Richmond Dispatch. "Duelling."

Bacon says: " fouching the causes of it-ne first motive, no doubt, is a false and erroneous imagination of honor and credit." "For if one judge of it truly, it the spirits of young men, that bear great minds with a false show, 'species falsa' and a kind of satanical illusion and appari. tion of honor against religion, against law, against moral virtae, and against the precedents and examples of the best times and valiantest nations." "Yet the stream of valpar opinion is such as it imposeth a nehave not to do, in th s case, so much with these troubles. particular persons as with unsound and depraved opinions, like the dominations and spirits of the sir, which the scripture speaketh of. Hereunto may be added that men have almost lost their true-notion and understanding of fortitude and valor. For fortitude d'stinguisheth of the grounds of quarrels, whether they be just; and not only so, but whether they are worthy; and setteth a better price upon men's lives than to bestow them idly; nay, it is weaknes and disesteem of a man's self to put a man's life upon such leidger performance; a man's life is not to be trifled sway; it is to be offered up and sacrific d to honorable services, public merits, good causes, and noble adventures. It is in expense of blood, as it is in an expense of money; it is no liberality to make profusa sion of money, upon every vain occasion, nor no more is it fortitude to make effusion of blood, except the cause be of worth," is the bane of nearly every American woman. From it usually arises these disorders that so undermine their health and strength. Every woman owes it to herself and to her family to use that celebrated medicine. Kidney-Wort. It is the sure remedy for constipation, and for all disorders of the kidneys and liver.

The Revenue of the Government

The amount raised by customs dues and internal revenue imposition of the general government is, with a very few millions difference, about the same as ness and constipation. Don't fail to try that collected by Great Britain. In addis it .- Long Branch News. States have to pay their State taxation, and certain county and municipal levies from which the people of Great Britain are exempt. These facts will be availed of in the movements to commence immediate ly on the assembling of Congress in favor of the reduction of taxation. The strong est effort will be made to reduce the tax on whiskey and tobacco. It is claimed by those in favor of the reduction that a tax of 50 cents on whiskey will realize a much larger revenue from that source than the present tax. The abolition of the internal tax on matches and bank checks will again be strongly pressed, and with good chance of success. There is no question that reductions can be made in both the tariff and internal re.enue which will lighten the burdens of the people, and at the same time not appreciably impair the revenues of the government. But the difficulty to be met and solved is to reconcile the conflicting views and interests of the advocates of a low tariff and the protect tionists. The two houses of Congress are apt to be divided again, as so often before, on the questions arising out of the tariff and the internal revenue as to render ineffective any efforts to secure the muchneeded revision of both systems.-[Wash.

A Coriousity in the Smithsonian

One sees many curious things while strolling through the Smithsonian Insti-tution. In one of the cases there is a small irregular piece of matting about six inches long and two or three wide. It is made of the bark of the Southern cane, of mar's handiwork might form the basis for treatises and lectures innumerable. It was found on Petit Anse Island, near Vermillion Bay, coast of Louisiana. This island contains a mine of rock sal', which was discovered during the late war which seems to be unlimited in depth and extent. Not far from the surface of the sait he piece of matting was discovered, and western Mecklenburg.
