Senator Lamar, of Mississippi, is not sanguine that President Arthur's administration will be a conservative one. He says Mr. Arthur has hitherto acted, if not under the inspiration of Mr. Conkling...

A SHORT SERMON.

The efficiency of prayer is a subject which is now agitating the Northern press to a greater or less extent. The Ingersollites are attempting to throw ridicule on the prayers which were offered up so universally for President Garfield's recovery...

God works in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform. And it is not for us to question but to obey. This is true faith, and the only true faith, to submit unquestioningly to the will of God...

Here is something that will illustrate more clearly the faith and the feeling of the true Christian when he presents his petition to God, than any words we could use.

We remember once to have asked a holy woman, who had long prayed vainly for another's welfare, if she had not become weary of believing in the efficacy of prayer...

It is currently understood, though denied at the Governor's office, that the Best Syndicate last week despatched Secretary Caddigan to present Gov. Jarvis, and his colleagues, with a formal tender of financial guarantees...

We clip this from the Farmer & Mechanic. If it is correct, then the railroad war in North Carolina may assume a new phase and the Commissioners may live to regret having pledged themselves to Mr. Best...

The Washington correspondent of the Savannah News has let us in for a little startling news of an "inside" character, relative to Senators Blaine and Lincoln. He says:

A gentleman who prides himself upon knowing "inside" small political gossip, said to me to-day: "Blaine and Lincoln, are no worse off now than they would have been if President Garfield had lived. They will go now; they would have gone if the dead chief had lived. Swain, Rockwell and Mrs. Garfield were down on Blaine and Lincoln from the day the President was shot...

Many miserable people drag themselves about with failing strength, feeling that they are steadily sinking into their graves when, by using Parker's Ginger Tonic, they would find a cure commencing with the first dose, and vitality and strength surely coming back to them.

The North Carolina Farmer for October received. Among the numerous articles upon agriculture and other subjects in this valuable journal, we note the following as of special interest to farmers...

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for all those painful complaints and weaknesses so common to our best female population. Send to Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, 233 Western Avenue, Lynn, Mass., for pamphlets.

It may be right occasionally to take a bull by the horns, but it is always well to keep in mind that the horns belong to the bull.

New complexions can bear the strong white morning light which exposes every speck of tan, every pimple and the slightest spotting of eczema. In Dr. Benson's Skin Cure is sure relief from the annoyance of these blemishes on the cheek of beauty.

The popular Demand. So great has been the popular demand for the celebrated remedy, Kidney-Wort, that it is having an immense sale from Maine to California. Some have found it inconvenient to prepare it from the dry compound. For such the proprietors now prepare it in liquid form. This can be procured at the druggists. It has precisely the same effect as the dry, but is very concentrated so that the dose is much smaller.
