"JUST IMAGINE HOW I FELT."
BRUNSWICK, Co., Va.,
November 5th, 1881.
MRS. JOE PERSON,

Franklin, N. C.
DEAR MADAM:—It is with pleasure that I write to tell you that your valuable Remedy has entirely cured me of a most fearful looking and painful sore on my ankle. It came more than twelve months ago, very much like a ring worm.
I painted it with Tinct. Iodine, until it became a very painful and bad looking place. Then I commenced to try everything I could think or hear of, until it became so very painful I could scarcely walk, when I went to the best doctor in the country for advice. He told me he could cure me if I would take my bed and there remain for four or five weeks, and if I did not do so pretty soon, it could not be cured at all, as the bone would become diseased, and my foot would have to be taken off. Just imagine how I felt, to be told there was no cure for the sore but to lose my foot, or give up all business—either of these Remedies would have ruined me. Mind you this was the advice of one of the best doctors in the State of North Carolina and this conversation took place last February. I continued to burn with caustic, as he advised until September, but derived no benefit from his treatment.
I was advised then by a friend to try your Remedy, (Bitters and Wash) took the first dose the 17th of September, and I am now a well man, the sore is perfectly cured, and I can now walk as far, dance as much and jump as high as any man you know. Put me back to the 1st of September, let me know as much as I now do of the virtue of your Remedy, and I would not hesitate to pay ten dollars a bottle for it, if I could not get it for less. I think more of it than any medicine in the world. It is not only the best Remedy to purify the blood and cure all skin diseases, but I believe it will cure all kinds of blood diseases, and I know it will cure a love for strong drink.
I hope you will have this published, as there are many sufferers who could be cured, if they could know of and get your Remedy I am truly and respectfully, JOS. R. MASON,

Found Drowned.
At about 8 o'clock this morning an object was seen floating in the river, near the W. C. & A. freight depot, which some colored men, engaged on the wharf, said looked like the body of a man. A short time after, floated up by the incoming tide, it reached the vicinity of the U. C. freight depot, where it was discovered to be the body of a colored man, and was towed into the dock at the foot of Brunswick street, to await the verdict of a coroner's jury. The body was identified as that of Jake Small, colored, who has been missing for over two weeks, and had the appearance of having been in the water several days. No one could give any information whether his death was caused by accident or he had been foully dealt with. He was a carpenter by trade and when sober was considered a good workman, but was of very dissipated habits. He was about 48 years of age; had been married, but separated from his wife several years ago.

The Two Orphans
Next Friday night, the 20th, Miss Pauline Markham, supported by the Fifth Avenue Theatre Company, will appear at the Opera House in "The Two Orphans." The star is said to be very fine as Louise, while the support is first-class. Of Miss Markham and the play the New York Star says: "The feature of the evening, however, was Pauline Markham. Her welcome the first night was an ovation, and reports to the contrary notwithstanding, she proved to be as statuesquely beautiful and attractive as when she first appeared, to show us how good nature could be to a woman when it chose. Old as is "The Two Orphans," its presentation by Miss Markham and the Fifth Avenue Company gave the best of satisfaction to a very large audience. Miss Markham, with her marvelous beauty of person, and a knowledge of the stage learned by long experience, gives to Louise an unusually fine delineation."

No writing is now permitted on third or fourth-class matter, except as follows: The name and address of sender on the outside or inside of package, preceded by the word "from." On the wrapper may also be written the names and number of articles inclosed. The sender is further allowed to mark a word or passage in a book or paper to which he desires to call special attention. He may also write a simple inscription or dedication upon the cover or blank leaves of a book or pamphlet. There may be attached to articles of merchandise, by tag or label, a mark, number, name or letter, for purposes of identification. Printed circulars may contain the written name of the sender, or of the addressee, and the date.
Any other writing on third or fourth-class matter will subject the package to letter rates of postage, and render the sender liable to a fine of $10 for each offense.

This District.

It is rather early to talk of the thing seriously in the columns of a newspaper but yet, public interest is already awakened as to the nomination in this district for the next Congress. It has been understood that Hon. A. M. Waddell and Maj. Chas. M. Stedman, the principal competitors in the last canvass, neither of whom, however, received the nomination, would be candidates before the party at the next Convention. This, however, is an error, as Maj. Stedman is not in the field. A few days since, in response to an inquiry from the Editor of this paper, Maj. Stedman informed us that he is not now, and has not been at any time, a candidate for the position.
His business is such that he cannot devoted his time to a canvass without serious detriment to his private business.
He has carefully considered the matter and he has positively decided, and has so informed his many friends, that he will not, under any circumstances, become a candidate, and he would not accept the nomination if tendered him.
Maj. Stedman has many warm friends and ardent admirers in this district who will be sorry to hear of his determination.
He is very strong, and would have made a spirited canvass. His determination narrows the competition, and it will be principally confined, we think, to Hon.
John W. Shackelford, the present incumbent, and Hon. A. M. Waddell.

