The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Duplin Canal Company will be held at Magnolia on March 10th, at 12 o'clock.

German barque Carl Max, Beyer, cleared at this port today for Belfast, Ireland, with 2,050 barrels rosin, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

Myrtle green is the fashionable color for ladies' dresses this winter; deep blue is the fashionable color for the faces of the men who have to pay for them.

Col. A. Pope, of Richmond, General Passenger Agent of the Associated Railways, is in the city today. Mrs. Pope has been here on a visit for several days.

The small boy who was wont last summer to go in swimming a half dozen times a day now shrinks in strong aversion from the maternal wash rag, and evinces a decided disposition to go unearthed all winter.

Now that weddings are of daily and nightly occurrence, it will be worth while for all hands to remember that throwing slippers after the bride in New York the other day frightened the horses and caused a runaway.

Two of the families who have for the past day or two been lodged at the guard house left this morning for Abbottsburg, where they have succeeded in securing work with Mr. John Colville, who has a saw mill at that place. The others, five in number, will, we learn, leave in the morning for New York.

It is the Height of Folly to wait until you are in bed with disease you may not get over for months, when you can be cured during the early symptoms by Parker's Ginger Tonic. We have known the sickliest families made the healthiest by a timely use of this pure medicine.

Grand Lodge K. of P.
 The Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias in North Carolina convenes in Goldsboro on Tuesday next. Messrs. John J. Fowler, from Stonewall Lodge, No. 1, and John W. Gerds, from Germania Lodge, No. 4, of this city, the regularly accredited representatives from those lodges, will leave on Monday night to be in attendance. In addition to these gentlemen, we understand that some fifteen or twenty others, members of the lodges here, will go up on Tuesday.

The Opera House To-Night.
 That there will be a full house to-night to greet the Kate Claxton troupe is evidenced by the fact that every orchestra chair has been taken. For this we are glad as there is nothing so dampens the ardor of good and conscientious actors and actresses as to speak to a beggarly amount of empty benches. The company have made railroad arrangements by which they will have time to render the play entire, so that our people will be sure to receive all they may pay for in the purchase of tickets.

The little daughter of the editor of the Tide, O. Daily Star was immediately and permanently relieved of a severe cough by three doses of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. A twenty-five cent bottle of this valuable remedy will cure the worst cough.

For the Oxford Orphan Asylum.
 Mr. L. Q. Reed, representing the firm of Baxter & Bird, of Baltimore, Md., has kindly donated a box of gravely tobacco for the benefit of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. The committee having the matter in hand, wishing to realize all they can for it, have put it on sale at Kasprovic's tobacco store, where all the lovers of the weed, and those who do not use it, may by purchasing a small piece help a worthy and charitable cause.

Such is Life.
 We endeavor to give the proper credit when we copy from our State exchanges and they should do the same by us. Some days ago, from information derived from a letter received in this city, we stated that Gen. Jas. H. Lane had resigned his professorship in the Mining College at Rolla, Mo., and had returned to Virginia. The Raleigh Farmer & Mechanic copied the item from us with out credit, and now it appears in this morning's Star credited to the Farmer & Mechanic. Likewise, a few weeks ago, we spoke of Rev. S. Paxton Waters, formerly of this city, who has gone to Morganton to take charge of the Episcopal Church at that place. The Baltimore Sun copied this from us without credit and about a week after the Star got hold of it and made a local item of it, crediting it to the Sun. Such is life!

Humpty Dumpty.
 Mr. George H. Adams, with his pantomime troupe, will appear at the Opera House in this city on Monday evening, the 13th inst. Mr. Adams will himself personate the character of Humpty Dumpty, in which he stands unrivalled. Speaking of this performance, the Washington, D. C., Critic, in an article written by the young daughter of Mr. John T. Ford, the noted theatrical manager, says:
 "Mr. Adams in the pantomimic art has no rival—he stands alone. His refined manner of presenting and treating the ridiculous situations and wonderful facility of provoking mirth by quiet facial expression, and his great acrobatic feats are marvels of surprise and delight to all. Besides the extraordinary merit of his company, which is probably the greatest ever in Washington since the days of 'The Ravens,' Mr. Adams presents many specialists of rare attraction and interest to all. The pantomime possesses a charm of its own for persons of all ages, which is sufficient to insure success wherever it may be performed, and so true is this, were the truth but known, we fancy there are many theatres which owe their financial prosperity entirely to this seasonable piece."

