The Hoey-Hardie Combination.
The Hoey-Hardie Dramatic Combination Company will open at the Opera House in this city on Monday evening next in the great dramatic sensation of the day entitled "A Child of the State." The Philadelphia Times, New York Herald and other leading papers of the North speak in the most glowing terms of this piece and also of the company. The Richmond Dispatch says the play is an intensely tragic melo-drama.

Moving Day.
To-morrow (the first day of October) is a day much dreaded by housekeepers, and tenants generally, for the reason that it is moving day. It has been our custom hitherto to give on each October day at the beginning of the month, the different changes among the merchants or business men. But we have less to note in that way this year than on any previous occasion within our recollection. The only notable changes that we are aware of on Water street, among the commission merchants, is that of Messrs. Woody & Currie, who, come down from their exalted position, on the second floor of the building on the corner of Water and Princess streets, and have taken the store in the Navya Guano Company's building, formerly occupied by Messrs. Lamb & Parmelee. The other moves have been made by Messrs. Patterson & Hicks and Messrs. Harding Johnson & Co. The two firms just swapping places, Messrs. Johnson & Co. taking the store and office formerly occupied by Messrs. Patterson & Hicks nearly opposite the Produce Exchange, while the latter takes the place of the former just three or four doors above their old stand. Messrs. Brown & Roddick are the only up town merchants who make any move that we have heard of. This firm, as we have previously stated, take the store on Front street formerly occupied by Mr. T. H. McKoy, which has recently been fitted up in very fine style for a first class wholesale and retail dry goods store. Miss E. Karrar at the Exchange Corner, this move was effected, however, some week or so ago, and this sums up all the changes in the commercial world within our city limits that we have any knowledge of.

Moving into a Fireproof Building.
Mr. Solicitor Moore and Major John W. Dunham will, we hear, occupy conjointly the upper story of the new addition to the Court House. Mr. Stacy VanAmringe, Superior Court Clerk, has already moved into his new quarters in the basement of the new wing. This, be it remembered, is entirely fire-proof, made so for the purpose of preserving the many important documents, records and old wills on file in the Superior Court Clerk's office, from the danger of the devouring element, should the Court House catch on fire. Owing to the precautions taken in building this new wing, even should the main building of the Court House catch on fire, the two Clerks' offices would remain intact.

The Southern Historical Papers.
The last number of the Southern Historical Papers is an unusually interesting one. The table of contents number the following interesting contributions:—"Kirby Smith's Kentucky Campaign," "Advance on Washington in 1864," "Letter from General Early," "The Attempt to Fasten on President Davis and Other Innocent Parties the Assassination of Mr. Lincoln by Judge Cleary," "Operations Around Winchester in 1863," "Report of General Geo. H. Stewart," "Sherman's Campaign in Mississippi in Winter 1864," "Report of General Rens," "Report of General Ferguson," "Report of General Adams," "Memoirs of First Maryland Regiment, by General B. T. Johnson," "History of Lane's N. C. Brigade," "From Port Republic to Chickahominy," "Experience of a Northern Man in the Confederate Army," "General Sherman Manufacturing History," "What Confederate Battery Fired the Last Gun at Appomattox O. H." This is a truly valuable periodical, and should be in the hands of every ex-Confederate. Price of subscription is only $3.00 per annum. Address, Rev. J. William Jones, D. D., Richmond, Va.

New Steamer.
The new steamer Bladen, Captain William Skinner, made her first trip today, leaving here about 5 1/2 o'clock this afternoon for Fayetteville. The Bladen was built by Captain San Skinner at the Marine Railway in this city especially for the trade between here and Fayetteville, and is considered the lightest draft boat ever put upon the Cape Fear river. Her dimensions are as follows: Length 100 feet, width 18 feet, depth of hold 5 feet. She has a locomotive boiler with double engines 10 by 36 inches and can make a speed of about 6 miles an hour. She draws when light 18 inches aft and 10 in. forward. She will trim to about 16 inches on an even keel. Her carrying capacity is about 600 barrels of rosin. She can carry about 300 barrels of rosin and 250 bales of cotton. For the latter class of freight she has fine carrying room, her decks being very high. The passenger accommodations on board the Bladen are rather limited as the steamer is provided with only four state rooms. The intention of the owners, we presume, is to make her more particularly a freight boat.
Messrs. DeRosset & Co., of this city, are the agents at this end of the line. We wish the new steamer, her agents and owners all the success imaginable, and trust that the Bladen may never be snaggled while on her perilous journey between here and the upper Cape Fear, that she may always have whole boat loads of freight, and that her owners may realize whole cart loads of money from their investment.

Laura Ingraham, colored, was arrested upon a peace warrant sworn out by Sarah Cowan, colored, and carried before a Justice of the Peace for trial. The Court gave sentence against the defendant and ordered her to give bond in the sum of $50 to keep the peace for three months. Surety was furnished to the amount required by the Court, but the defendant was committed in default of non-payment of costs in the case.