The Installation Services.

St. Thomas' Catholic Church was crowded yesterday to its utmost capacity by citizens desirous of witnessing the solemn and impressive ceremonies attendant upon the installation of the newly appointed Bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina, Right-Reverend H. P.
Northrop. At a few minutes after 10 o'clock the procession, headed by the St.
Aloysius Society and the Young Catholic Friends Society, followed by the clergy and Bishops, and last by Archbishop Gibbons, moved up the central aisle of the church to grand and solemn music from the organ. The celebration of the Mass was conducted by the Bishop-elect, assisted by his brother and others. During its celebration the choir sang Farmer's Mass, a grand composition peculiarly adapted to the occasion. At the conclusion of the Mass, Archbishop Gibbons preached a sermon of much power and installed Bishop Northrop into the important and sacred duties of his high office.

The services last evening consisted of music by the choir, sermon by Bishop Keane, of Richmond, and benediction by the Bishop elect. The interest manifested during the day was apparent at the evening service, and so large was the throng of visitors that only ladies could secure seats.

There is to be a reception given to Bishop Northrop, this evening, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Academy, on Fifth, between Orange and Ann streets, when an address of welcome will be delivered, to which it is expected that he will respond.
Archbishop Gibbons and the other attending dignitaries of the Church are expected to be present.

A Curiosity.

There is a tree standing in the yard of the Carolina Rice Mills, on Chestnut street, and near the East side of the main building, whose trunk and branches are all as white as if frost laden, caused by the flour and dust from the mill falling and lodging upon them. The tree has the appearance from the street of having been thoroughly whitewashed, and is something of a curiosity.

Rightly served.

On last Saturday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, several young ladies were seated on the piazza of a residence situated in the Eastern section of the city, when a white man, a stranger to them, walked up to the gate and leaning on it began to make remarks which were, to say the least, very impertinent. The young ladies were, of course frightened and mildly told the man that he was mistaken. He continued his remarks, however, at the same time squirting tobacco juice over the fence into the garden, when they left the piazza and ran into the house and locked the door and the man thereupon left. None of the gentlemen of the house were at home at the time but when they arrived at supper time they were told of the occurrence and immediately started off on a hunt for the individual. They found him at a house not far off where he had a chance acquaintance and where he had been taken in for the night. At first he defended all knowledge of the affair, but afterwards admitted it when he was told that he must go to the house and apologize to the young ladies for his dastardly conduct. He is a big six-foot fellow, and blustered considerably at this but when told he must either go or "take a licking," he concluded to go. He was fully identified by the ladies and then made a most humble apology after which he was taken to the front door and summarily ejected from the premises, and afterwards from the house at which he had been deceived as a guest. If all such rogues could be as summarily dealt with as was this one, we would hear less of outrages on private premises during the absence of the gentlemen of the house.

From Florence to Wilson.

Hon. R. R. Bridgers, President of the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. and the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta R.
R., has returned from Fayetteville, where he has been on matters connected with the survey of the new road which it is proposed to construct from Wilson to Florence, with the view of shortening the distance through to the South. Col.
Bridgers states that the engineers will probably get fairly to work in the country to-day, there being two surveys both under the direction of Col. Flemming Gardner, one of which goes South from Fayetteville to Florence and the other North to Wilson. The survey, it is thought, will probably be completed by March 1st.
Col. Bridgers thinks that public opinion in regard to the building of this road has gone ahead too fast. In response to inquiries from us he states that the survey, which is merely a preliminary survey, is the only thing which has been decided upon as yet. This survey is made merely with the intention of finding out the cost of the construction of such a road. There are no orders as yet to build and no such arrangements have been made. The survey, when completed, is to be submitted to the Board of Directors.
In answer to questions from us Col.
Bridgers stated that although there had been no determination to that effect arrived at yet, he was certain that the road would be built some time in the near future, say in three years from this time. If begun in three years, say in 1885, it would be completed in 1887, as it would probably require about two years to construct it.
It might be begun earlier, however. He looked upon the matter as an absolute necessity. He thinks that it cannot injure Wilmington, while it will be sure to benefit the city if her merchants will but display the energy and enterprise necessary to compete with other cities. The country between Fayetteville and the Carolina Central, Col. Bridgers says, is a very fine turpentine country and the new road would throw this business directly into the lap of the city.
The ladies who sometime since were unable to go out, having taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are quite recovered, and have gone on their way rejoicing.
