MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY FOR SCROFULA
 NEVER FAILS.
It Will Cure if Fairly Tested.
 It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of Scrofula from the use of Mrs. Joe Person's remedy for this disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three very eminent physicians, without any good result. I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated there for more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with. After returning from the Institute, I was persuaded to try Mrs. Person's remedy, and I had not used it more than a week before I discovered the curative and healing properties. My sores soon began to heal, and the color of my skin changed as fast as the sores healed. I had not thought of ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spirits disappeared, and for this remedy, and I am now enjoying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild as a purgative, and a strong tonic; it will heal the most stubborn sores in three weeks if taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sore is healed, to remove the cause of its effects. It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it, from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure already made would commence to retrograde, and for this alone it should be taken regularly until an effectual cure is completed. Nothing should prevent regularity in the use of the remedy, and it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend to all who are suffering from Scrofula to try it. It will surely cure you if you give it a fair test. I speak from experience and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of it and under many and lasting obligations to Mrs. Person for the great relief I have obtained from its use. I am, respectfully,

The heat of the day has been very much tempered by the fine breeze which has prevailed all day long, such a breeze as is unknown in some other localities.

The August term of the Criminal Court for New Hanover county convenes on the first Monday in August, which in this instance happens to be the first day of the month, so the regular August term of this Court commences one week from Monday next.

Mr. Byerly, a gentleman well known here to the crockery trade, is in the city now with twenty crates of ware, which will be sold by Messrs. Cronly & Morris at auction on Monday next. Those who have attended these sales on previous occasions know that bargains are to be had.

The Heat To-day.
 The Signal Officer at this station reports the maximum heat here to-day at 95 degrees. In Charleston, Savannah, Augusta, Corsicana, Texas, and several other Southern cities the thermometer registered over 100 degrees. Wilmington forever in the Summer time!

Dry Earth as a Disinfectant.
 The following is taken from Good Health: Dirt is so cheap that hardly any one appreciates its wealth, at least very few know its value as a disinfectant. Dry earth is really one of the most excellent of all disinfectants, and possesses another advantage in that it can always be obtained in any quantity without money and without price. Its very cheapness is, perhaps, one reason why it is so little esteemed and employed. The character of the earth used is however, not a matter of consequence. Coarse sand and moist earth are valueless. To be effective the earth must be fine and dry. Dry, powdered clay is perhaps best of all. Dust from the road is excellent. Dry coal ashes are also very excellent. By the free use of dry earth, sinks, stables, and similar sources of foul gases and disease-producing germs may be kept in a perfectly wholesome condition. The application of the earth once a week—once a month, or two or three times in the course of the summer, is not, however, sufficient. To be effective, it should be applied daily, and when the matter to be disinfected is large in quantity, several times a day.

A good supply of fine, dry earth should be kept constantly on hand, conveniently near to the place where it is to be used.—When so good a disinfectant is so near, no one can have any excuse for tolerating a bad smell upon his premises.

Anti Prohibition.

We understand, from a gentleman who was present, that there was a large attendance yesterday at an anti-prohibition picnic and barbecue at Rivenbark's Mills, in Pender county. Both white and colored were out in force and speeches were made by Messrs. H. E. Scott, J. W. Madden and S. H. Bell. There was, our informant states, but one prohibitionist on the ground. At night there was a gathering at Rocky Point, which was addressed by Judge Watts and Mr. H. E. Scott.

At Home and Abroad.
 The August number of this excellent periodical is at hand. Dr. Wood writes the opening article, which is a continuation of the paper begun in the previous issue, entitled "North Carolina as a Field for Naturalists." Mr. Norwood Giles continues to talk about "Some Birds that I Have Seen;" Dr. Bernheim publishes more of his Trans-Atlantic Notes of Travel, and Miss Lisette Bernheim gives us Chapters IX and X of her serial, "Oceanside." There are a number of other articles which go to make up the sum total of a very interesting issue.

A Government Steam Yacht.
 A little steam yacht called the Nettle arrived in our waters this morning about 10 o'clock from Fernandina, Fla. which port she left day before yesterday (Wednesday) morning at half past 5 o'clock, and but for the boilers, being out of repairs the Captain thinks he would have made this port yesterday afternoon, whither she has come to coal up. The Nettle is a government dispatch boat and plies around the light houses. She was built some two years ago in New York, but since that time has been on duty in Louisiana and Texas. She is 18 tons burthen, has a foremast upon which she carries sail; is commanded by Capt. William Lewis, who has a crew of five or six men, and is now en route to Portsmouth, Va., where she has been ordered to report.

Tilt and Tournament.
 We learn from a friend who was present at Wadesboro during the progress of the Fair there on the 20th and 21st instant, that the tournament was participated in by a number of young gentlemen on Wednesday. The successful knight was Mr. James A. Leak, Jr., who crowned as Queen of Love and Beauty Miss Ina McCall, the fair elocutionist who our readers will remember visited Wilmington something over a month ago and gave several recitations at the Opera House. The next successful knight was Dr. Huntley, whom our informant thinks crowned Miss Alice Leak as first Maid of Honor. Our particulars are rather meagre, but we have given our readers the benefit of what information we have obtained. Wilmington was represented on the occasion in the person of Mr. John H. Daniel, who rode as the Knight of the Cape Fear.

