The New York Sun calls attention to the fact that during President Garfield's long and fatal illness he was not approached once by a Minister of the Gospel, and that he actually died without having had pricetly ministrations. This be it understood, was not the fault of the clergy but because of the strict sechand in which he was kept. The fact is not by any means creditable to us as a Christian people.

It strikes us very forcibly that, in the war that has been and is now progressing relative to the treatment in the case of the late President Garfield, and which men of acknowledged eminent surgical ability are engaged, they not only reflect serious discredit upon themselves, but upon the entire medical and surgiand fratannity. If it is concoded (and tuat h s not been called in question,) that President Garfield was attended by men eminent in their profession, it must also be conceded that they had every incentive to bring the case to successful termination. Their devotion nobleman languaging in prison."-Punch and unremitting attention to the case is sufficient proof of their anxiety to watch for a $5 watch he stole eighteen years every fluctuation in the President's condition and take advantage of every means that science, experience and sur hell to make a Vermont man to give up gical skill could afford. They may have $5, there appears to be a basis for the erred in judgement, but we are very doubtful if any others could have done better. The autopsy has revealed the lamentable fact that death from the wound was inevitable and it is owing, 000 Republican majority, only one Reundoubtedly, to the skill and watchful ness of his attending physicians that his life was greatly prolonged. To seems that this war, waged upon the at | would need, and would have, newspapers. tending physiciaes by those who had nothing to do with the case, and whose uformation regarding it was mainly gleaned from newspaper reports, is the It is considered superior to lard. Also height of impertinence and ill manners, tending only to throw disgrace and discredit upon the profession. The Charlotte Observer tells us that Gov. Vance will reply to Col. Andrews' sur-rejoinder. We are sorry to hear it. The thing has gone far enough, and no good can possibly result from its continuance. There has been enough of strife. and contention over this matter, and it afford another opportunity for a few ob scure country newspapers to rush to the defence of the Vance lion, and willfy those who do not worship the shadow of a North Carolina system, as represented person of Mr. Best, and in the who have never thought for a moment of attacking Gov. Vance's integrity, but who have honestly differed with the views he has expressed and have been so hold as to print their opinions. Let us say here, by way of parenthesis, that the Senator stands just as good a chance of being damaged by the weak defence set up by a few papers as by the charges they seek to refute, had such charges ever any existence save in th imagination of a few individuals. Senator Vance needs no defence at the hands of his own people. We have seen many expressions by the press of the State of a difference of opinion with him as to his views on the Western N. C. R. R. question, but, with one exception, not a word which can be distorted into a re flection on his personal or political integrity, and even in the instance we have alluded to we are loth to belief that an offence was intended. We think this is creditable to the press in view of the Senator's unfortunate remark about "suborned" newspapers. The News and Observer has made very interesting discovery, which is to the effect that the office of President of the Senate, pro tempore, can be held only at the will of that body. Its remarks are important and we copy them entire: to 9:80 a. m. The other day we remarked that the President of the Senate, when elected, would hold during the entire session of Congress unless a new Vice-President general delivery when stamp office - is should be chosen. It appears, however, closed. that the Senate, the highest degree unreasonable. There seems to us to be a difference between a temporary presiding officer and one who in the capacity of President pro tem-pore of the Senate has devolved on him the high functions of the Presidency. And, therefore, the resolution adopted by the Senate that the office of President pro tempore is held at the pleasure of the Senate, seems to us to be too broad. Nevertheless, such a resolution has been adopted, and we presume it will stand. If so, the Senate can change its presiding officer at its pleasure.
