"JUST IMAGINE HOW I FELT."
BRUNSWICK, Co., Va.
November 5th, 1881.

Mrs. Joe Person,
Franklinton, N. C.
DEAR MADAM:—It is with pleasure that I write to tell you that your valuable Remedy has entirely cured me of a most fearful looking and painful sore on my ankle. It came more than twelve months ago, very much like a ring worm. I painted it with Tinct. Iodine, until it became a very painful and bad looking place. Then I commenced to try everything I could think or hear of, until it became so very painful I could scarcely walk when I went to the best doctor in the country for advice. He told me he could cure me if I would take my bed and there remain for four or five weeks, and if I did not do so pretty soon, it could not be cured at all, as the bone would become diseased, and my foot would have to be taken off. Just imagine how I felt, to be told there was no cure for the sore but to lose my foot, or give up all business—either of these Remedies would have ruined me. Mind you this was the advice of one of the best doctors in the State of North Carolina, and this conversation took place last February. I continued to burn with caustic, as he advised until September, but derived no benefit from his treatment. I was advised then by a friend to try your Remedy, (Bitters and Wash) took the first dose the 17th of September, and I am now a well man, the sore is perfectly cured, and I can now walk as far, dance as much and jump as high as any man you know. Put me back to the 1st of September, let me know as much as I now do of the virtue of your Remedy, and I would not hesitate to pay ten dollars a bottle for it, if I could not get it for less. I think more of it than any medicine in the world. It is not only the best Remedy to purify the blood and cure all skin diseases, but I believe it will cure all kinds of blood diseases, and I know it will cure a love for strong drink. I hope you will have this published, as there are many sufferers who could be cured, if they could know of and get your Remedy. I am truly and respectfully,
JOS. B. MASON,
South Gaston, N. C.

The season has arrived when the small boy would rather stand all day in the cold and flatten his nose against a show window than sit in a warm schoolroom and throw spit balls at his neighbor.

Our thanks are due to Mr. H. J. Kimball, Director General, for an invitation to attend the International Cotton Exposition at Atlanta on "Editors' Day," December 20th, 1881, and regret our inability to attend.

The man who invents a method of embalming Christmas trees so that they can be stowed away in the back garret and brought out good as new the next year, will not only bestow an incalculable boon upon mankind, but will be able to retire from business at the end of a few years.

Grumblers.
It takes no special genius to be a grumbler, some one has said; but show us, please, the first person not a grumbler, when suffering with face-ache or neuralgia. Mr. J. J. Kline, East Berlin, Pa., writes in this wise: Some time ago, Mr. Michael Trostel, of Paradise township, Pa., visited my store and complaining of suffering with toothache and neuralgia in the face. Happening to have a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil open, I induced him to rub his face therewith. It acted so quickly that when he left all pain had vanished. He took a bottle of the Oil for his wife, who was sick abed with rheumatism. Scarcely two weeks had passed, when my friend and his wife returned, happy over the result of the Oil, as it had cured her almost instantly.

A Wilmingtonian's Adventure in Charleston.

Mr. I. Hirschberg, of this city, a well-known cigar manufacturer, was in Charleston last week in attendance on the races in that city. He lodged, while there, at a hotel, the name of which we will not mention at this time. About 3 o'clock, on Thursday morning, he was aroused from sleep by hearing a noise in his room. He sprang from the bed and found a man in the room, who instantly ran out into the passage. Mr. Hirschberg followed him and ran down into the passage and into a room which, it seems, this man had occupied. The room had a large window opening on a long veranda, which was but one story above the street. The rogue plunged through the window and dropped from the veranda into the street and so disappeared. Mr. Hirschberg made an investigation and found that the thief had gone through his pockets, and obtained therefrom between $8 and $9 in money. Fortunately the bulk of Mr. H's money was secured about his person. That night (Thursday night), before going to his room, Mr. Hirschberg made up his money into a package and took it to the hotel office, where he deposited it for safe keeping, taking a receipt for it. The next morning, on calling for it, it could not be found. The night clerk was sent for, and he stated that he had given out a number of packages and among them was probably that left by Mr. Hirschberg, which he must have given out by mistake. There was one package left, containing $125, which was tendered to Mr. H. in lieu of his, which that gentleman naturally refused to accept, as it was not the package left by him, which contained $500. The hotel proprietor refused to make good the loss but spoke of a compromise. Mr. Hirschberg threatened to sue for the amount when he was coolly informed that he could recover nothing as he, the proprietor, was not worth $500. Mr. H. thereupon consulted a lawyer who advised him to enter suit in the U. S. Court, stating that he thought the amount could be recovered, which has been done. Mr. Hirschberg then returned to the hotel and paid his bill, notwithstanding the inclination of the hotel man to receive it, who stated that the amount had best be charged to him on account, and also again refused to accept the package of $125. This he did under advice of his lawyer.

