MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY FOR
SCROFULA

NEVER FAILS.
It Will Cure if Fairly Tested.

It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of Scrofula from the use of Mrs. Joe Person's remedy for that disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three very eminent physicians, without any good result. I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated there more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with. After returning from the Institute, I was persuaded to try Mrs. Person's remedy, and I had not used it more than a week before I discovered its curative and healing properties. My sores soon began to heal, and the color of my skin changed as fast as the sores healed. I had not thought of ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spirits lifted before the remedy, and I am now enjoying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild as a purgative, and a strong tonic; it will heal the most stubborn sores in three weeks if taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sores are healed, to remove the cause of its effects. It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it, from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure already made would commence to retrace, and for this alone it should be continued until an effectual cure is completed. Nothing should prevent regularity in the use of the remedy, and it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend to all who are suffering from Scrofula to try it. It will surely cure you if you give it a fair test. I speak from experience and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of it and am under many and lasting obligations to Mrs. Person for the great relief I have obtained, in my advice. I am, respectfully,
Cured, is my advice. JAMES A. MORRIS.

Seersucker dresses, trimmed with white Hamburg, have long-waisted jackets and very short, highly draped overskirt, also trimmed with the embroidery.

For white dresses the fichu is almost indispensable, unless the throat is finished with a high ruff; then it is cut in an oblong but very narrow surplice to the waist belt.

Cord trimmings on polonaises and overskirts are replaced by loops, which sometimes extend down the whole length of the skirt, beginning under a large butterfly bow.

Little frocks of scarlet surah with overdresses of English embroidery are worn by small toddlers just able to stand on their feet. The sash is tied very low, and is run through slits in the gown.

A very handsome fabric designed for a wedding costume is heavy white satin, covered with raised leaves and flowers while through the whole design are wheat heads woven of threads of pure gold. The price asked for this fabric is $45 a yard.

A GALA DAY AT KINSTON.

Laying the Corner Stone and Unveiling the Monument Erected to the Memory of North Carolina's First Governor, Richard Caswell—Crops and the Business Outlook—The Beautiful Town of Kinston.

KINSTON, N. C., Aug. 4th, 1881.
MR. EDITOR:—

Yesterday was a day long to be remembered, not only by the hospitable people of this beautiful town, but by every one present from various parts of the State. On the evening of the 2nd inst., the train from Goldsboro brought in His Excellency, Gov. Jarvis, and staff. The Raleigh Light Infantry acted as the escort of His Excellency from Raleigh to this place. In addition to these on the same train, were Col. Wm. L. Saunders, Secretary of State, Col. J. McLeod Turner, General B. C. Manly and many others too numerous to mention. At night the Kinston and Raleigh bands with an immense concourse of citizens and the two military companies repaired to the quarters of His Excellency and gave him a serenade, as soon as music ceased, loud calls were sent up for Jarvis. When he appeared and made a most admirable address, thanking them for the distinguished honor done him.

From early dawn on the 3rd until mid day thousands upon thousands were pouring in from every direction by railroad, and buggies, wagons, carts, carriages, and thousands on foot. The crowd has been variously estimated at from 6,000 to 10,000. My own judgment is that there was at least 7,000 present, but I think that was the outside figure.

About half-past 11 o'clock the procession was formed by the Chief Marshal, Col. W. W. Carraway, assisted by his Marshals, in the following order in front of Nunn's Hotel:

Kinston Rifles, Newbern Grays, Elm City Rifles, Raleigh Light Infantry and Goldsboro Rifles, the whole under command of Col. J. D. Hancock, as Colonel, with Gen. B. C. Manly as Brigade Commander. After the military, came the Grand Lodge of Masons and Masonic Fraternity, the Governor and his staff, in carriages; the Orator, Hon. Z. B. Vance, and E. F. Cox, President of the Caswell Memorial Association; State officers, Col. W. L. Saunders, Secretary of State, and Col. Thos. Kenan, Attorney-General, in carriages; members of Congress; members of the officers of the U. S. revenue cutter Colfax in carriages; Judiciary and members of Legislature in carriages; members of the Caswell Association; other civic organizations; citizens generally.

It was a very imposing and large procession. There were three fine brass bands, one from New Bern, one from Kinston and one from Goldsboro. All rendered most excellent music, and while it was difficult to say which was the best, I must in all candor say the New Bern Cornet Band carried off the laurels. It is one of the finest bands in the State.

When the procession arrived at the monument the military were halted, stacked arms and were dismissed on account of the intense heat of the sun.

