MRS. JOE PERSON'S SCROFULA

REMEDY FOR NEVER FAILS.

It Will Cure if Fairly Tested.

It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of Scrofula from the use of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy for that disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three very eminent physicians, without any good result. I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated there for more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with. After returning from the Institute, I was persuaded to try Mrs. Person's Remedy, and had not used it more than a week before I discovered its curative and healing properties. My sores soon began to heal, and the color of my skin changed as fast as the sores healed. I had not thought of ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spirits disappeared before the remedy, and I am now enjoying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild as a purgative, and a strong tonic; it will heal the most stubborn sores in three weeks if taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sores are healed, to remove the cause of its effects. It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it, from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure already made would commence to retrace, and for this alone it should be taken regularly until an effectual cure is completed. Nothing should prevent regularity in the use of the remedy and it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend it to all who are suffering from Scrofula to give it a fair test. I speak from experience and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of it and I can under many and lasting obligations to Mrs. Joe Person for the great relief I have obtained from its use. Sufferers, try it and be convinced of its merits. I am, respectfully,
J. M. LAMMELL, N. C. JAMES A. MORRIS, Agent.

Col. I. J. Young, of Raleigh, is expected to speak here on Wednesday against the Prohibition bill.

His Honor the Mayor has returned to the city and was in his accustomed place at the city court room this morning.

Ger. barque Prospero cleared at this port today for Hamburg, with 3,546 barrels rosin shipped by Messrs Paterson, Dowling & Co.

The Southern Express Company has just carried into effect a new schedule of rates. The charges have been in many instances reduced, and a small package can now be sent from Wilmington to New York for 25 cents.

Bed-Bugs, Roaches.

Rats, mice, ants, flies, vermin, mosquitoes, insects, &c., cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c. boxes at druggists.

Messrs Watson & Eckel want ten thousand pounds of vanilla or dog tongue for which they will pay the highest cash market prices. The woods are full of the "dog tongue," as it is generally called, and persons might do well in gathering it. See their advertisement elsewhere.

The Rainfall.

The Chief Signal Officer furnishes the following. The rainfall for the past week in the Cotton Belt averages about as follows:

South Atlantic States39 inches
Eastern Gulf States99 "
Western Gulf States	1.12 "
Ohio Valley and Tennessee72 "
Average for the district80 "

The River.

The steamers Wave and North State were both here to-day and left this afternoon with the expectation of going through to Fayetteville, as a dispatch has been received here to-day stating that there has been a rise of twelve inches. The Murchison will leave Fayetteville to-morrow on her regular trip for this port.

Stunned by Lightning.

Mr. W. H. Freeman, a son of Dr. Jno. F. Freeman, was stunned by lightning last evening at his father's residence, on Second and Orange streets. It was at least ten minutes before Mr. Freeman was restored to consciousness. The lightning did not seem to strike anywhere in the vicinity of Dr. Freeman's residence, that is, no trace of it has been discovered.

Yesterday's Storm.

This city and section were visited late yesterday afternoon with another violent rain storm which we learn from the Signal office extended generally along the North and South Atlantic coasts. Rain also fell in the New England and Middle States. On the Northern frontier some remarkably low temperatures were reached. At Eastport it was 60; at Burlington 58; at Montreal and Quebec 55; at Alpena 58 and at Duluth 65.

Mr. James Daley, who resides at No. 551 North Avenue, New York, says: About five years since, I fell from a scaffold and severely injured my back and have been a sufferer ever since. A short time ago I slipped and fell on the sidewalk and greatly aggravated my old trouble. While in this unhappy condition a friend recommended St. Jacobs Oil and I was induced to give it a trial. After applying it for a short time, I was completely cured, not only of the bruises and effects of my last fall, but of those consequent upon my first hurt and which had lingered with me for five years. I can therefore conscientiously bear testimony to the wonderful curative properties of St. Jacobs Oil.

The Big Snake.

The rattlesnake which has been trying the Tanner-Griscom diet at the store of Mr. Thos. H. Smith, on Front street, rattled off his immortal coil yesterday afternoon. The snake has lived eleven weeks without food and his fasting throws the other fasters, who have been doing the thing for scientific purposes only—well, except the gate money, if you choose—far into the shade. His snake-ship's skin will be stuffed. It is supposed that the snake was drowned as it was left out in the rain yesterday and his box was half full of water this morning.

