THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. VI WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, MARCH 13, 1882. NO. 61

Cheerfulness is an excellent wearing quality, and has been called the "bright" weather of the heart.

The most elegant white wash dresses of the coming summer will be of linen lawn and sheer linen cambrics, soft as India muslin and almost as transparent.

It is said that the course of a cannon ball may be turned by contact with a shingle. The shingle likewise has an effect upon the bawl of early childhood.

It is said that sharks will not bite a swimmer who keeps his legs in motion. If you can keep kicking longer than a shark can keep waiting you are all right.

A woman will calmly permit the cat to sleep in her husband's sealskin cap, but she will get ruffled if the cat attempts to make a hammock of her sweet bonnet.

Since it has been announced that first rate brandy can be made from sawdust, several gentlemen of an economical turn of mind have been taking their water with a stick in it.

The almanac predicted fair weather for to-day, but it has been rather variable. We have had sunshine and rain in alternate doses during the day and a stormy and disagreeable Northwest wind all day.

There were but a very few carts from the country in the market this morning and the supply of fresh vegetables was limited indeed. There were but very few fish in the market and probably will not be as long as the wind continues to blow as it did to-day.

The most extensive line of Laces in the city, can be seen at HAHN'S.

Lovers of soft, pretty lace who cannot well afford to purchase the real, yet dislike the poorer qualities, are delighted with the beautiful and effective Oriental patterns which now come in various widths, and are generally conceded to be the daintiest and most attractive of the imitation laces.

There is no doubt in the world that everybody ought to reform, and as for ourselves—well we are very busy in telling others what they ought to do, but we will attend to that little matter by and by.

Steamboatmen report that there has been a rise in the river since Saturday of about two feet, which is not quite as much as was expected from the amount of rain in the country within the past few days.

About Lumber.

Some idea of the importance of this port as a lumber market may be formed from the shipments made on Saturday last, which amounted to 1,388,155 feet shipped for coastwise ports and 143,386 feet shipped to foreign ports, making a grand total of 1,531,541 feet as the day's shipments. This is another indubitable evidence of the "decline" of Wilmington as a business place, and we rather like to brag of this sort of woo.

About a Republican

The Experience of an Editor's Wife
 I consider it proper to put in a good word for St. Jacobs Oil, which I do from my own experience. My wife had Rheumatism for many years, and suffered very greatly; she used very many remedies without relief. A few months ago I bought a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, and the success which attended its use leads me to recommend this article to all similarly affected. The first application acted like magic, and the occasional use of St. Jacobs Oil has prevented the return of this great trouble with its almost intolerable pain. I consider St. Jacobs Oil a great benefactor, and advise all who suffer with rheumatism or other painful diseases to try this remedy, and they will see for themselves that I have not said too much in its praise.

The Library Association.

We are glad to learn that the officers of the Wilmington Library have been so much encouraged in raising the means of paying off the debt that they expect to cancel it entirely this week. They hope then to have such a fund in their hands as will enable them to purchase new books and some nice library chairs and a new carpet to render inviting and comfortable for ladies the rooms of the Association on Market street. In a few days the list of contributors will be published with statement of what is done with the money.

When a lecturer has worked the ideas of his audience so near to the weeping point that they have gotten out their handkerchiefs, and then suddenly changes his tone and speaks of the merits of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup he is bound to rouse a feeling of indignation.

Great Astronomical Event.

The transit of Venus this year will be visible throughout the western hemisphere, and the planet will occupy over six hours in making the solar passage. Astronomers have been preparing for it for a quarter of a century, during which period there have been many valuable mechanical inventions which will be of great value and assistance to the observer. The transit takes place December 6th, a few days ahead, as yet.

The Santo Domingo.

The steamer Santo Domingo, of the Clyde line between this city and New York, which has been running to Charleston for several months past, has been returned to the line, and arrived Saturday night. We boarded her this morning and accompanied Capt. Pennington, her commander, all through the ship. She is indeed a "stunner"—a noble vessel, with excellent passenger accommodations—and is handsomely fitted throughout. She is also well-manned. Capt. Pennington, who is, by the way, an old acquaintance, having first sailed into this port on the Regulator some twelve years ago, is an excellent seaman and a very clever gentleman. We thank him for courtesies shown us this morning, and trust that we may travel with him "some of these days."