We hope our Wadesboro friends have made a success of their Fair.

Tried and Committed.
 John McKay, colored, arrested for a nameless crime a few days ago, had a preliminary examination in the Court House before a Justice of the Peace to-day which lasted from 10 o'clock this morning until half past 1 o'clock this afternoon. The case seemed to excite a good deal of interest among the colored population and the Court room was filled with this class of people. The State was well represented by Mr. Solicitor Moore and the defence equally well represented by M. Bellamy, Esq. At the conclusion of the examination Col. Moore made a few remarks and Mr. Bellamy followed him in a short speech. The Magistrate then announced that the defendant would be held for trial until the next term of the Criminal Court, which begins on the first day of August next. The commitment papers were then made out and the prisoner remanded to jail until the time above specified.

TARBORO, N. C., July 20th, 1881.
 EDITOR DAILY REVIEW:
 The crops in Edgecombe are as fine as in any previous year since the war, though rain is wanted in many parts of the county for the corn crop. Every way it looks favorable for a splendid crop season and a good business in the fall. The large number of "commercial travellers" you meet everywhere say that they look for a better business this Fall than they have had in twelve years. All along my route from Wilmington, merchants and farmers are in the very best spirits, and old North Carolina will roll up a staving business this year.

This is a thriving, thrifty town. Improvements are going on all the time in the line of fine, large, commodious brick stores, that would do credit to any city. There are two very handsome stores in course of construction now, being built by one of Tarboro's most enterprising citizens, Judge Howard, one of which will be occupied by our mutual friend, Capt. S. S. Nash, who you will, I am sure, be glad to hear, as well as his numerous friends in Wilmington, is doing a fine business.

The good people of Tarboro have been recently approached about a railroad from Tarboro to Raleigh, a distance of about 50 miles, through a fine section of the State, and then continuing it to Williamston, on the Roanoke river, which would make the entire distance from Raleigh to Williamston not exceeding 85 miles. If this road is built, it would draw off an immense business from the N. C. R. R. and W. & W. R. R., and also from the R. & G. R. R. If you will look at the map, you will see that from Raleigh to Norfolk or Portsmouth it is about 173 miles. From Raleigh to Morehead City it is about 169 miles, against 85 miles from Raleigh to Williamston, via Wilson and Tarboro. The road from Tarboro to Raleigh could be easily graded, passing, as it would, through a level country, and it is already graded from Tarboro to Williamston, and about six miles of the iron and cross-ties are laid. It is believed by parties who have had experience in railroad building that it would not exceed $10,000 per mile, including rolling stock. This would certainly be a grand scheme for the section of country through which it would pass, as well as the towns of Tarboro, Wilson and Williamston. "Old Rip" is certainly wide-awake now on the subject of railroads. It is believed by many that both Norfolk and Baltimore would subscribe largely to this proposed railroad, as both would have a fair slice of the immense business the road would carry to Williamston.

Prohibition will in all probability be carried in the town of Tarboro, but will be defeated in the county of Edgecombe by a large majority. Wilson county and Halifax will also pass a heavy vote against it.

Tarboro once had the reputation of being badly off for hotels but this can no longer be said of her, for the Tarboro House is as good as any hotel in North Carolina to-day, the table being supplied most abundantly with everything this fine country produces, and the weary traveller will find every comfort here.

The weather is intensely hot to-day, but we have a good breeze now and then to cool us off, and fair prospects of a rain this evening. Tar River is so low that boats cannot run from Greenville here. Will write you from "Little Washington," as it called, of anything interesting. CORRESPONDENT.

The steamer Wave, Captain Robeson, and the steamer A. P. Hurt, Captain Worth, both arrived here on their regular trips to-day, and they report the river still falling, with about 25 inches of water on the Shoals.

Joseph A. Bonham, Esq., the well-known lawyer, 117 South Seventh street, Philadelphia, Pa., thus relates his experience: "About two weeks ago I was seized with what the doctors called muscular rheumatism in my right leg. The leg below the knee was swollen until I could hardly stand upon it. I had seen St. Jacobs Oil advertised, and I sent to the drug store near my house, on the corner of Nineteenth and Master streets, for a bottle of it. I rubbed my leg with it that night and in a short time the pain seemed to go away. Next morning the swelling had shifted from under the ankle to the upper part of the knee. I applied the Oil again and the swelling in a short time went away, leaving a very slight pain. I didn't use any more Oil, as I thought the attack was all over. About a week later it appeared again in the same place. The leg swelled so badly that, after coming down town and walking several squares, I gave completely out. I went home intending to try some French medicine, but I forgot to get it, and having a part of this bottle of St. Jacobs Oil in the house yet I tried it again, bathing the limb thoroughly. When I got up in the morning pain and the swelling were both almost gone, and after one more application I was as well as ever, and from that time to this I haven't been troubled."