City Court.

Hubbard Cannon, colored, was arraigned upon the charge of disorderly conduct, and it all occurred about the purchase of a watermelon which defendant bought but didn't pay for, from Moses Reilley, colored. Hubbard used some jaw-breaking words in his argument for his defence before the Mayor which were somewhat analogous to, or on a parallel with, "de archives of gravity," but they did not avail him anything. His Honor the Mayor said $2 fine, which defendant will have to pay or go below.

The Sumter Light Infantry.

Quarter Master Sergeant Rheams, of the Sumter Light Infantry, arrived in this city this morning and left on the steamer Passport for Smithville, having in charge the company's supplies, etc. He reports a good crowd, both military and civic, as coming on the excursion. The company will be met at the depot to-morrow morning by the W. L. Infantry and escorted to their armory and from there to the Passport. Quite a number of persons of this city are expected to accompany the Sumter Light Infantry down the river. We wish them a good time.

A Vivid Flash and a Sharp Crash.

Last evening's thunder storm, for the space of three quarters of an hour, was very severe indeed; while the rain poured in torrents the lightning flashed vividly and the thunder rolled deep and loud, louder even than the bombardment of Fisher or the 500 field pieces that belched forth fire and destruction at Gettysburg. Wherever there was a telephone wire or instrument the lightning cracked and popped on the wires as loud as a toy pistol. But amidst it all there came one flash which almost blinded, accompanied by a peal of thunder which shook the earth, apparently, and it was evident that something or somebody must have been hit; this morning we learned that the residence of Mr. William Waters, on Third street, near the corner of Nun, was struck, stunning Mr. Waters and his daughter also, slightly. But we are happy to record the fact that both Mr. W. and the young lady had entirely recovered from the effects of the shock this morning. The damage to the house was slight, tearing only a small hole in the floor and knocking down a little plastering on the side of the wall. The electric fluid is supposed to have entered a window where a telephone wire was fastened, which had been placed there with the intention of securing a fire alarm for one of the young gentlemen in the family who belonged to our volunteer fire department. But the alarm had never been fixed and the wire only served the purpose of conveying the lightning into the house; after doing the damage above mentioned the current is supposed to have passed out on a gas pipe into the ground below.

Prejudice Kills.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery under the care of several of the best (and some of the worst) physicians, who gave her disease various names but no relief, and now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had pooled at for two years, before using it. We earnestly hope and pray that no one else will let their sick suffer as we did, on account of prejudice against so good a medicine as Hop Bitters."—The Parents.—Telegraph.

Incidents of the Storm.

The storm last evening caused much inconvenience and trouble to many of our citizens. We heard of one instance where a couple of gentlemen who had no thought of ever lodging at the Poor House were compelled to take refuge there, having driven out that far in a buggy when the gust came up, and seek the hospitality of the keeper of that institution for the remainder of the night—any port in a storm. But daylight found them on the road back to the city again, where they arrived safe and sound, much to the relief of their many friends, who wondered with considerable anxiety what had become of them.

We heard of another instance of quite a narrow escape of two gentlemen who were driving up from the Sound after dark. The story as we heard it states that they had a collision on the road with another vehicle, which threw one of our friends out upon the ground while the other gathered up the reins as best he could and hauled in the frightened animal, who by this time had started in a full run; meantime our friend upon the ground gathered himself up from the praying attitude into which he had either been thrown or had assumed, and made haste to regain his seat in the buggy.

The first words spoken were by our friend who picked himself up from the mud and water into which he had been thrown on the confines of a ditch. Says our ground and lofty tumbler: "Look here, let us agree not to say anything about this little matter when we get to town." "Agreed, it is," says No. 2, but some how or other the affair leaked out and they have been receiving the congratulations of their many friends all the morning, to which let us add our congratulations.

Bold Robbery.

