The Masquerade.

The Masquerade Ball given on last Friday night, at Germania Hall, under the management of Prof. Agostini, was, perhaps, the most successful affair of the kind ever known here. There were over forty masquers on the floor and some of the costumes were very rich, while others were very grotesque. The masquers were principally of the younger set. There were a large number of spectators present and at 11 o'clock the masques were removed and the spectators were voted the "privilege of the floor." It was voted an exceedingly pleasant affair.

They say "a word to the wise is sufficient," but we think it takes about five, "Use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup." You can get this article in any drug store for twenty-five cents. Physicians recommend it.

The Angola Tramway.

Mr. Gibson James, President of the Angola Tramway Company, was in the city to-day. He tells us that the company is fully organized and that the stock has all been subscribed for by reliable parties who will pay in every dollar as fast as it is called for. The amount of the capital stock is $10,000. The road will run from Williamsburg to Croom's bridge, on the North East Cape Fear, a distance of ten miles. This road will avoid the crossing of both Shelter and Shaking Creek, and will save a considerable amount in bridging. The descent from Williamsburg to Croom's Bridge is about 25 feet, or 2 1/2 feet to the mile, which will in itself be an assistance.

The river is navigable for steamers to Croom's Bridge, which is about 15 miles above Bannerman's Bridge, at all seasons of the year. It is proposed to build a road bed for the road steamer, of sufficient width, ditched on each side. The engine and cars will run on rails made of scantling and held solid and kept in position by cross ties. A part of the capital stock is to be devoted to the purchase of a steam saw mill, and as there is a plenty of fine timber all through that country, and there will be little or no grading necessary, the road can be constructed at a low cost.

Of the $10,000 subscribed $2,500 is to be devoted to the purchase of the saw mill, $2,500 to the estimated cost of the road bed, $2,500 to the purchase of the road steamer and the remaining $2,500 to the construction of cars, &c. They are to purchase a steamer weighing 8-tons, and warranted to haul at one load 10,000 feet of lumber, and 100 barrels rosin up a grade of 100 feet to the mile and at a speed of 12 miles per hour.

The advantages to be derived from the construction of this road may be estimated from the fact that it costs $750 a year to feed and keep up a four-horse team and pay the driver and the hands.

Work on this road will not be begun, however, until the Fall, not from a want of money or a lack of interest in the enterprise, but because those who are interested the most want to get this year's crops all out of the way before breaking ground on the tramway. The work will be begun in the Fall and pushed vigorously, and in all probability it will be in working order early in the Spring.

We understand that there are peaches on some of the trees at Mr. W. J. Mott's place, known as Love Grove, in the Northeastern suburbs of the city, as large as small marbles. The like was never known here before within the recollection of the oldest among us.

From Clyde O., Mr. G. J. Bolg writes: Having by personal observation assured myself, it is my duty to make the following known to the public: For three years, my wife suffered with most terrible pains in the small of the back; so intolerable indeed, that for whole nights she could not find rest. I consulted the best physicians, placed her under their treatment, and spent a great deal of money; but all of no avail. She could not be relieved. With each change of the weather she would be unable to move, and therefore unqualified to attend to her daily duties. I had read of the wonderful cures made by St. Jacobs Oil, and concluding to try it bought a bottle, the use of which soon stopped all the pain, and to-day my wife is well and strong and fully able to discharge her household duties. The sum of fifty cents has cured her of pain which she would not take back for a thousand dollars.

There are ten shades of gloves which are fashionable for evening wear, and there is no earthly excuse for a gentleman blundering in upon a wedding with a pair of buckskin mittens on his paws.

There was a fierce fire raging somewhere to the Southeast of the city, and not far from its limits, on last Saturday night. So bright was it that the reflection from it could be noticed on the streets. The same light was visible last night and there must have been considerable destruction in the forests where it passed.

Information was received here yesterday by Mr. Alex. Sprunt, British Vice-Consul, of the death of Mr. Geo. R. Walker, a lawyer and a very prominent citizen of that place, and the son of Mr. H. P. Walker, the British Consul at Charleston. In consequence the British flag has been displayed at half-mast to-day on the Vice Consulate here.

HER CASE WAS AN INTERESTING STUDY.

LITTLETON, N. C., Nov. 10, 1881.
Mrs. JOE PERSON.
Dear Madam:—I commenced last January to use your Bitters and Wash on our little daughter Annie, aged twelve years, for Scrofula, with a tendency to White Swelling, the physician said. At the time I commenced using your Remedy she was very much reduced in flesh, complexion sallow, appetite poor, limbs very much swollen, bones enlarged, with two frightful sores on her left leg near the ankle. After using the Remedy a week or two I could see a change, as I then thought, for the worse. The sores discharged copiously a yellow corruption, sometimes running in a stream to the floor in spite of the linens. But feeling encouraged by your letters I persevered and after using the Remedy a while longer her strength was greatly improved, her appetite good and complexion much improved. Those symptoms encouraged me, but the flow of corruption continued for several months, and not until her general health was greatly improved did the sores begin to heal. First the swelling began to decrease below the knee, and continued gradually downward, and when it nearly reached the sores they began to heal. In the meantime the leg from the ankle half way to the knee became covered with running pimples, in fact the leg had become almost a solid sore. After this the sores healed rapidly. The worst one, on the instep, healed entirely, the other to the size of a five cent piece, and it has remained in that condition ever since, which has been several months ago. For a month or more it has not discharged at all, and looks sometimes now as if it was entirely well. As a Blood Purifier and Tonic I think it superior to anything I ever tried. If you could have seen my daughter when she commenced using your Remedy, and now, you would hardly believe her to be the same child. Last January nearly every one thought she would die. Then she was a living skeleton, now she is fat and rosy. Her case was an interesting study from the time she commenced your Remedy. I can most heartily and cheerfully recommend it to be what you claim for it. Wishing you every success with your undertaking, and with many thanks for the benefits we have received from your medicine, I am, very respectfully,
MRS. R. J. ALLEN
The Remedy is for sale in Wilmington by DR. W. H. GREEN. Feb 17
