Probably the largest amount of back pension money ever drawn by any man in Maine was by an inmate of the Soldiers' Home at Augusta, who got $5,000.

Stilson Hutchins has succeeded in raising $10,000 towards the erection of a monument to Daniel Webster at some point near the capitol in Washington.

Census statistics of the daily press, show an aggregate daily circulation of 3,561,178, and that the people of the United States appear to pay out annually for newspapers the sum of $26,250,100.71.

Anna Dickinson, having made a complete failure as "Hamlet" and "Claude Melotte," has decided to abjure male characters, and hereafter to clothe herself upon the stage in the proper habiliments of her sex.

San Francisco stands third among the importing cities of the country. The figures for the year ending June 30, 1881, recently published by the Treasury Department, show the value of New York's imports to be $435,450,395, Boston's $61,960,103, San Francisco's $37,943,695 and Philadelphia's $32,583,106.

The Supreme court of Maine sustained the will of Horatio N. Foster, an uneducated deaf mute, 76 years old, who could neither read nor write nor use the manual alphabet. The will was made by pantomime, dividing $7,000. Only one similar case was ever tried by the courts in the United States, and that in North Carolina.

One of the latest theories brought forward by the prevalence of small pox in New York is that tartar emetic may be a substitute for vaccination. Applied to the skin, combined with suet or some other fat, it produces a pustular eruption, which is said to resemble that of cow pox and small pox. The theory is not new, and there is no experimental warrant for trusting to it as a preventative, while vaccination has demonstrated its efficacy.

Poll tax receipts are being purchased by the wholesale in numerous wards of Philadelphia preparatory to the municipal election, which takes place in February. These receipts are openly purchased by the hundred by candidates for the councils and are given to the voters. The gross amount which will be received from tax receipts for the coming election will far exceed that of any previous years. That the place for a free vote and a fair count.

Blaine is after the Presidency, and it is reported that, to attain that end, he will attempt to reorganize the old Whig party in the South. In our opinion, when the South needs or wants reorganizing or reconstructing, there are enough right here in our midst to perform the work, without outside interference. We have had enough of that in the past to satisfy the most hungry appetite. If Mr. Blaine wants a good job, which will reflect credit upon his name, providing he is successful, let him go to work and reorganize and reconstruct his own party in the North on an honest and respectable basis, and he will win the confidence and esteem of the entire country.

From a Washington special to the New York World, we learn that it is in contemplation, among some of the Republican Senators, to throw John Sherman overboard and allow the Treasury investigation to go on and be fully reported. This is to be done as a sacrifice of the man to the demands of the public virtue, which they think will be better for the future success of the party, than to attempt to cover up or varnish over the crookedness with which he is charged while Secretary of the Treasury.

Why those who stood by and supported the administration of Mr. Hayes should wish to conceal or expose any of its transactions is a conundrum we are not able to solve, and is one in which those who have heretofore been merely disinterested lookers-on will become deeply interested.

FIXING THE RESPONSIBILITY. The verdict of the coroner's jury, who were empanelled to investigate the cause of the Spuyten Duyvil disaster on the Hudson River Railroad, have found Conductor Hanford, brakeman Melius and four other persons and the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company "guilty of causing the death" of the victims of the disaster. Hanford, the conductor, has been arrested in view of the fact that he had exclusive charge and control, and, that while it was the duty of Melius, the brakeman, to have gone promptly to the rear to notify approaching trains it was obligatory upon the conductor to see and know that that service was faithfully performed. The action of the jury, in inculcating so many as responsible for the disaster, will meet with very general approval, and it is to be hoped that any or all who were really responsible will be promptly and severely punished.

PREPARING THE WAY. The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, in contradicting the report that Conkling is to succeed Folger as secretary of the treasury, says: "The ex-Senator is the pre-determined and pre-arranged Stalwart candidate for the next Governorship as a first grand step towards a possible Presidential nomination by the next Republican National Convention. The programme is an ambitious one, but you may depend upon it, Conkling's political managers do not intend it shall be in any way interfered with by an intermediate appointment in the Cabinet. The 'Half-breed' politicians, meanwhile, are not ignorant of this drift of things, and, in due time, they will resort to every means to turn the current the other way. For the moment their feelings are more or less restrained, as if from prudential motives, or, at the most, are confined to passing reflections of this character from the Tribune of this morning: 'If the Stalwarts are eager to know what the people of this State think of them, let them try to run Conkling for Governor, and they will find out.' This reads like a square challenge and the beginning of fresh trouble."