Naval Stores.

Notwithstanding the continual shipments of naval stores from this port by steamers and sailing vessels, there is a larger stock on hand than we remember ever to have seen before. In walk along Nutt and Water streets, from the Carolina Central depot to the ship yards, a few days since, we found the wharves on the entire route literally crowded with rosin, tar and turpentine, and in some instances the barrels were piled four tiers high. The naval stores yards were also crowded as well as the wharves and from appearances, the opposite side of the river has its proportionate share of the large stock on hand.

Disastrous Fire

At about 4:40 o'clock this afternoon the alarm of fire was sounded. It was soon known to proceed from the three-story frame dwelling on North Front street, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lumsden as a dwelling and millinery establishment on the upper floors and by Messrs R. H. & Oscar Grant, plumbers and gas fitters, on the first floor. The flames were first discovered breaking from the roof, which was shingled. Nearly all of the furniture was saved but most of it in a dilapidated condition, owing to the haste with which it was removed. The building is burning as we write and will probably prove an almost total loss.

The Week's Amusements.

This is to be a very busy week at the Opera House, and surely our amusement lovers and seekers will have no occasion for complaint either at the number or variety of entertainments the week will furnish. The three first nights of the week will be devoted to magic, ventriloquism and legerdemain; the fourth night the spectacular play of "The World" will be produced by a New York Company, and on Friday night the comedy drama of "Old Shipmates" will be presented, in which the popular actor Mr. Frank Mordant, will appear as Old Weathergauge.

The Magician.

Prof. Zera Semon, the magician, arrived in the city yesterday and will commence his series of entertainments at the Opera House to-night. His feats of magic and legerdemain are pronounced by the press, wherever he has given an exhibition, as truly wonderful, and his ventriloquist powers are surpassing the attempts of any other professional now travelling. The prizes which he distributes are genuine and valuable—no pinch, beck affairs—consisting of watches, jewelry, China, tea sets and other articles of ornament and usefulness. He will hold a matinee on Wednesday afternoon for the especial benefit of the ladies and the little ones.

To Builders and others—Go to JACOBI'S for Sash, Blinds and Doors, Glass, &c. You can get all sizes and at the lowest prices.

The New South.

Our young friend, Mr. E. A. Oldham, will soon commence the publication of a paper with the above title in this city. It will be devoted to industrial pursuits and will be issued every Monday morning at a subscription price of $2 per annum, or $1 for 6 months. Mr. Oldham, although yet young, has had considerable experience in journalism, and he will combine with that an indomitable energy and an ambition to succeed which we trust will ensure success. He understands the duties and responsibilities attached to the profession and has the courage and other qualifications requisite to meet them. We wish him an abundant success in his new enterprise and hope that it may prove both pleasant and profitable.

"Rough on Rats."

The thing desired found at last. Ask druggist for Rough on Rats. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bedbugs, 15c boxes.

Sale of Real Estate.

BY VIRTUE OF A DECREE OF THE Probate Court of New Hanover county, made on the 9th day of March, 1882, in a cause wherein Executor and Bid are plaintiffs, and Mary E. Myers, et al., are defendants, the undersigned Commissioner, appointed for that purpose, will sell by public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, at the Court House door, in the city of Wilmington, at 11 o'clock A. M., on Monday, May 1st, 1882, the following described pieces of land: First—All that lot of land and premises situated in the city of Wilmington, on the east side of Front street, between Market and Dock streets, and bounded as follows: Beginning in the eastern line of Front street at the southern line of an alley, which runs from Front street to Second street, and separates this lot from the London lot on the north of said alley, and running thence with said Front street southwardly about forty-three feet to the line of a lot belonging to Levi A. Hart and Stephen P. Colley, thence with Hart and Polley's line eastwardly ninety-eight feet to Hart and Polley's other line, thence with said other line, northwardly thirty-four feet to the southern line of said alley, thence with said alley westwardly ninety-eight feet more or less to the beginning.

