

THE DAILY REVIEW.

JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop'r
WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1881.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as Second Class Matter.

King Charles of Wurtemberg is reported to have secretly embraced Catholicism during his stay at Nice this summer through the influence of Baron Spitzzenberg, an ardent Catholic.

An electric headlight has been successfully used on a locomotive in Australia. It illuminated the track for 500 yards, but the atmosphere is exceedingly clear.

The intention of the Secretary of the Interior to direct that the governors of the Territories shall stay at home and attend to their business will paralyze some of those officials. Some of them have hardly taken the trouble to stay over night in the Territories of which they are the chief executives. Territorial governorships won't be desirable hereafter, if attention to duty is to be insisted upon.

The wretched assassin, Guiteau, was arraigned for trial yesterday in Washington City, when argument on the question of jurisdiction of the case was set for October 30th, and the trial for November 7th. The law's delays and uncertainties are hereby duly illustrated. Guiteau confesses the crime, although he pleads not guilty to the indictment, and yet it may be a hard matter to hang him, after all. The insanity dodge is to be played.

The cotton crop of South Carolina will unquestionably be short as compared with last year's crop, but there is some reason to hope that the loss will not be as great as is generally supposed. Had the crop this year been as good as it was last year, the total crop would have amounted to about 7,000,000 bales. Deduct from this 20 per cent., a reasonable average, and the crop will still be 5,500,000 bales, or about a million bales less than last year.

Gen. Grant steps to the front as a Readjuster. It is amusing. Gen. Grant is probably a member of that large and influential class of our fellow-citizens who believe that it is righteous and just to repudiate what they owe to others but that it is an unpardonable sin in others to repudiate what they may owe them. A knowledge of Gen. Grant's position on the Virginia debt question, however, doesn't lower our opinion of that individual one bit.

The doctrine of the coeducation of the sexes, it would seem, is to sum up in provisions for educating them apart. The authorities of the Ohio State University have undertaken to keep the male and female students wholly apart, except in the recitation rooms and chapels. A former order permitting the girls to receive calls once a week has been rescinded, and they are forbidden to meet the boys anywhere out of doors. A rebellion is threatened.

A prominent Memphis cotton dealer on Saturday received a telegram from one in New York offering to wager $5,000 that the cotton crop of 1881-82 will exceed six million bales. The proposition was announced in cotton circles, and there was a rush to take up the proposition, some proposing to make up a purse by five hundred dollar contributions to cover the bet, but the gentleman receiving the dispatch declined to let any one in, but telegraphed back that he would cover the wager himself, and urging the party to make it $10,000. Bets of that character for any amount of money will find ready takers in the South.

After much discussion and deliberation the sub-committee on finance of the Philadelphia city councils have agreed to report $1.90 on the $100 as the tax rate for 1882. The public building commission, whose demands, like those of the public works commission, are always on a grand scale, wanted an appropriation of $1,250,000, but the sub-committee advised them to be content with $750,000—and it is probable the advice will be accepted in view of the stated fact that the advance in the price of the necessities of life will probably force councils to restore the 10 per cent. recently taken from the salaries of all city employees, especially those of the school teachers.

The New York Democratic Convention not only did a wise thing when they ejected the Tammany chief and his followers, but they have put an excellent ticket in the field and have promulgated a platform which will prove a potent element of strength. When they discarded John Kelly they did a wise and a virtuous action. There was not one dissenting voice among the four hundred delegates representing the sixty counties of New York. Had this been done a year ago Gen Hancock, in all probability, would have been President of the United States. We make a small extract from the New York Herald on the situation:

The only reliance of the Republican party for success in November depends upon a diversion of the canvass to national politics and upon whatever help they can derive from a contaminating association with the Tammany outlaws. There is little time to work in. The canvass is an unusually short one. Election day is less than four weeks distant. But short though the interval is, we believe that the people will go to the polls unusually well instructed in the merits of the opposing candidates and the policies which are at issue. The long debates and strifes which have preceded each of the two State conventions have been full of instruction concerning the relative manliness and merit of the two parties as at present displayed.

There is a pretty kettle of fish in Virginia about this time. Messrs. Mahone and Riddleberger have descended to the dirtiest depths of political trickery and subterfuge and they have been caught at it. It will be remembered that some weeks ago two letters were published purporting to have been written by Frank S. Blair, the Readjuster candidate for Attorney-General, which contain some very slighting references to the negro vote and show that the average Readjuster proposes to make just the same use of it, for his own selfish ends, as the average Republican has been doing for years past. These letters were so damaging that a scheme was concocted for getting rid of them and hence W. L. Wilson, to whom they were addressed and who furnished them to Hon. Geo. D. Wise, member of Congress, was captured, and made drunk and in this condition was induced to sign a statement prepared by Riddleberger saying that the letters were forgeries. But the conspirators failed to take into calculation that Philip sober and Philip drunk were two essentially different individuals and hence, after the statement extracted from Wilson had been published with a grand flourish of trumpets, Wilson got sober and repented and lost no time in making the fact of the conspiracy known. The result is that Hon. Geo. D. Wise and J. W. Daniel have published a card denouncing Riddleberger as a liar and slanderer and it is said that a hostile meeting between Wise and Riddleberger will follow.

The Doctors Disagree
as to the best methods and remedies for the cure of constipation and disordered liver and kidneys. But those that have used Kidney-Wort, agree that it is by far the best medicine known. Its action is prompt, thorough and lasting. Don't take pills, and other mercurials that poison the system, but by using Kidney-Wort restore the natural action of all the organs.—New Covenant.
