MRS. JOE PERSON'S

REMEDY FOR
ISCROFULA

NEVER FAILS.
It Will Cure if Fairly Tested.

It gives me much pleasure to be able to state that I have derived an effectual cure of Scrofula from the use of Mrs. Joe Person's remedy for that disease. I had suffered from Scrofula for more than three years, and had despaired of ever getting well. I was treated during that time by three respected physicians, without any good result.
I then went to the National Surgical Institute, at Atlanta, Ga., and was treated there more than two months, with no better result than my family physicians met with.
After returning from the Institute, I was persuaded to try Mrs. Person's remedy, and I had not used it more than a week before I discovered its curative and healing properties. My sores soon began to heal, and the color of my skin changed as fast as the sores healed. I had not thought of ever getting well again, but my hopes increased, my low spiritedness fled before this remedy, and I am now enjoying splendid health and am in good spirits. The remedy is mild as a pur-gative, and a strong tonic; it will heal the most stubborn sores in three weeks if taken regularly. It is my opinion that it should be taken some time after the sores are healed, to remove the cause of its effects. It should be taken regularly by all means, for I have sometimes neglected it from the pressure of business, and in all cases found that the cure already made would commence to retrograde, and for this alone it should be taken regularly until an effectual cure is completed. Nothing should prevent regularity in the use of the remedy and it should be taken at the proper time. I would recommend to all who are suffering from Scrofula to try it. It will surely cure you if you give it a fair test. I speak from experience and not from hearsay. I am a grateful recipient of a cure from the use of it and am under many and lasting obligations to Mrs. Person for the great relief I have obtained from its use. Sufferers, try it and be cured, in my advice I am, respectfully, Kittrell, N. C. JAMES A. MORRIS.

Steamer North State was here for Dr. J. C. Walker, Superintendent of Colored—15 males and 5 females; 8

Total deaths, white and colored, 27.

I, for one, wish to speak a word of praise for St. Jacobs Oil, says Mr. C. W.
Purcell, of the National Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill. I suffered with a pain in my shoulder and arm for some six months, and at times it was terrible. One bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, however, cured me.

The Combination.

The Anthony, Ellis and Hathaway Combination arrived here this morning and will exhibit at the Opera House this evening. They made a parade this afternoon through the streets, drawn in four wagons. The troupe is undoubtedly a fine one, judging by the comments of the press in other cities, and they will probably have a fine house to-night.
They play also to-morrow afternoon and to-morrow night.

There was but one case this morning before Alderman Huggins, Mayor pro temp., and that was for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The defendant was fined $25, or 30 days, and went below.

Colds. Price 25 cts.

Spirits quoted today at 49 1/2 cents; rosin at $1.95 and $2.02 1/2; tar, at $2.25, crude turpentine at $3.50 and $2.80, and cotton at 11 1/2, with sales at 11 1/2. On the 7th day of last September, spirits was quoted at 33; rosin at $1.15 and $1.25; tar at $1.80; crude at $2.10 and cotton at 10 1/2.

Spiritualistic.

Spirits turpentine seems to be making a desperate effort to get up to 50 cents a gallon. It is higher now than it has been for many years past, having sold to-day at 49 1/2 cents. We have searched the records as far back as April, 1875, and find that twice during the interval has it touched 49 cents. The first time was on December 21, 1876, when it was quoted at 49, remaining at these figures for five days, and then dropping suddenly to 43.
On March 12th, 1880, it got up to 49 cents and staid there until the 25th of the month. On April 1st, ensuing, it was at 40 1/2.

Discrimination in Insurance.

A meeting of the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to memorialize the New York Board of Underwriters with reference to the unjust discrimination of rates for marine insurance at this port was held at the Produce Exchange at noon to-day. Present were Messrs A. H. VanBokkelen, President of the Chamber of Commerce, R. E. Calder, President of the Produce Exchange, D. R. Murchison, E. Peschau, R. E. Heide and James Sprunt. Documents necessary for the representation of facts bearing upon the subject were ordered prepared and the meeting adjourned subject to the call of President Van Bokkelen.

missioners, and Dr. W. W. Harris and Col. Jno. D. Taylor, Justices of the Peace, made an official visit this forenoon to the County Poor House. They made a pretty thorough inspection and warmly commend the management of this institution. They say that Mr. Savage is an excellent Superintendent, kind and considerate to those under his charge and at the same time considerate of the interests of the county. Our readers will remember that our Reporter made a visit to

The La Louisiana.

We copy from the Savannah News the following, relative to the desertion of the ship La Louisiana, which was first seen off our bar waterlogged and abandoned, and afterwards ashore, and which was gotten off and is now safe inside of the bar:

The Captain and sixteen members of the crew of the Norwegian ship La Louisiana arrived here by the steamer Florida, from Doboy, at about 7 o'clock Saturday evening. The La Louisiana was lumber laden, and was from Pensacola, bound for Liverpool. She was abandoned in lat. 31 N., long. 78 W., full of water, with stern broken and two topsails gone, on Saturday, the 27th of August, the officers and crew leaving her in a boat, and having to abandon her so suddenly that some of the men were only half dressed, and they were unable to take away any of their effects.

On the Sunday following they fell in with the Portuguese bark Marianna III., bound for Doboy, and taken to that place. Captain Kittelsen commanded the ill-fated vessel, and he and sixteen of the crew came here, three of the crew remaining in Doboy, having obtained employment on some vessels that were loading at that place. The mate, Guttormsen Olsen, was badly cut in the mouth by a piece of falling rigging.
Some of the other members of the crew received some slight bruises, but none of them were seriously hurt.

fish Hooks and Lines. A full assortment and lowest prices at Jacobs's.

