No City Court to-day.
No star ever rose and set without influence somewhere.

Too much sensibility creates unhappiness; too much insensibility creates crime.

Dropped hairpins bring more women to their knees than all the sermons ever preached.

Stockings may be now seen at Cape May and Atlantic City trimmed with rich bead embroidery.

There is one good thing about a boy when a circus is in town. You know where to look for him.

A fashion exchange says that the bustle is gradually creeping back into favor, wherever that may be.

A young fellow of our acquaintance says he don't wonder that his sweetheart is afraid of lightning—she's so very attractive.

Beautify your homes by using the N Y Enamel Paint, ready mixed and warranted. Sold only at JACOBI'S.

Women may be the weaker vessel, but when she finds a mouse in the cupboard or a man under the bed, where's the masculine that can shriek like her.

Ladies should not forget that outside pockets attached to the dress, are no longer fashionable; they must be detached or detachable and hanging.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Jas. B. Orrell, who was taken suddenly ill a few days ago, is able to be up and was at his place of business again this morning.

Three market carts were seized and carried to the City Hall this noon by Acting Clerk of the Market Hays in compliance with an order from the Mayor.

The market carts are now required to move from the sidewalks of Market and Second streets at 10 o'clock. The law was enforced yesterday for the first time under the new regime.

Call at JACOBI'S for Garden Hoes and Rakes, Shovels, Spades, Axes, &c. There you have the lowest prices.

The following matter remains in the Postoffice here for want of stamps.—J. W. Blackman, Lambertson, N. C.; Messrs. Hawing & Archibald, 57 Beaver street, N. Y.; Mrs. Anna Waters, Newbern, N. C.

The following are the readings of the thermometer to-day at the Signal Office in this city: 7 a. m., 81; 11 a. m., 89; 3 p. m., 87. The maximum temperature to-day was 92 degrees, against 90 for the same day last year.

Captain R. M. McIntire one of the most reliable and successful dry goods merchants in this city, offers for sale a fine line of Brussels Carpets and other goods, cheap. See advertisement in another column in this issue.

The Augusta Chronicle and Constitutionalist is responsible for the following: It is reported that, during the recent canvass in North Carolina, Senator Vance asked one of his sons how he was going to vote. The young man answered: "In favor of the wet ticket."

"Proceed, my son," said old Zeb, it has made you what you are.

A safe and sure means of restoring the youthful color of the hair is furnished by Parker's Hair Balsam, which is deservedly popular from its superior cleanliness.

Thermometrical.
The following temperatures to-day, at 3 o'clock, are reported on the weather bulletin issued this afternoon:

Key West, 82; Punta Rassa, 80; Savannah, 96; Charleston, 93; Charlotte, 95; Augusta, 96; Montgomery, 96; Cedar Keys, 88; Havana, 78; Jacksonville, 95; Wilmington, 87.

"It is above all controversies a most remarkable medicine," says Stacey Hill, Esq., of the Mt. Auburn Inclined Plane Railway, Cincinnati. "I was limping about, hardly able to move, with rheumatism in the hip or Sciatica. Hearing of St. Jacobs Oil, I procured a bottle of it, and with the third application was able to get about with perfect ease and comfort."

Temperance Orator.

Mr. Luther Benson, a great temperance advocate and orator of reputation, has consented to deliver two of his lectures in this city. No definite time has as yet been fixed upon but dates will be arranged in a few days. He is said to be the superior of Gough.

Bed-Bugs, Roaches.
Rats, mice, ants, flies, vermin, mosquitoes, insects, &c., cleared out by "Rough on Rats," 15c. boxes at druggists.

Stepped on a snake.

Night before last, about 12 o'clock a gentleman walking along the South side of Market between Front and Second streets stepped on a snake. His snake-ship not liking such treatment "struck back." No particular damage was done to the man or reptile but both seemed to be so badly frightened that they slid away as fast as possible in different directions.

Clearing the Street.

By order of the Mayor the boxes, barrels and chicken coops of hucksters are being removed from the sidewalk. This morning Officers Griffith and Scharf had a large double decked huckster stand, belonging to Lewis Gordon, a huckster, which has been barricading to some extent the sidewalk at the corner of Water and Princess streets hauled to the City Hall.

The City Victorious.

