Mrs. Joe Person's Statement in Re. gard to Cancer.

I receive numerous let: ers asking if my the following case, which is the only one I have ever cured, the only one upon which I have had an opportunity of testing it in its incipient stage. When we were married, in 1857, my husband had a small wartboking place on his left check bone, which he told me then he thought would eventu ally terminate in cancer. We paid no at tention to if, though e could see with ad. vancing years that it was gradually in_ creasing in size. Then it commenced to torm a seab, comething similar to a piece of dry brav, which would shed every few days, another long, and so it continued until March, 1872, when it broke out into a regular ruoning, eating sore, which continued to spread with the most slauming rapidity throughout that spring and sum mer. The sore had eater in considerably, was about the size of a silver quarter, had the appearance of b ney-comb, with the cells distinctly marked, b ed considerably had a smarting, irritating sensation as if needles were pricking the surface, with occasional sharp darting pairs, which ex. tended to the eye and weakened it. Every body who saw it considered it a case of well developed cancer. The physicians advised him to have it cut out, whereas I advised treatment at a cancer jufirmary At la-t one of to e physicians suggested that I try my Remedy, and said he believed it would cure it. The thought of using it ad power occurred to me, as 1 then only anew it to be good for Scrofula. I com-October and discos tinned it the 7th November, as it was PERFECTLY CURED. It had then been a ranning some for sx months. It broke out again for four con secutive years, in the spring each time more severely, and requiring much longer to cure. It broke out last in 1+76, when it required four months' treatment to effect a cure, since which time it has been and " Low perfectly well. I have ried it in many advanced cases-cases beyond the possibility or hope of care, always with buefit-sometimes by delaying is progress, sometimes by giving perfect freedom irom all pain. I sin, very truly,

> A rifle gallery is among the latest in Wilmington. It is located on Princess street, near the corner of Second, and is under the management of Mr. C. G. Crowell, of Philadelphia, who is travelling South and who will remain here but a short time. Already there have been a goodly number of parties practising and some very fine shots have been made.

> St. Jacob's Almanac is the title of a yery pretty little publication, recently issued by Messis. A. Vogeler & Co., the proprietors of St. Jacob's Oil, at Baltimore, Md. It is a decidedly handsome publication, and contains much to inter est and amuse as well as to instruct, the public. The illustrations are very fine and the entire publication is attractive.

Judge French's Condition

We regret to learn that Judge French lies in a very critical condition, so much so that his friends have but little hopes of a favorable termination to his afflicmenced its use on the sore the 1st day of tion. At last accounts he seemed to be entirely unconscious, and his dissolution may be looked for at almost any moment