Sorry Mail Arrangements

The mails between this city and Fayetteville continue a fruitful source of complaint. Fayetteville is now farther by mail from Wilmington than is New York. We are frequently in receipt of complaints from our subscribers on this route, complaints which it pains us to receive, but which we are totally unable to furnish a remedy for. We submit the matter to Col. Brink, Postmaster here, who seems to be potential in such matters.
If the Department would but give us two mails a day on the Carolina Central it would remedy the trouble complained of and would be of vast benefit to many people.

Mutilated Coins

About two weeks ago we published a short article relative to mutilated coins which seems to have played the wild among some of our people. We have been told by a number of persons that it was next to impossible to get rid of a silver coin with a hole in it, nearly every retail store on the wharf and many of those on the hills refusing to take them.
We based our remarks on a paragraph we found in a generally very correct exchange but it seems now that there was a slight misconception in the matter on the part of our contemporary.

It is gold, not silver coins which will not be redeemed at their full value when mutilated, although it would appear but reasonable that the rule should apply to all. As it is we understand that these coins are entitled under the laws to pass at their current face value and we will not refuse them ourselves in payment for either advertising or subscription. We believe that they are taken in at the banks at their par value.

Vox Populi Replies.

MR. EDITOR:—Vox Populi thinks it a matter of some surprise that "X" should have devoted "forty-two years of his life to reading works on ancient and modern architecture," and failed to make a discovery which V. P. had made in a much shorter period. Upon examining the article on "Architecture," in Appleton's Encyclopedia, he finds in a subdivision on the Architecture of the Middle Ages, the following assurance: "The angles of their edifices were often surmounted by a sort of pinnacle. * * * Towers first accompanied the building. Later they formed a part of the same edifice flanking or decorating the middle of the facade. The earlier examples were square, later they were round, and later still of a polygonal form." In addition to this, which should be conclusive, V.
P. remembers to have seen in some old priors of the destruction of Carthage, as well as that of Corinth, examples of this alleged "vandalism." Surely "X," in all of his 42 years peregrination through architectural literature must have heard of the Gate of the Agora in Greece, a structure much similar to our own city building and which was decorated with one of those ornaments so ungainly in the eyes of "X." Although probably not of the same school, the Pantheon at Rome had two of these towers or belfries on either side of its massive roof; and to come down to more recent date the writer thinks that the Girard College in Philadelphia, a building exactly of the same class as the City Hall, has its bell in a small tower upon the front part of its roof. (He thinks it very doubtful that the statue on the Temple of Minerva is the only instance of statuary adorning the tops of public edifices.) His comprehension is also positively so blunted as to disable him from seeing why the ran-sacking of Italy and Greece by the Goths and Vandals should prevent us of modern times from being fully conversant with the architecture of that period when there are so many rich resources among the ruins of antiquity to enable us to gather an almost perfect knowledge of their magnificent system.

But enough of all this. Vox Populi has a suggestion to make, which he thinks might serve to conciliate both those who are for or against the erection of a belfry on the City Hall.
He suggests that the bell-tower which "X" proposes be erected upon the Court House. It would be a most appropriate place for the bell to hang, and the tower would serve to give to the building quite a symmetrical appearance, since the right wing has been erected.
Hoping this suggestion be fully considered before opinions are formed against it, I remain, thanking you for the kindly use of your space,
Yours,
VOX POPULI.

Fortune's Favors to an Irish Lad

The wheel of fortune turned most favorably for a poor Irish lad, James O'- Gorman, who came to Philadelphia two years ago in search of a fortune. He had seen the advertisement of the Louisiana State Lottery in the newspapers, and the thought occurred to him that he had better give it a trial. Accordingly, on the 5th of July he sent $1 to M. A. Dauphin, No. 212 Broadway, New York City, for the drawing on the 12th inst. In a few days he received the ticket No. 23,547.
He received a telegram at No. 36 N.
Delaware ave., where he is a barkeeper, that the ticket had drawn $5,000, and as he held half of it, that he was entitled to $2,500. Such a pile of money was indeed a fortune to him. He obtained it this week.—Phila. Sunday Mercury,

Rev. A. Alderman

The Rev. A. Alderman died at the residence of T. J. Jarman, Esq., of Onslow County, on the 4th of September, from typho-malarial fever. Mr. Alderman, for the past two years, has been in charge of the Rose Hill Church and the Salem Church in this county, and Meadow's Bridge Church, in Pender, employing his time besides in preaching at other places in this county—Onslow.

A sincere and devoted Christian, Mr.
Alderman had gained the respect of our people as a man—as a pious Christian worker—and was much beloved by the churches whose pastor he was. His last sickness was the third attack, or second relapse, culminating in a grave form of typho-malarial fever, with complications of long standing, which rendered his sufferings very severe at times, and was, no doubt, in part, the cause of his death.
He bore his sufferings with great Christian fortitude, often speaking of his brethren in Christ and his great desire to see the Christian religion embraced by all mankind, especially that his own faith was both sure and steadfast.

A brother, Mr. Henry Alderman, was with him in his last days of sickness and encouraging his hope by his brotherly kindness, incessant care and watchfulness of all his wants and attention to all his wishes.
The writer a short time before he expired approached his bedside, saying that we all felt that he was prepared to die but "have you thought that you were to die so soon?" "Yes," was the reply, "I am prepared and I have tried to do all I could for all of you," and here he stopped, and these were his last audible utterances.
How full of meaning. Thus passed away the man, the devoted Christian and beloved Pastor—to a better life in Christ.
The brother of the deceased for himself and family wishes to express their high appreciation to Mr. Jarman's family and other kind friends for their tender care and unremitting attention to the wants of the deceased while living, and their efficient aid in removing the remains to the family in Pender County.