The three officers who in obedience to the Mayor's orders removed the market carts from the streets after market hours were indicted before Justice Millis this afternoon. The cases were dismissed at the prosecutors costs. We do not see how persons living in the country can expect to come to the city and violate the City Ordinances with impunity, and then expect to have the authorities punished for enforcing their Ordinances.

Study your interest. You can now buy Cook Stoves at factory prices at JACOBI'S.

To-Night.

The excursion down the river to-night under the auspices of Prof. Agostini bids fair to surpass its predecessors. There will be instrumental music and music for dancing, furnished by the Italian band. For tired and worn mortals who wish a whiff of pure fresh air and to feel the invigorating breezes from old ocean, no better opportunity has been offered than this occasion. The Passport will leave her wharf at 8:30 o'clock and return at the usual hour.

The Pharmaceutical Association.

The Newbern Nut Shell, in making reference to the meeting of the druggists in that city, says:

The delegation at the meeting of the Pharmaceutical Association, in this city, yesterday, was large. The address of welcome by John S. Long, Esq., and E. H. Meadows, were appropriate and able, while the response by the President, and also a short address from Mr. Wm. H. Green, the leading druggist of Wilmington, were able, eloquent and to the point. Yesterday's session was taken up chiefly with routine business.

ATTEMPT AT MURDER.

A Woman the Victim of the Assassin's Knife—His Flight and Subsequent Capture.

There has existed for some months past a feud between William Phinney, a mulatto about twenty-five years of age, who has figured extensively in the police courts of this city, his name being also frequently on the docket of the Criminal Court, and Lucy Moore, a black woman aged about twenty-three years, who Phinney says has been living with him as his wife for more than a year; but this relation was broken between them, so the woman states, about six months ago. At the April term of the Criminal Court Phinney was arraigned and tried for forcible trespass, in breaking in the door to Lucy Moore's house, but we cannot now remember the verdict of the jury in the case, although we think that Phinney managed his own case examining, witnesses and pleading his cause before the jury, and was acquitted. Since that time he has made threats against the woman and several times attacked her and had her so completely afraid of him that at night she would claim the protection of the police when ever she found Phinney shadowing her. We saw the wounded woman at her room on Dock between Front and Second streets this morning, and got from her the following statement as well as the facts which are mentioned above. Last night, between 11 and 12 o'clock when the woman was returning from a festival held on Front street, her persecutor passed her near the corner of Front and Dock streets going in the direction of Orange. Neither spoke but she discovered that he had his hat turned wrong-side-out and was otherwise trying to conceal his identity. Lucy hurried along home fearing that he might rock her but before she could get there, he crossed the street hastened up and hid behind the projecting end of a brick wall which divides the premises on which she lives from the adjoining lot. Upon reaching her gate she was met by an acquaintance who asked for a drink of water. She stepped to the pump in the yard, got the water and handed it to her friend who was standing a little to the west side of the gate. In facing her acquaintance it put her back to Phinney who stepped from his place of concealment and stabbed her under the left shoulder blade. He then ran to the edge of the sidewalk picked up a rock and threw it at her, the blow taking effect upon the right side of her head. The cry of murder was raised by one of Lucy's female acquaintances and a man who was passing attempted to arrest the would-be murderer, who threatened to kill any one who dared come near him Phinney then started up Dock street at a brisk run and Lucy Moore and her companion went in the direction of Front street in search of a policeman and a physician. When reaching Mr. B. H. J. Ahrens ice house a distance of about thirty yards from the place where she was stabbed, she fainted from the loss of blood and was carried back to her room. The police were notified of the assault upon her and Dr. J. C. Walker the county physician was sent for and upon arrival dressed the wounds. The incision under the shoulder blade was made by an ordinary sized pocket knife, is about one inch in length and not very deep, in fact is a slight wound from which there is no danger of fatal effects. The wound on the head seems to be the most serious one. The wounded woman will soon recover if she has the proper attention and keeps quiet. Her acquaintance who saw the cutting states that she saw the man hide behind the wall just before Lucy arrived but that she thought nothing of it and did not at that time recognize the man as William Phinney. Both she and Lucy are positive that it was Phinney who did the cutting as the moon was shining brightly and they saw him distinctly after he stepped from behind the wall. The night police force were notified of the assault and instructed to keep a look out for the man. He managed to dodge them but he was picked up in the hollow this morning about 5 o'clock and conveyed to the guard house where he was placed in a cell. As soon as the woman is able to come out the case will be examined into by His Honor, the Mayor.