Last night, somewhere between the hour of 10 o'clock and 5 o'clock this morning, a robber broke a pane of glass in a window on the north side of Mr. John Haar's saloon, which opens on an alley running from Front to Water streets, removed an iron bar which had been placed over the window to prevent its being raised, and with this bar or some other implement or instrument, broke a small pad-lock which was run through two staples, one of the staples being fastened to the sash and the other to the facing of the window, where it was securely locked and served as a double protection as the proprietor thought, against the window being raised, and the saloon entered by raising the window. To a man with evil intent like the robber of last night, the bar and the lock proved no barrier at all. The thief, after effecting his entrance, made for the money drawer, where he gathered in several silver dollars, halves and quarters, to the extent of about ten dollars. This was change that was left in the till on Saturday night, but the bold burglar scorned to be bothered with anything smaller than a quarter of a dollar and left all the small change, such as ten cents and five cents pieces, untouched. The night marauder must have evidently been a novice at such things for he did not even shove the slide drawer back and look in the bottom of it, or he might have enriched himself several dollars more. Luckily for Mr. Haar, he did not understand the modus operandi exactly, and the money in the bottom of the drawer is still in possession of the rightful owner. Mr. Haar may have his suspicions as to who the thief is, but he does not say. The robber made his exit in the same way that he effected his entrance, closing the window behind him after going out. Mr. Haar and Chief of Police Brock are inclined to think that possibly the depre-dator might have been concealed in the saloon on Saturday night when they locked up and broke the window and lock from the inside to serve as a sort of blind to hide suspicion as to who the man was. There is one thing very sure and apparent to any one's understanding and that is that the man who committed the deed evidently understood the situation and knew all about the premises.

The Children's Friend.

Mr. W. R. Hunter addressed the young people at Front street M. E. Church on Saturday night and again yesterday afternoon, and at the First Baptist Church last night. He is justly called "The Children's Friend" as he has been laboring for them for the past thirty years. He was at Smithville to-day but will return to an lecture in the First Baptist Church at Thursday evening.

Arrest of an Alleged Murderer.

Officer Bunting this morning arrested a white man in this city who goes by the name of J. H. Williams, but who answers the description of one Obadiah Ross, who committed a murder in Jefferson county, Ga., some four years ago. The night chosen for the infamous deed was a cold winter's night in the month of December, and year of 1877. The murdered man's name was Nathaniel Cornwall. He was keeping a store at the little town of Bartow, Ga., and slept in the back part of the building. On the night above mentioned the store caught fire and burned to the ground, and upon searching among the debris the next morning the charred remains of the unfortunate proprietor was found; foul play was immediately suspected, and several suspicious parties arrested, one of whom confessed the crime and implicated Obadiah Ross, Officer Bunting has the photograph of Ross and also a description, and they all fit the man Williams, whom he arrested and had committed to jail this morning, exactly. In the meantime the officer is in correspondence with the Jefferson county authorities, some of whom will be on in a few days to identify the prisoner. A reward of $400 has been offered for the murderer Ross, and if Williams is the murderer, we trust he will receive his reward according to law, while we hope that the officer will receive his proper reward for his vigilance, according to the published advertisement. Williams was arrested to-day on the street about 12 o'clock. Officer Bunting has been working this case up for several days and deserves much credit for the successful way in which he has managed it from the beginning.

Lippincott's Magazine.

Lippincott's Magazine for August is a capital number for midsummer reading. The illustrated articles are "A Glimpse of the Cumberland Border," the first of two papers, descriptive and anecdotal, by Miss Rose Kingsley, daughter of the late Canon Kingsley; "The Home of the Giant Squid," by C. F. Holder, which is a nautical piece, with the breeziness of the ocean and the flavor of salt spray and the continuation of Dr. Oswald's excellent and entertaining series on "Zoological Curiosities." "New Ground," by S. M. A. Collins, is a graphic sketch of labor and field-life on a Tennessee tobacco plantation. "The Pension Office" and "New York's Fresh-Air Fund" are timely papers, full of noteworthy details; "On the Wrong River," by C. F. Johnson, Jr., is the narrative of an exciting adventure in the Adirondacks; and "Housekeeping in North Carolina" is a bit of personal domestic experience.

"Captain Pat's Novel," by Susan B. Long, and "Santa Lucia," by J. D. J. Kelley, are effective and well constructed stories. "Craque-o-Doom" is brought to a conclusion, and is to be followed by a new serial, by Sherwood Bonner, which will begin in the September number and run to the close of the year.

GRAY HAIRS ARE HONORABLE, but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair Balsam is popular for cleanliness and promptly restoring the youthful color.