Mr. Hirschberg has returned here. He says that his case is in able hands and he has good reasons for believing that he will be able to recover the entire amount.

Having been troubled with a very bad Cough for about two years and having tried almost every cough mixture that was ever made, I have found none that has given me such great relief as Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and I earnestly recommend it to all afflicted. BENJ. F. DUGGAN, 14 Park Pl., N. Y.

The Rush for Seats.
The rush this morning at Dyer's for seats to the Rossi performance was almost phenomenal, and nearly all of the best were taken before 9 o'clock. The obliging business manager stood at his post, however, like a man, and fingered the cash as rapidly as it was tendered him, returning therefor little oblong strips of pasteboard, with some printing and a few mysterious figures enclosed in a cabalistic circle on them. It was fun for those who got the best seats, albeit they had to part with the hard cash, but it was hard on the b. m., who lost his breakfast to accommodate other people. The fact that the price of reserved seats was placed at $1 50 each rather seemed to add a zest to the rush for the best places. But we saw a hand some young friend of ours heave a huge sigh as he handed out a ten dollar bill for a box and got his pasteboard and one dollar in return.

Wilmingtonians in Durham.
The Durham Plant thus speaks of the new dry goods house recently opened in that town by Capt. R. M. McIntire, of this city:
McIntire & Co's. establishment is really a credit to Durham. Their stock is large and composed of the best goods, and the arrangement is simply magnificent. Mr. Muse, one of the firm, and who is in charge, promises to keep pace with the wants and necessities of our people, and we have no doubt he will keep his promise to the very letter. We have never seen a more complete stock or a better class of goods in our large cities.

The raffle for the organ which was announced to take place at Heinsberger's to-day has been postponed. There are a few tickets not yet taken.

Only nine persons left here this morning for Atlanta, but the number was expected to be largely increased between this city and Charlotte. Laurinburg has recently sent seventy and Wadesboro eighty excursionists to Atlanta over the Carolina Central.

An Incipient Fire.

There was an alarm of fire this afternoon at the residence of Mr. Joseph Newman, on Orange street, between Second and Third. It seems that the chimney had been burned out this morning and no one had the slightest suspicion that any danger was to result therefrom. But some of the woodwork behind the mantel-piece caught fire and smoldered until this afternoon, when it suddenly burst into a flame. The mantel gave way and fell to the floor and burned a large hole there and this was the extent of the damage sustained. The alarm spread throughout the neighborhood and a few buckets of water suppressed the flames before the engines, which had turned out, could arrive at the scene.

Superior Court.

The attention of this tribunal has been engaged during the day in the trial of the case of D. J. Gilbert vs. J. D. H. Klender. The case is concerning the title to some real estate, and is being tried before a jury.

The River.

Steamboatmen who arrived here from Fayetteville this morning report the river as being very low, causing a great deal of difficulty in navigation in some places. They report that there was no rain above Whitehall last night, although it rained at times in torrents here during the early part of the night.

Personal.

The Newbern Nut Shell says: Rev. F. H. Wood will leave for Wilmington on Wednesday or Thursday next, to take charge of Front street Methodist Church, his charge for the ensuing year. Although having been stationed in this city but one year, Mr. Wood has won the high esteem of all his people and given entire satisfaction in his congregation, while he is regarded as a fine preacher and a good man by all who are acquainted with him irrespective of the denomination to which they belong.

How to Carve a Turkey.

Place your fork in the lower part of the breast, so as to have the turkey at perfect command. If you understand your business the entire carving of the fowl may be done without extracting the fork. First remove the wing and leg on one side, then the other wing and leg. Then slice off the breast, remove the "wing bone," the neck bones, and the neck itself. Then cut through the ribs and the job is fairly done. With proper care there is no necessity of firing the bird off the table into anybody's lap; but if this should happen it is perfectly proper to ask the person to please pass the turkey. If we only had the turkey we would quickly show how the thing is done.