The Grand Lodge of Masons and the subordinate Lodges present formed a circle around the monument, when Mr. E. F. Cox on behalf of the Caswell Association, in a few well-timed remarks requested Grand Master Grainger to lay the corner stone. Grand Master Grainger before commencing the ceremonies, replied to Mr. Cox in a short but very beautiful address, when the ceremonies were commenced and the corner stone was laid according to Masonic usage. The line of march was then taken up and the immense concourse of people repaired to the Court House Green, where the stand was erected and beautifully decorated and arranged by the fair daughters of Kinston, and where they were to hear the silver tongue orator and true statesman, Gov. Zebulon B. Vance. The President of the Association in a more chaste and beautiful speech (a copy of which is in the Kinston paper of the 4th) introduced our distinguished Senator. It would be folly in me to attempt a description of it further than to say it was perfectly magnificent, and as it is published in full in the Kinston Journal doubtless all will read it who have the opportunity, and a paper of so much real historic worth ought to be published in full in every paper in North Carolina, that her sons may file it away as a matter of history, relative to the first Governor of the State and as a gem from the mind of one of her most fitted and best beloved sons.

The procession was re-formed comprised of the Masonic Fraternity and citizens and again repaired to the monument when it was unveiled to the vast assemblage. The President of the Association then read the grand old doxology "Praise God from Whom all Blessings flow," &c., after which the Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Haughton and the vast multitude dispersed with thanks to the good people of Kinston for the generous hospitality and noble work they had achieved.

THE MONUMENT.

I venture the assertion, that the design of this work and the superior workmanship of it far surpasses anything of the kind ever erected in North Carolina, and equal to any I have ever seen anywhere.

else. It is built of granite from the James river, in Virginia, and was designed by Mr. D. McEvamin, of Washington City, D. C., and reflects great credit on him as a master of his art. As a full description has been published, I will not attempt it here, as doubtless your readers have already seen the account of it. Mr. McEvamin has just cause to be proud of this masterpiece of work, and it will doubtless redound to his credit financially. I hope it will be the means of his obtaining work of a similar character in the State.

KINSTON.
This is my first visit here. It is one of the very prettiest towns in the State, with beautiful, well shaded streets, and by far the handsomest Court House to be found in the State. There are also many handsome residences and stores, with improvements going on daily in the erection of new brick stores.

THE CROPS.
Since my last letter to you from Tarboro I have been to Greenville, Washington and New Bern, all through Edgecombe, Pitt, Beaufort, Craven, this county and Wayne. The crops in these different localities are splendid except in a very few places where it has been injured by the long drought. Large quantities of rice will be raised this season in Beaufort, reaching as high, it is estimated, as 200,000 bushels, farmers everywhere are jubilant about the future of their crops. I have never seen finer cotton and corn.

Washington and New Bern have greatly improved since my last visit to them six years ago, and a good business this Fall is looked for. I have made my letter longer than I at first intended but could not well avoid it and tell all I had to say. Will write you from the Western part of the State, whither I go in a few days.

CORRESPONDENT.

An exchange says: The young lady who, when at home, is too warm to exert herself to use a fan, will now dance for three hours at a hop, and then declare it to be "just splendid."

The following are the readings of the thermometer to-day at the Signal Office in this city: 7 a. m., 79; 11 a. m., 86; 3 p. m. 86. The maximum temperature to-day was 87 degrees, against 82 for the same day last year.

We regret exceedingly to hear of the very serious illness of Mr. Chesly C. Bellamy, at the residence of his father, Dr. John D. Bellamy. His life is despaired of. He is a young man about 22 years of age, and is at home now on a short vacation. We trust that there may yet be a change in his condition for the better.

It is Not So.

A rumor was in circulation a few days ago to the effect that Mr. W. P. Pope of Topsail Sound, had become overheated and after drinking a large quantity of ice water, died before medical aid could be summoned. We met Mr. Pope this afternoon and most unhesitatingly say that he was the most animated corpse we ever saw. Why he was talking peasants and fox hounds until you couldn't rest!

Criminal Court.

This Court met at the regular hour this morning, his Honor Judge Meares presiding, and Mr. Solicitor Moore representing the State. The following cases were disposed of:

State vs. John McKoy, charged with incest. Continued until next term of the Court for the State. Defendant put under a $200 bond for his appearance.

State vs. Araminta Taylor. Nol pros.

State vs. J. W. White, charged with assault and battery. Not guilty.

State vs. J. T. Edens, charged with obstructing streets. Motion to quash. Motion overruled. Plea in abatement. Plea overruled.

Shan't I Take a Blue Pill?

No, don't take it and run the risk of mercurial poisons, but when bilious and constipated get a package of the celebrated Kidney Wort, and it will speedily cure you. It is nature's great remedy for constipation, and for all kidney and liver diseases. It acts promptly on these great organs and so restores health, strength and vigor. It is put up in liquid and dry form, acting with equal efficiency. Price $1. See adv.
