The Biggest Yet.

Talk about your big snake stories. Here is one which will pale many into utter insignificance. The best of it is that it is true, as we must believe, it being furnished for publication by a very respectable and reliable citizen of Pender county. A friend writes us from Point Caswell that, a few days ago, Mr. L. D. Bordeaux was hunting in Bee Swamp, Caintuck township, and found a rattlesnake which he shot and killed. On examination the reptile was found to have forty rattles and to be 13 feet and 5 inches in length. Mr. Bordeaux and Mr. Neil Simmons cut the snake open and found five large rabbits and two squirrels in his stomach.
Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.
The Aeronauts.
We are fearful for the safety of our young townsman, Mr. J. G. Hashagen, of the Signal Service, who accompanied Prof. King in his aerial voyage, as reported by us last week. Not a word has yet been heard from the balloon, although it is now six days since its ascension. We find from a special in the New York Sun that it was last seen in the neighborhood of Sparta, Wis., and there is reason for apprehension that some disaster has befallen it and its occupants. The forest in the northern part of Wisconsin is one of the largest and densest in the world, and if the aeronauts alighted safely anywhere within it they would find it extremely difficult to work their way out. Many instances are recorded where men familiar with its recesses have lost their way and wandered aimlessly through the tangled underbrush for days before reaching a clearing. If the aeronauts are in this forest, the chances are that they will not get out alive. Parties are out searching for them. Prof. King had provisions for two days. His only companion was Mr. Hashagen.

Lippincott's for November opens with a finely illustrated paper by Charles Burr Tedd, describing "A Walk over Montauk," and reproducing with pen and pencil the striking features of that wild and ocean-beaten cape. "A Varied Entertainment," also illustrated, is the title of a humorous sketch depicting some recent frolics of American art students in Paris. The eighth chapter of Dr. Oswald's "Zoological Curiosities" is devoted to "Animal Renegades." Mr. James L. Ferriere has found in the National Library at Paris materials for an article of great value and of timely interest. An article on John S. Clarke, the comedian, by William Stuart, sketches the career of that eminent actor. "The Order of the Carmine Countenance" and an account of "Shroton Fair," in Dorsetshire, are lively travelling sketches.
Fiction occupies a large portion of this number. The new instalment of Sherwood Bonner's bright and readable serial, "The Valcours," is of unusual length. "Policy 1396," by Sarah Winter Kellogg, has the intense interest and realism characteristic of this lady's stories, while "Almost a Catastrophe" is a lively love-story of a more ordinary kind. The poetry is by H. H. Boyesen, Charlotte F. Bates, and Frances Mace, and the "Gossip" and book notices will repay perusal.
Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.
The contents of the November number are exceedingly interesting and entertaining, and afford much valuable information. Mr. Ackroyd's article on "The Photophone," with its eleven illustrations, "The City of Rouen," by Professor Charles A. Joy, "Charles XII, of Sweden," "Little Huskies: their Homes and Ways," by S. J. Douglass, and "American Beef" are among the prominent contributions, and are valuable papers. In the department of fiction are the conclusion of Benedict's serial, "A Late Re-morse," a charming story by Jane G. Austin, "The Countess' Diamonds," "Her Secret," by Walter Edgar McOann, "Jet," "Magnanimity," "Madge," etc., etc. There are admirable sketches, thrilling adventures, some very excellent poems, and a miscellany embracing all sorts of subjects, entertaining and instructive. The number contains 129 quarto pages, 100 illustrations and a beautiful colored frontispiece, "The Assassination of Amy Robsart." For comprehensive excellence and cheapness, this publication is, we think, unrivalled. The price of a copy is only 25 cents; an annual subscription $3, or $1 50 for six $1 for four months, sent post-paid. Address, Frank Leslie, Publisher, 63, 65 and 67, Park place, New York.

No cases, and in consequence, no City Court to-day.

The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 904 bales.
Schr. Alta V. Cole, Mitchell, cleared at Boston for this port on the 17th inst.
Some very fine fresh water fish, perch and trout, were in market this afternoon.
Spirits turpentine is again at 50 cents' having advanced 1 1/2 cents in this market to-day.
Bad habits are easily contracted; so are Colds, and both are very hard to get rid of. The Colds are quickly and surely cured by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.
Schooner Thos. W. Holder cleared at this port to-day for Segua la Grande, with 218,114 feet lumber, shipped by Northrop & Cumming.
A Grave Charge.
A white man was arrested to-day and taken before Justice Hall, charged with committing an outrage on the person of a little white child, about seven years of age. The case was continued until Friday afternoon. The names are suppressed at the instance of the magistrate who is to hear the case, and for satisfactory reasons.
The Passport.
The repairs and alterations to the Passport, made to fit her for the winter campaign, are all completed and the beautiful yacht steamed up to her wharf this afternoon. The brass railings on the lower deck have been removed and a new and more powerful propeller has been substituted. She is now ready for the towing business of the winter season.
With the failure to secure certain results, when measure after measure has been tried, then the "last result" comes into service and produces the effects desired, as in the following case mentioned to us by J. Wilson, Esq., of L. M. Ham & Co., Manufacturers of Bank Vaults and Steel Chests, 158 Portland Street, Boston, Mass.: For two years my mother-in-law suffered with rheumatism and tried various remedies without relief. She finally determined to use Dr. JACOBI'S BALM with the application of the remedy was immediately relieved.
Death of Capt. Jones.
The sad intelligence of the death of Capt. Thomas Jones, so well known here as the commander of the fine steamer Benefactor of the New York and Wilmington Steamship Line, was received here this morning through a dispatch from his son, Mr. Walter Jones. His death occurred last night at his residence in Brooklyn, N. Y.
Capt. Jones was probably about 65 years of age. He first came to this port in the year 1869, as commander of the Volunteer, a ship of the Lorillard line then established between New York and this port. From the Volunteer he changed to other ships and finally to the Benefactor, of which he has had the command for many years past and until recently. Last Spring his health was so bad that he was compelled to resign his position, to which he was succeeded by Capt. Tribon, now the commander of the Benefactor. Capt. Jones made his last trip to this port in May last, arriving here on the 23d of the month, and then, by the advice of his physicians, went to the Warm Springs, in Arkansas. He leaves a widow and four sons, all young men, besides scores of friends at every port into which he has sailed, who will sincerely mourn his departure.
That Terrible
indigestion and sick headache will yield readily to Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

MR. JOE PERSON,
Franklinton, N. C.
DEAR MADAME:—In reply to your letter asking what I think of your Remedy, I would say that the soles have been very fair, and so far as I can learn, the Remedy has been very satisfactory to my customers who have used it, especially so in the case of a little girl of this city, ten years of age, who was troubled for a long time with sores breaking out over the face and neck, having the appearance of Scrofula, and which had resisted the usual alternative treatment for a long time. She took four bottles of the Bitter last Spring, when the sores entirely disappeared, and up to this time she has had no return of them, her skin looking as fair and clear as anyone's.
Trusting that you may receive the success which your Remedy seems to merit, I am, very respectfully yours,