Second—All that lot of land situated in the city of Wilmington, beginning one hundred and ninety-five feet from the corner of Castle and Fifth streets, on the west side of Fifth street, and running south along Fifth street sixty-three feet to an alley; thence westwardly along said alley two hundred and twenty feet; thence northwardly one hundred and twenty-six feet; thence eastwardly one hundred and thirty feet; thence southwardly sixty-three feet; thence eastwardly ninety feet to Fifth street to the beginning; the same being parts of lots Nos. 195 and 200, under letter B in the plan of the town of Wilmington.

Third—All that tract or lot of land in Robeson county, adjoining the lots of Griffin Oxendine and E. E. Jones, on Trade street, in the town of Lumberton, being the same lot on which J. T. Lillard's store is situated, and bounded as follows: Beginning on the said street, at the west corner of Griffin Oxendine's lot, thence running along the said street 18 feet, thence at a right angle to said street 30 feet, thence eastwardly 18 feet, parallel with said street thence along said G. Oxendine's line to the beginning.

Superior Court of New Hanover County.
 Julius S. Tucker, Plaintiff.

D. S. Cowan, Executor of M. E. Brinkley
 D. S. Cowan and wife Sarah S. T. O. McMillington, G. M. Steiman, and Margaret Repton, Defendants.

This action is brought for the foreclosure of a mortgage, dated April 13th, 1875, executed to said M. E. Brinkley by said M. E. Brinkley, to secure a sealed note of said date made by said M. E. Brinkley to said Tucker, upon a lot of land in the city of Wilmington, in said county, at the South-east intersection of Third and Mulberry streets, fronting 81 feet on Third street and with Mulberry street 139 1/2 feet to a brick wall, being part lots 1 and 2, in block 198; and for a judgment against said D. S. Cowan as Executor of said M. E. Brinkley, for any residue of said mortgage debt remaining unsatisfied after a sale of said lot.
 The defendant Margaret Repton is here by required to appear at the next Term of said Court to be held at the Court House in Wilmington, on the 13th Monday after the 1st Monday in March, 1882, and answer or demur to the complaint which was filed therein at December Term, 1881, of said Court.

WHERE FINE CLOTHES ARE KEPT AND FACTS CONCERNING THEM.

Practice vs. Theory.

OTTERBOURG.

THIS, ABOVE ALL AGES, IS THE most progressive. Man cannot now content himself as in centuries past, with the slow treading of the pathways of life and business, but infused with an ambition calculated to meet successfully the advance of moral civilization, steps boldly to the front, redoubts his energies and enlists, as it were, in the regiment of enterprise—a regiment wherein Eligibility is the motto, and Integrity the banner that floats so nobly to the breeze.
 Reader, the above is preeminently practical, because true Otterbourg is not theory. We wish to offer theory in connection with Clothing, would be like giving a stone in answer for a request for bread. Speculations we are nearly saturated with. What the public now want, and especially the Clothing buyer public, is something strictly PRACTICAL. To say that we have the largest stock of Men's Wear in Wilmington and fail to show its gigantic proportions, would be theory bad y mized. To advertise the handisomest, the best made and the cheapest line of goods ever offered in the city, only to disappoint our customers, would be theory in a complicated form. To state that our customers are burdened with every conceivable style of garment known to the fashion world, and then find ourselves unable to show up the burden, this like all other untruths, would be theory self-declared, and so on. But Otterbourg tells the readers of the "REVIEW", and tells them emphatically, too, that his SPRING STOCK, now nearly complete, is the "Peer of any ever on exhibition in this city; and a visit to his mammoth establishment will convince them satisfactorily that Otterbourg is a CLOTHING PRAGMATICAL, and not a Clothing theoretical. These are plain, unvarnished facts, and those who affect to be skeptical as to them will only remind Otterbourg of the young lady whose modesty was so great that she could not look at the naked truth. MEN'S WEAR DEPT.