Didn't Want to Mix.
 The Cape Fear river presented a singular appearance opposite our office this morning. The recent rains have caused heavy freshets in both the Northeast and Northwest branches of the river, and while the former comes down black with the mud of the lowlands and swamps through which its course meanders, the latter is yellow with the clay of the hills of the up country. At their confluence at Point Peter to form the main river, each seemed to be upon its dignity and refused to assimilate with the other, and a considerable time during the earlier part of the day the line between them was drawn with great distinctness, the western side of the river retaining the grayish yellow color of the Northwest branch, while the eastern half was black with the waters of the Northeast branch. There seemed to be a struggle between them, as at times the colors would change sides, and again at times they would be partially mixed, until later in the day, when the grayish yellow from the upper Cape Fear gained the mastery and the black color of the water was entirely obliterated.

The storm signal is still displayed here.

Nothing doing in Magisterial circles today.

The young folks had a very enjoyable German at Rankin Hall last evening.

Prof. Agostini's grand masquerade ball is to take place next Friday evening.

The moon enters on its last quarter to-morrow morning at 20 minutes past 3 o'clock.

A little heat that can't be beat, the window open wide; a little breeze, a little sneeze, and you are the doctor's pride.

The most fashionable animal in jewelry in New York is the tadpole, and the second on the list stands the crawfish. This is working by degrees toward the skunk.

City Court.
 James Lloyd, colored, was brought before the Mayor this morning charged with the larceny of a coat belonging to Capt. Schroeder, of the schooner American Eagle. The testimony was so conclusive that the defendant was bound over in the sum of $25 to the next term of the Criminal Court. Not being able to furnish the required bond he was committed.

Cut This Out.
 We have been very kindly favored by the Postmaster in this city, Col. M. R. Brink, with the following table of distances from Wilmington to some of the chief cities of the country, together with the time in days, hours and minutes required in the transmission of postal matter to the different localities:

The University.
 EDITOR REVIEW.—The University R. R. that has been talked of so much is nearly completed. It is now within a mile of Chapel Hill. The Company has made a schedule and will commence to run it soon, making daily trips from the Iron Mine to Raleigh and return—leaving the Mine 7:10 A. M., arriving at Raleigh at 10:15 A. M. Round trip tickets two dollars each. What a great advantage this road will be to those going to and from Chapel Hill! No more rough riding over the hilly and muddy road from Chapel Hill to Durham. Everything seems to be brightening up about the village. The old College bell seems to sound with a new tone and instead of profound quietness early in the morning, we hear the rumbling noise of a locomotive a short distance from the village.

Everything seems to be working smoothly at the University. The students are generally putful in the discharge of duties assigned them. The kind treatment towards the students and the deep interest manifested in them by the President and Professors serve as great incentives to voluntary performance. The Dialectic and Philanthropic Societies have published the first number of their magazine entitled "University Monthly." Foot-ball seems to be the favorite game among the boys here now. The row of trees recently set out on each side of Cameron avenue adds very much to the looks of the "lovely Campus."

Yours truly,
 S. J. CHAUNCEY, JR.

Rescued from Death.
 William J. Coughlin of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876 I was taken with bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and I was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past.

"I write this hoping every one afflicted with Diseased Lungs will take William Hall's Balsam, and convinced that Consumption can be cured. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness."

When you squeeze a young lady, if you ever do, and she exclaims, "Oh," do not think she is at all displeased. It is only an involuntary action of the vocal organs, simply oh-ing to the pressure.
