive at the City Post Office as follows: Northern through mails, 5:30 p. m.
