MRS. JOE PERSON, Franklinten, N. C

DEAR MADAME :- In reply to your letter asking what I think of your Remedy. I would say that the sales have been very fair, and so far as I can learn, the Reme Thursday, four days out. dy has been very satisfactory to my customers who have used it, especially so in the case of a little girl of this city, ten years of age, who was troubled for a long time with sores breaking out over the face and neck, having the appearance of Scrofula, and which had resisted the usual alterative treatment for a long time. She took four bottles of the Bitters last Spring, when the sores entirely disappeared, and up to this time she has had no return of them, her skin looking as fair and clear as anyone's.

Trusting that you may receive the success which your Remedy seems to merit, I am, very respectfully yours, WM. SIMPSON,

The Carolina Central Changes Hands,

We learn from Col. Robinson that the negotiations for the sale of the Carolina Central, which have been progressing for some days past, came to an end at last today by his buying a large interest in the read. The sale would have been con summated sooner but for the injunction which was sued out in New York by Mrs Matthews, and until news was received yesterday that the injunction had been dissolved, matters remained at a stand Sateamship Regulator, Capt. Doane, still. Col. Robinson repeated to-day what he had told us before, that the management and policy of the road would not be changed and in addition that all officers would be retained. This is the whole story and the finale to the herètofore reported sale.

Forepaugh's Show.

We have never seen a larger turnout on our streets than was the case to day to see the street pageant that Fore" paugh's show exhibited. After a long delay it came and when it did arrive it There are a great many of our country amply compensated for the tedious wait comprising two bands, twelve elephants. a number of beautiful horses, the lion's cages and last, but not least, the famous $10,000 beauty.

There was a large crowd in the tent this afternoon, which is pitched on Dickinson's Hill, but we cannot report on the performance in this issue. We are satisfied, however, that it is the best circus show we have ever had in Wilmington. taking for this the assertions of the News and Courier and the Savannah News. There will probably be a tent full to-night.

The Baptist church was crowded to its full capacity last night to hear the Introductory Sermon of the Convention, which was preached by Rev. Dr. T. E. Skinner, pastor of the First Baptist church at Raleigh. It was a great effort and, though occupying more than an hour in delivering, was followed with marked attention by the congregation.

The preacher took as his text Joshus v: 13-15. His theme was the great work which has been committed to His people by God.

From the Chicago Times. Reflections on the Man in the Moon. "Are you the general passenger agent of this road." The inquirer was a young man who seemed terribly in earnest. His hair was long, his clothes shabby genteel, and his remarks were addressed to the manager In J. E. Brown's New American Comedy in of one of our leading trunk lines.

"Yes sir. What can I do for you?"
"I would like a pass to Baltimore by the way of Cleveland."

"On what account?"

"I am an inventor sir."

"Who are you?" "J Edison Hershel, of Oshkosh."

"Don't know you. What have you in-The young man looked around uneasi-

"We are, proceed." Lowering his voice to the key of a stage whisper, he said:

"I am the Inventor of the Lunascope." "Luny what?" "The 'Lunascope'; the most remarkable invention of the nineteenth century."

"What is it for ?" "Why, it is an Optical Reflectometer, whereby I can throw the term St. Jacobs Oil in scintilating letters across the face

A peculiar scintilation was observable around the corners of the official's eyes, but otherwise his countenance was perfectly mobile. "I have just come," continued the inventor, "from a confidential interview with Mr. Peter Van Schaack of the 'Old Salamander Drug House.' I entrusted my secret to him. He commends me to you most warmly. And he seems as confident as I am that the invention will
